Executive Summary

During the period of March 05 to March 12, 2026, China's security landscape was primarily shaped by significant advancements in its defense posture and active diplomatic engagements. Beijing announced a 7% increase in its 2026 defense budget, reaching approximately $277 billion, underscoring a sustained commitment to military modernization aimed at achieving a "fully modernized" force by 2035. Concurrently, China's leadership emphasized "New Quality Productive Forces" to drive high-tech defense innovation, particularly in AI, aerospace, and quantum technologies, as part of its 15th Five-Year Plan. Diplomatically, China expressed hopes for 2026 to be a "landmark year" for US-China relations, anticipating a summit between Presidents Xi Jinping and Donald Trump, while also engaging in intensive efforts to de-escalate tensions in the Middle East. However, regional flashpoints persisted, with continued assertive actions in the South China Sea and strong rhetoric against Taiwan's "separatist forces." Cybersecurity remained a critical concern, with China reaffirming its commitment to national cyber defense following reports of potential US reconnaissance activities.

Key Security Developments

- Defense Budget Increase and Modernization Drive

On March 5, 2026, China announced a 7% increase in its defense budget for 2026, bringing the allocation to approximately 1.91 trillion yuan (about $277 billion). This marks the eleventh consecutive year of single-digit growth in military spending, reflecting Beijing's steady commitment to transforming the People's Liberation Army (PLA) into a fully modern force by 2035 and a world-class military by 2049. Chinese officials assert this growth is moderate and defensive, aiming to safeguard sovereignty, security, and development interests.

- Strategic Shifts in Defense Policy and Industrial Development

China's 2026 policy roadmap, marking the start of its 15th Five-Year Plan (2026-2030), prioritizes "New Quality Productive Forces" to achieve breakthroughs in aerospace and defense technology. This strategy emphasizes self-reliance in critical supply chains, including semiconductors, aerospace materials, and quantum technology, and aims to accelerate the deployment of satellite mega-constellations. The plan also deepens Military-Civil Fusion (MCF) to integrate private sector technology into the PLA, focusing on intelligentized warfare, AI, big data, and autonomous systems.

- Diplomatic Outreach and US-China Relations

Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi stated on March 8, 2026, that China hopes this year will be a "landmark year" for relations with the United States, expressing optimism for renewed dialogue and cooperation. An expected summit between U.S. President Donald Trump and Chinese President Xi Jinping in Beijing later in March is a key development, with Beijing prioritizing stable US relations over ongoing conflicts in the Middle East. Wang Yi emphasized managing differences and eliminating distractions to foster a stable diplomatic environment.

- Middle East Diplomacy

On March 5, 2026, Chinese Foreign Ministry Spokesperson Mao Ning confirmed China's grave concern over the tense situation in the Middle East, following US and Israeli strikes against Iran. Foreign Minister Wang Yi held phone calls with counterparts from Russia, Iran, Oman, France, Israel, Saudi Arabia, and the UAE, stressing the need to observe UN Charter principles, reject arbitrary force, and achieve an early return to dialogue. China announced it would send Special Envoy Zhai Jun to the Middle East to actively work for de-escalation.

- Cybersecurity Policy and Threats

The amended Cybersecurity Law (CSL), which took effect on January 1, 2026, consolidates cybersecurity and AI under a single governance framework, expanding its scope and strengthening penalties for breaches. On March 2, 2026, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesperson Mao Ning stated that China would ensure its cybersecurity with all necessary measures, responding to reports that the U.S. Department of War was discussing partnerships with AI companies for automated reconnaissance of China's power grids and sensitive networks.

- Taiwan Strait Tensions

During the annual "Two Sessions" meeting on March 5, 2026, Chinese Premier Li Qiang urged a "resolute crackdown on Taiwan's separatist forces." While PLA incursions into Taiwan's de facto Air Defense Identification Zone (ADIZ) were at a record low in February 2026, reports from early March (pre-period) indicated intensified Chinese military drone operations against Taiwan, including airspace violations and sophisticated transponder-spoofing. Taiwan's opposition Kuomintang (KMT) also released a 350 billion New Taiwan Dollar (US$11 billion) special defense budget proposal on March 5.

- South China Sea Assertiveness

China continued its assertive posture in the South China Sea. While the specific period of March 5-12 did not detail new incidents, the broader context from late February 2026 indicates intensified confrontation and militarization. The China Coast Guard

(CCG) has reportedly doubled its presence at Scarborough Shoal and nearly tripled patrols around Sabina Shoal, using high-pressure water cannons and ramming against Filipino fishing craft in October 2025. Negotiations for an ASEAN-China Code of Conduct (COC) remain difficult due to major disagreements.

- Intelligence Activities and Counter-Intelligence

On March 5, 2026, Philippine authorities detained three defense personnel who allegedly spied on behalf of China. The individuals, working for the Philippine Department of Defense, Navy, and Coast Guard, reportedly provided Chinese handlers with lists of military personnel and other sensitive information, which the Philippine National Security Council described as a "serious national security matter."

- Nuclear Posture Accusations

A top U.S. State Department official, Thomas DiNanno, accused China on March 12, 2026, of conducting a nuclear explosive test on June 22, 2020, and preparing for further tests with yields in the hundreds of tons. DiNanno alleged that China sought to conceal these tests through "decoupling" to obfuscate their observable yield, in violation of its obligations as a signatory to the 1996 Comprehensive Test Ban Treaty (CTBT), despite not having ratified it. China has denied these accusations, urging the U.S. to renew its commitment to a moratorium on nuclear testing.

- Internal Military Discipline and Loyalty

On March 7, 2026, Chinese President Xi Jinping, also Chairman of the Central Military Commission, stressed the importance of enhancing political loyalty in the military to advance defense modernization. Speaking at a plenary meeting of the PLA and People's Armed Police Force delegation, Xi warned that there must be "no place in the military for those who are disloyal to the Party, nor any place for corrupt elements," emphasizing an unwavering fight against corruption.

Geopolitical Impact and Regional Dynamics

China's security developments during this period have significant geopolitical implications, particularly for regional stability and relations with major global powers. The announced 7% increase in China's defense budget, while framed as moderate and defensive by Beijing, is viewed by the United States and its allies as a continued military buildup that contributes to regional tensions, especially concerning Taiwan and the South China Sea. This sustained investment in military modernization, coupled with the strategic focus on "New Quality Productive Forces" and self-reliance in advanced defense technologies, signals China's long-term ambition to project power and influence across the Indo-Pacific and beyond.

The diplomatic overtures towards the United States, with Foreign Minister Wang Yi expressing hope for a "landmark year" and anticipating a Trump-Xi summit, suggest a desire by Beijing to stabilize its most critical bilateral relationship amidst global uncertainties. This prioritization of US relations, even over immediate concerns in the Middle East, highlights China's strategic calculation to manage great power competition while pursuing its economic and security interests. However, underlying structural rivalries in technology, trade, and military power are unlikely to disappear, and "red lines" on issues like Taiwan remain firm, posing potential derailment risks for any diplomatic progress.

Regionally, China's assertive stance in the South China Sea continues to be a major flashpoint. The ongoing confrontations with littoral states, particularly the Philippines, and the difficulties in negotiating a Code of Conduct, underscore persistent territorial disputes and challenges to freedom of navigation. The reported espionage activities by Philippine defense personnel for China further complicate regional trust and security cooperation. Meanwhile, the US accusation of China's alleged nuclear testing activities, if substantiated, could significantly impact global arms control regimes and raise concerns among neighboring countries about China's nuclear transparency and intentions.

Military and Defense Analysis

China's military and defense posture is characterized by an ambitious modernization program, substantial defense spending, and a strategic focus on advanced capabilities. The 7% increase in the 2026 defense budget to approximately $277 billion is a key indicator of this sustained effort, even as the official figure is considered by some, like the Pentagon, to be significantly underestimated, potentially reaching $388-526 billion. This funding fuels the transformation of the People's Liberation Army (PLA) with milestones set for a "fully modernized" military by 2035 and a "world-class" force by 2049.

The 15th Five-Year Plan (2026-2030) outlines a clear roadmap for capability development, emphasizing "New Quality Productive Forces" to drive innovation in high-tech defense sectors. This includes prioritizing self-reliance in critical technologies such as semiconductors, aerospace materials, and quantum technology, aiming to reduce dependence on foreign suppliers. The focus on "intelligitized warfare" involves integrating artificial intelligence, big data, and autonomous systems into the PLA's architecture, with plans for mass production of loitering munitions, advanced unmanned aerial vehicles (UAVs), and continued refinement of hypersonic glide vehicles. The PLA Navy (PLAN) is already the world's largest by hull count, exceeding 370 battle force ships, with projections to reach 435 by 2030. The PLA Rocket Force (PLARF) has also dramatically expanded its nuclear and conventional missile capabilities, with a nuclear stockpile surpassing 600 warheads and projected to reach 1,500 by 2035. These developments indicate a comprehensive effort to enhance China's power projection capabilities and strategic deterrence across all domains.

Outlook and Forecast

Short-term trends (1-3 months): In the immediate future, China's defense budget increase and the ongoing "Two Sessions" political conclave will continue to be central themes, with official narratives emphasizing peaceful development and defensive posture. The anticipated summit between Presidents Xi Jinping and Donald Trump later in March will dominate diplomatic headlines, with both sides likely engaging in preparatory talks on trade, tariffs, and geopolitical issues. China's diplomatic efforts in the Middle East, including the special envoy's visit, will likely continue as Beijing seeks to position itself as a responsible global actor and de-escalate regional conflicts. In the Taiwan Strait, while PLA incursions have been low recently, rhetoric against "separatist forces" will likely persist, and any significant US arms sales to Taiwan could trigger a strong reaction from Beijing.

Critical flashpoints and risk areas: The South China Sea remains a critical flashpoint, with the potential for increased confrontations between Chinese Coast Guard vessels and those of littoral states, particularly the Philippines, as China continues its assertive maritime claims. The Taiwan Strait also presents a constant risk, with any perceived moves towards independence by Taiwan or significant increases in US military support potentially escalating tensions. The US accusation of China's alleged nuclear testing could become a significant diplomatic and arms control flashpoint, potentially leading to increased scrutiny of China's nuclear program and further straining US-China relations. Cybersecurity will remain a contested domain, with the potential for increased cyber espionage and counter-espionage activities between China and Western nations.

Indicators to monitor: Key indicators to monitor include the outcomes and tone of the Trump-Xi summit, particularly regarding any agreements or disagreements on trade, technology, and regional security. The frequency and nature of PLA military activities around Taiwan and in the South China Sea will provide insights into China's coercive strategies. Developments in the Middle East, and China's role in mediating or responding to the conflict, will indicate its evolving geopolitical influence. Progress or stagnation in ASEAN-China Code of Conduct negotiations will be crucial for maritime stability. Furthermore, any new information or responses regarding the US allegations of Chinese nuclear testing will be vital for understanding global arms control dynamics.

Strategic recommendations: For international security analysts, it is crucial to maintain a nuanced understanding of China's dual approach of military modernization and diplomatic engagement. Recommendations include closely monitoring the implementation of China's 15th Five-Year Plan for defense technology advancements, particularly in AI and autonomous systems, to assess their implications for global military balances. Analyzing the specifics of China's economic and trade policies, especially in the context of the anticipated US summit, will be essential to gauge the potential for de-escalation or continued competition. Furthermore, tracking China's actions and rhetoric in the South China Sea and towards Taiwan, alongside regional responses, will be critical for anticipating potential flashpoints and advising on de-escalation mechanisms. Finally, the international community should press for greater transparency regarding China's nuclear activities to uphold global non-proliferation norms.

New legislation will require schools to use Mandarin by default, taking priority over minority ethnic languages such as Tibetan, Uyghur and Mongolian. China's National People's Congress (NPC), the state legislature, will vote on Thursday on a suite of new laws agreed at this year's annual two sessions gathering, including a piece of legislation that will diminish the role of minority ethnic languages in the education system. NPC delegates are expected to approve a new ethnic unity law, along with a new environmental code and the 15th five-year plan, the economic planning document for 2026-2030. Delegates have spent the last week debating Beijing's proposed bills, which they are all but certain to approve. Kasasa island, in the Seto Inland Sea, has only seven residents but its fate is strongly intertwined with relations between Tokyo and Beijing. His island home is shrouded in mist, but his union jack woolly hat makes Hideya Yagi easy to spot as he greets the approaching boat. The 80-year-old, a former president of a construction company, is pleased to see the small group of passengers disembark, mainly because he is one of only seven registered residents at their destination, Kasasa island. Kasasa is known as the “Hawaii” of Japan’s inland sea because of its warm climate and beautiful coastline. Yagi and his wife, Mihoko, eke out a quiet life alongside just one other couple and an elderly woman. The other two residents are almost always absent. Continue reading...

- The Guardian view on EV charging: China took the right lessons from Britain’s past | Editorial (2026-03-08 17:25)

Megawatt fast EV charging reflects a coordinated grid strategy the UK once used. Privatisation and fragmentation now make that infrastructure far harder to build. The future of electric cars arrived this week in China. The world’s biggest car seller, BYD, unveiled a new battery giving its latest electric models more than 600 miles of range. Remarkably, the Chinese motor-maker said 250 miles of range could be injected into its new batteries in just five minutes. If true, the last remaining advantages of petrol cars – long range and quick refuelling – are beginning to disappear. But such technology requires megawatt charging points. A single charger can draw as much power as a small town in Britain. BYD’s system relies on chargers delivering around 1.5 megawatts of electricity – more than four times the fastest chargers in the UK. China is moving fast, planning thousands of megawatt charging stations within two years. Continue reading...

- Jimmy Lai and the rule of law in Hong Kong | Letter (2026-03-05 17:08)

Bi Haibo of the Chinese embassy in the UK responds to an editorial. Regarding your editorial (The Guardian view on Jimmy Lai: what Britain's caution says about its relationship to Beijing's power, 10 February), I wish to make the following points.

First, Jimmy Lai is by no means the "defender of democracy" portrayed in some western media narratives, but a principal figure behind the turmoil in Hong Kong. He was a key planner and participant in a series of anti-China incidents aimed at destabilising Hong Kong, and served as an agent and pawn of external anti-China forces. What he has done would constitute criminal offences in any country and must be punished in accordance with the law.

Second, Hong Kong returned to China in 1997, and the Sino-British Joint Declaration has long fulfilled its historical mission. The constitutional and legal basis for the Chinese government's governance of Hong Kong lies in China's constitution and Hong Kong's basic law. Since the enactment of the National Security Law in 2020, Hong Kong has restored stability, and the rights and freedoms of residents are better protected in a more secure environment.

Third, Hong Kong affairs are China's internal affairs, and Hong Kong's judiciary does not allow external interference. Moreover, China does not recognise dual nationality. Jimmy Lai is regarded in Hong Kong solely as a Chinese citizen.

We urge the Guardian to respect China's sovereignty and the rule of law in Hong Kong and to report on related issues in an objective and fair-minded manner.

'High-quality growth' target of 4.5-5% outlined at Two Sessions as Chinese premier talks of complex situations at home and abroad What are China's Two Sessions and why do they matter? China has set its target for GDP growth to a record low of 4.5-5%, the first time since 1991 that the figure has dropped below 5%, reflecting an economic strategy that is shifting away from export-led growth to a model that leaders hope will be more resilient to external shocks. Li Qiang, China's premier, announced the target for 2026 in the opening session of the National People's Congress (NPC), China's annual parliamentary gathering, which began on Thursday. The conflict in the Middle East has sent energy prices soaring, and for countries that import a high proportion of their fuel, it's a reminder of the perils of energy dependence. As the recipient of almost 90% of Iran's crude oil, China knows this only too well. Which partly explains why the country spent the last decade heavily investing in clean power. To find out what else could be driving the strategy, Madeleine Finlay speaks to senior China correspondent Amy Hawkins. And energy correspondent Jillian Ambrose reflects on how China's ambitions

If we want things to be ‘Made in Europe’ again, we need to be realistic about how grimy and grey our centres of commerce once were “Bitterfeld, Bitterfeld, where dirt falls from the sky,” went a popular saying. Located in the intensely industrialised Chemical Triangle of the German Democratic Republic (GDR), in the 1980s Bitterfeld became known as the dirtiest town in Europe. Its chemical industry and lignite mines dumped toxic waste in waterways, and the air carried a concentrate of sulphur dioxide some 40 times today’s levels.Europe would soon be rattled out of its postwar reliance on heavy industry, in favour of cheap imports from abroad. In the last days of the GDR, environmental activism brought the coup de grâce. The 1988 release of the undercover film Bitter Things from Bitterfeld shed light on the appalling living conditions in the Chemical Triangle, and the city’s chemical plants were soon decommissioned.Hans Larsson is an architect at OMA/AMO Continue reading...

- UN Security Council demands Iran halt attacks on Gulf states (2026-03-11 23:03)

The UN Security Council on Wednesday called for Iran to halt its attacks on Gulf states, in a resolution that did not mention US or Israeli strikes on Iran, prompting Tehran's ambassador to decry a "blatant misuse" of the international body. The resolution, passed by 13 votes with two abstentions, "demands the immediate cessation of all attacks by the Islamic Republic of Iran against Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates and Jordan". It also "condemns any actions...

- The pivot: how China turbocharged its industrial policy and remade the global economy (2026-03-11 22:00)

Huang Yiping, a veteran Chinese economist, has attended countless policy forums and high-level summits over his long career. But one event at Peking University a decade ago stands out. Academic debates are often niche, sparsely attended affairs, but that afternoon in November 2016 was different. Seats in the auditorium were snatched up in minutes as people piled in to witness a showdown that had attracted nationwide attention. The public frenzy centred on a rare face-to-face clash between two...

- Iran group hacks US medical firm in retaliation for strike on girls' school (2026-03-11 21:45)

An Iranian-linked hacking group on Wednesday claimed responsibility for a destructive cyberattack on US-based medical device and services provider Stryker, according to messages posted to the group's Telegram channel and social media reports. Stryker shares fell about 3.4 per cent on Wednesday after The Wall Street Journal reported that the medical equipment maker was hit by a suspected Iran-linked cyberattack. The Michigan-based company, with 56,000 employees and operations in 61 countries,...

- AI chatbots help plot attacks, study shows: 'happy \(and safe\) shooting!' (2026-03-11 20:25)

From school shootings to synagogue bombings, leading AI chatbots helped researchers plot violent attacks, according to a study published on Wednesday that highlighted the technology's potential for real-world harm. Researchers from the non-profit watchdog Centre for Countering Digital Hate (CCDH) and CNN posed as 13-year-old boys in the United States and Ireland to test 10 chatbots, including ChatGPT, Google Gemini, Perplexity, DeepSeek and MetaAI. Testing showed that eight of those chatbots...

- Chile's Boric leaves office, calls for unity after split with successor over China cable (2026-03-11 18:30)

Chilean President Gabriel Boric left La Moneda presidential palace for the last time on Wednesday, ending a four-year term with a call for national unity that most observers took as a reference to the Chinese undersea cable dispute that defined his final weeks in office. “I wish success to the incoming government, success for Chile, and may our homeland always come first, above any interest, above any disagreement,” Boric said from the palace courtyard, where he arrived with his partner, Paula...

- 3 brothers with Iraq links arrested for 'terrorist bombing' of US embassy in Norway (2026-03-11 18:16)

Norwegian police said on Wednesday that three brothers had been arrested on suspicion of a “terrorist bombing” over a weekend explosion at the US embassy in Oslo that caused minor damage but no injuries. Police prosecutor Christian Hatlo told a press conference the brothers, who were Norwegian citizens of Iraqi origin, had been arrested in Oslo around 3.30pm and that police were investigating the motive. “We are still working from several hypotheses. One of them is whether this is an order from...

- US military warns civilians to avoid port facilities used by Iranian navy (2026-03-11 16:42)

US Central Command (CENTCOM) urged civilians to keep clear of all port facilities in Iran, saying that Iranian military operations justify potential attacks, while an ongoing investigation reportedly found the US to be responsible for a deadly missile strike on an Iranian elementary school. CENTCOM said on Wednesday that the Iranian regime was using civilian ports along the Strait of Hormuz to conduct military operations, which would make the ports legitimate military targets under international...

- CBRE forecasts positive momentum for APAC real estate market in 2026 (2026-03-11 16:00)

[The content of this article has been produced by our advertising partner.] Asia Pacific's commercial real estate market is set for a strong year in 2026, as investment and leasing activity are both expected to pick up, supported by the region's underlying economic resilience and improving investor sentiment. While trade-related volatility and geopolitical tensions are likely to continue influencing decisions, the overall direction remains one of steady progress, according to CBRE's 2026 Asia...

- Iran will not compete in United States-hosted 2026 World Cup, sports minister says (2026-03-11 15:52)

Iran cannot take part in the 2026 World Cup after co-host the United States launched air strikes against the country alongside Israel, killing its leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei, sports minister Ahmad Donyamali said on Wednesday. The US and Israel launched air strikes on Iran almost two weeks ago, killing the Islamic Republic's supreme leader, leading to a region-wide conflict in the Gulf. "Considering that this corrupt regime has assassinated our leader, under no circumstances can we...

- China issues new safety rules for OpenClaw. Here are the dos and don'ts (2026-03-11 15:13)

A unit of China's Ministry of Industry and Information Technology (MIIT) has issued guidelines on best practices and prohibitions for adopting and using OpenClaw, the popular artificial intelligence agent that continues to dominate the market. The advisory, developed in collaboration with AI agent providers, vulnerability platform operators and cybersecurity firms, aims to address risks in typical use cases of "lobster", OpenClaw's mascot, according to a Wednesday statement from the MIIT-run...

- As Iran war hits trade hubs, China's logistics firms scramble for alternatives (2026-03-11 15:00)

Logistics companies in China are feeling the strain from the US-Israeli war on Iran, as volatile crude prices and disrupted transport routes ripple through global supply chains. With e-commerce cargo stranded in the Middle East and freight rates skyrocketing, industry insiders said they expect the fallout to last months, even as US President Donald Trump signalled the war could end soon. While some saw opportunities in alternative Central Asian corridors, Chinese businesses reliant on the region...

- Taiwan's Mayday invites fans angered by axed Hong Kong show to free rehearsal (2026-03-11 14:52)

Taiwanese rock band Mayday has sought to calm fans angered by the abrupt cancellation of one of its concerts planned for Hong Kong by inviting them to a free rehearsal, as complaints over the scrapped show soared to more than 100. The city's customs chief also weighed in on Wednesday, warning that enforcement action would be taken if any laws were breached. The Consumer Council said that as of 5pm, it had received 111 complaints about the cancelled show – 42 from local consumers and 69 from fans...

- UK PM Starmer was warned of ‘reputational risk’ in appointing Mandelson (2026-03-11 14:50)

Documents released on Wednesday by the British government show officials believed there was a “reputational risk” to appointing Peter Mandelson as the US ambassador because of his relationship with convicted sex offender Jeffrey Epstein. The concerns were raised in a document sent to Prime Minister Keir Starmer in December 2024 before he appointed Mandelson to the role, seen as vital to establish a good relationship with the administration of US President Donald Trump. The document also spelled...

- Hong Kong university president vows to boost humanities amid AI push elsewhere (2026-03-11 14:42)

The head of Hong Kong’s oldest university has vowed to inject more resources into humanities programmes, praising them as a source of creativity and imagination, even as some institutions outside the city cut courses amid the rise of artificial intelligence (AI). Professor Xiang Zhang, president of the University of Hong Kong (HKU), made the pledge on Wednesday as the head of the institution’s medical faculty revealed the school would ditch its target for 75 per cent of its intake to be...

- IEA agrees to record release of emergency oil reserves to calm surging prices (2026-03-11 14:36)

The International Energy Agency agreed on Wednesday to release the largest volume of emergency oil reserves in its history, in a bid to counter the effects on energy markets of the war in the Middle East. The Paris-based organisation said it will make 400 million barrels of oil available from its members’ emergency reserves. It’s a larger stock than the 182.7 million barrels that were released in 2022 by the IEA’s 32 member countries in response to Russia’s invasion of Ukraine. IEA member...

- China’s Midea pledges US\$8.7 billion for AI and robotics in pivot to automation (2026-03-11 14:30)

Midea Group, the owner of industrial robot giant Kuka, is the latest Chinese company to pledge heavy investment in AI and robotics – another 60 billion yuan (US$8.7 billion) over the next three years – as traditional industries embrace futuristic technologies. The planned expenditure on research and development, with a focus on “AI, embodied intelligence and other cutting-edge areas”, matched its total spending over the past five years, the company announced in Shanghai on Tuesday. The strategic...

- How Iran’s strikes on US bases could offer a preview for the Asia-Pacific (2026-03-11 14:00)

Iran’s retaliatory strikes on US military assets across the Middle East serve as a preview of how Beijing might target American bases in Asian countries in the event of a Taiwan Strait conflict, according to analysts. In retaliation for large-scale air attacks by the US and Israel since February 28, Iran has launched missiles and drones at Gulf states that host US military bases and facilities, including Saudi Arabia, Qatar and Kuwait. Those targets included Al-Udeid AirBase in Qatar, the...

- Asia's energy-reliant economies face 'existential threat' from prolonged Iran war (2026-03-11 13:45)

Asian economies reliant on energy imports are bracing themselves not just for a spike in oil prices but for the possibility that the Iran war could trigger a prolonged period of energy market disruption. While markets have already priced in the initial disruption to shipping and energy infrastructure linked to the conflict, economists warn that a war lasting several weeks could leave Asian importers facing persistently higher fuel costs, widening trade deficits and slower economic...

- On inauguration day, Chile's new president inherits a Chinese cable scandal and US threats (2026-03-11 13:44)

The Chilean capital Santiago awoke on Wednesday to a mixture of celebration and tension. As the city prepared for the inauguration of its centre-right president, the new government's first crisis was already unfolding behind the scenes: an undersea fibre-optic cable linking the South American country to Hong Kong that had enraged Washington and may prove a watershed moment in how Latin America handles critical infrastructure projects and its partnership with Beijing. Jose Antonio Kast was...

- Eli Lilly boosts China footprint with US\$3 billion plan to expand supply chain (2026-03-11 13:39)

Eli Lilly has pledged an additional US$3 billion investment in China over the next decade to strengthen its local supply chain and manufacturing capabilities, deepening the footprint of foreign pharmaceutical giants in the world's second-largest healthcare market. The move would bring the total cumulative investment of Eli Lilly, the world's largest pharmaceutical company by market capitalisation, in China to nearly US$6 billion, according to a statement released on its WeChat account on...

- Late superstar Leslie Cheung to add magic to Hong Kong's Pop Culture Festival (2026-03-11 13:03)

A newly restored 4K film featuring the late Hong Kong superstar Leslie Cheung Kwok-wing will be part of this year's Pop Culture Festival, but the government expects a 25 per cent drop in attendance over last year due to a shorter programme. Pat Wong Kit-yi, a chief manager at the Leisure and Cultural Services Department, said on Wednesday the festival welcomed 800,000 visitors in 2025, but this year 600,000 were expected to attend. "We've condensed the festival by a month, lasting from April to...

- Hong Kong to expand scheme cutting stroke patient transfer time by 80 minutes

(2026-03-11 13:01)

Hong Kong authorities plan to expand a pilot programme to cut the transfer time by 80 minutes for patients suffering from serious strokes to public hospitals equipped with relevant surgical facilities. The Hospital Authority said on Wednesday that the diversion programme, which was launched in December and is currently only available in the New Territories, would be gradually expanded to the whole city after sufficient data had been collected. Before the pilot scheme's launch, ambulances would...

- China warns US against granting AI ability to 'determine life and death' on battlefield

(2026-03-11 13:01)

China's military on Wednesday warned the United States against allowing artificial intelligence (AI) to "determine life and death" in warfare, as a dispute between the Pentagon and AI firm Anthropic highlighted growing tensions over military use of the technology. Speaking at a regular briefing in Beijing, defence ministry spokesman Jiang Bin said the "unrestricted application of AI by the military" could "erode ethical constraints and accountability in wars" and risk a "dangerous technological..."

- Iran's data centre attacks in the Gulf are strikes on confidence (2026-03-11 12:30)

For decades, geopolitical risk in the Gulf was largely synonymous with oil. Pipelines, export terminals and processing facilities were viewed as the obvious tender spots in times of regional escalation. In an oil-reliant economy, hydrocarbons were both the engine of growth and the primary vulnerability. Risk assessments, insurance premiums and sovereign spreads were managed accordingly. The episodic risks in the oil and gas industry led to a conventional playbook for navigating crises. Gulf...

- Germany, Japan to unblock oil reserves as G7 stands 'ready' to act (2026-03-11 12:29)

Japan and Germany said on Wednesday they would tap into their oil reserves to tackle the rise in crude prices due to the Middle East war, with Berlin saying the IEA global energy body had asked member states to release 400 million barrels. France, the current chair of the Group of Seven countries, said nations were coordinating their steps as G7 energy ministers said they stood ready to take "all necessary measures". The latest announcement came as leaders of the Group of Seven advanced...

- Only 1 Hong Kong landlord seeks subdivided flat approval as new law takes effect

(2026-03-11 12:22)

Only one landlord in Hong Kong has sought certification approval for subdivided flats since a new law on minimum housing standards took effect about two weeks ago, while applications for a grace period have been submitted for more than 1,100 homes, according to authorities. The Basic Housing Units Ordinance, which took effect on March 1, stipulates that only subdivided homes that meet minimum standards and are certified by building professionals can be legally leased. Non-compliant landlords...

- Japan to release oil reserves as early as Monday (2026-03-11 12:15)

Japan will release strategic oil reserves as early as Monday, Prime Minister Sanae Takaichi said, a unilateral move by the import-dependent Asian economy to ease concerns over rising fuel prices due to the Middle East war. Japan is the world's fourth-largest economy and the fifth-biggest importer of crude oil, with about 95 per cent of its needs coming from the Middle East and around 70 per cent passing through the Strait of Hormuz before the conflict began. Tokyo has been working with other...

- Chinese firm claims it intercepted B-2 radio signal during US strike on Iran (2026-03-11 12:00)

A private company in China providing intelligence-gathering services to the People's Liberation Army (PLA) claims to have intercepted radio signals from American stealth bombers that struck Iran on March 1 as part of the US-Israeli military action. Jingan Technology, a defence technology firm based in east China's Hangzhou, also asserted that it detected signals linked to US military activities well before tensions with Iran escalated, using artificial intelligence (AI) to analyse early...

- Demand for AI talent in China outpaces job postings in other 'new-economy' sectors (2026-03-11 11:29)

China's spring hiring season is revealing a sharp surge in demand for artificial intelligence talent as companies speed up the deployment of related technologies, turning it into one of the country's hottest professional fields. The number of AI-related job postings in China in the first two months of the year grew about 12-fold year on year, far outpacing growth in other "new-economy" industries such as healthcare, renewable energy and semiconductors, People's Daily reported on Tuesday, citing...

- Malaysia tightens borders to fight fuel smuggling amid global energy crisis (2026-03-11 11:25)

Malaysia will tighten border enforcement to curb fuel smuggling and keep subsidised petrol prices unchanged as the widening US-Israeli war with Iran disrupts energy flows through the Strait of Hormuz and rattles global oil markets. The move comes amid concern that rising fuel prices abroad could make smuggling subsidised fuel out of Malaysia more profitable. "The most worrying aspect is that this conflict has an impact on the global economy, Asia and Malaysia," Prime Minister Anwar Ibrahim said...

- Thai navy says cargo ship attacked near Strait of Hormuz (2026-03-11 11:08)

A Thai bulk carrier travelling in the crucial Strait of Hormuz was attacked on Wednesday, with 20 crew members rescued so far, the Thai navy said. Photos shared by the Royal Thai Navy showed heavy black smoke billowing from the hull and superstructure of the Thai-registered Mayuree Naree, with life rafts floating in the water. The vessel “was attacked while transiting the Strait of Hormuz” after departing Khalifa port in the United Arab Emirates, the navy said in a statement. “The specific...

- Japan’s ‘so handsome’ youngest governor, 36, sets social media abuzz again (2026-03-11 11:01)

Takato Ishida, the 36-year-old governor of Fukui, has sparked a fresh wave of online attention after new Instagram posts from his prefectural assembly revived the fascination that followed Ishida’s election earlier this year. Many of the reactions have focused less on policy than on Japan’s youngest sitting prefectural leader, with social media users repeatedly praising his appearance and describing him as unusually “handsome” for a politician. The attention first surged shortly after Ishida...

- China stands to gain from US moving military assets for Iran war: cross-strait adviser (2026-03-11 11:00)

Beijing could gain a strategic edge in the Taiwan Strait as US military assets are diverted to the Middle East, even though it remains committed to peaceful reunification with the island, a prominent mainland expert on the Taiwan issue said on Tuesday. Li Yihu, dean of the Taiwan Research Institute at Peking University and a delegate to China’s National People’s Congress, said Washington’s involvement in multiple conflicts, including the ongoing war in Iran, was straining its armed forces and...

- Why US policy on India aims to avoid repeat of China ‘mistake’ (2026-03-11 11:00)

A warning by a senior US official that the Trump administration would not repeat with India the “mistakes” it made in its past dealings with China signals that Washington would not allow New Delhi’s rise to come at the expense of its strategic interests. Speaking at a conference on international politics and economics in Delhi on Friday, Deputy Secretary of State Christopher Landau said the US wanted to work with India to unlock its “limitless potential”. But he added at the Raisina Dialogue:...

- As US missiles leave South Korea, the Philippines asks: are we next? (2026-03-11 10:00)

The United States has begun pulling missile-defence systems from South Korea to feed its war with Iran, prompting fresh questions in the Philippines about Washington’s military commitments to the Asia-Pacific. The transfer of Patriot batteries from the Korean peninsula, accompanied by reports that parts of a THAAD anti-missile system were also on the move, did not directly affect the US military presence in the Philippines. But the episode has forced a question that Manila would rather not have...

- ‘Thank you for coming to Okinawa’: Japan girl offers money to China tourist to pay bus fare (2026-03-11 10:00)

A Chinese tourist touched many people online by telling how a young Japanese girl not only helped her find a bus she needed but also initially gave her 1,000 yen (US$6). The woman traveller, from eastern China's Zhejiang province, posted her story on March 6, using the alias Yuyu, the news outlet 163.com reported. She was travelling to Okinawa at the beginning of March, and as she did not know much about the transport system in the region, she was checking schedules at a bus station. A young...

An expert on semiconductor packaging and memory chips has left the University of California, Irvine after more than two decades to join a leading conductive materials company in eastern China. Shi Guojun has taken on the role of chief strategic scientist and director of the Future Industry Research Institute at DK Electronic Materials, the company said in a statement posted online on March 6. According to DKEM, Shi will lead the company's strategic planning and development in emerging...

- CATL profit jump fuels Hong Kong battery stocks amid global energy storage boom (2026-03-11 10:00)

Betting on rising global demand for energy storage, shares of Chinese lithium battery makers continued to rally on Wednesday, led by Contemporary Amperex Technology Ltd (CATL), which reported stronger-than-expected growth driven in part by its expansion into new energy storage markets. CATL shares surged more than 10 per cent to HK$608 during morning trading hours in Hong Kong on Wednesday – the highest level in five months – before closing 9 per cent higher at HK$599.50. That followed another 9...

- Suspected wartime grenade found in Hong Kong residential area (2026-03-11 08:35)

Hong Kong police and a bomb disposal unit were deployed to a residential area in Happy Valley on Wednesday afternoon after a driver spotted a suspected wartime grenade lodged on a hillside. Police received a report at about 1.40pm from a driver passing the Villa Monte Rosa housing estate on Stubbs Road. The device, described as being roughly the size of a lemon, was found on a slope near the luxury residential complex. Officers from the explosive ordnance disposal bureau were called to the scene...

- India opens door to more Chinese investment after 6-year freeze (2026-03-11 08:34)

India has relaxed curbs on Chinese investments in certain sectors to attract more foreign capital, as Beijing and New Delhi continue to gradually repair their economic relationship after years of tense relations. In a cabinet statement released on Tuesday, New Delhi introduced a fast-track approval mechanism for investments from land-bordering countries – including China. The move amends a previous restriction that had mandated government scrutiny for all such capital inflows. Under the new...

A former Hong Kong opposition district councillor has been jailed for three years and nine months for handling HK$590,000 (US$75,409) in telephone scam proceeds on behalf of a fraud syndicate, saying he wanted to earn quick cash to repay his gambling debts and cover his father's medical expenses. Sheep Wong Chun-yeung, 31, had initially insisted that he was secretly gathering evidence against what he believed to be a triad-run debt collection ring when he received money from six elderly victims...

- War on Iran threatens Asia's food supply as fertiliser prices surge (2026-03-11 08:00)

How does a missile strike on a Qatari gas plant end up raising the price of rice in Bangladesh? The answer is fertiliser, an unglamorous commodity that nevertheless sustains much of what the world eats. Qatar burns natural gas to produce ammonia. Ammonia is converted into urea. Urea goes into the ground and out of the ground comes grain. Disrupt the first step, as Iran did when it struck QatarEnergy's liquefied natural gas (LNG) processing facility on March 1, and the consequences travel along...

China's most critical annual political gathering, the "two sessions", is particularly significant this year as Beijing unveils its 15th five-year plan, signaling how it will position itself ahead of the highly anticipated summit between President Xi Jinping and his US counterpart Donald Trump. To decode the outcomes of these meetings, the South China Morning Post and the Asia Society Policy Institute's Center for China Analysis (CCA) will co-host a special webinar on March 13. The panel features...

- Pakistan says 'no question' it will help Saudi Arabia after Iran strikes Gulf nations (2026-03-11 06:54)

Pakistan will come to the aid of Saudi Arabia whenever needed, according to the spokesman for Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif, as Iran retaliates against US-Israeli strikes by hitting Gulf nations. Saudi Arabia and nuclear-armed Pakistan, which shares a border with Iran, signed a defence pact in September last year, elevating their long-standing security partnership, which is being tested by the Middle East crisis. There was "no question we might, we will" come to Saudi Arabia's aid "no matter...

A woman in Hong Kong has been arrested on suspicion of neglect after allegedly leaving her four-year-old son home alone, during which time he threw objects from a window, damaging a parked car below. Police said on Wednesday that they received a report in the early hours concerning a boy suspected of throwing plastic bottles and other items from a residential flat on Tai Nan Street in Sham Shui Po. A video widely shared online shows an object being thrown from the building's fifth floor, hitting...

- Thailand smashes coconut-profiteering web led by Chinese firms (2026-03-11 06:24)

Thai police have broken up a web of Chinese companies allegedly using Thai fronts to control the kingdom's coconut supply, squeezing prices to record lows of 2 baht (6 US cents) per fruit and allowing wide profit margins on sales into China. The probe, launched across western agricultural provinces where the nam hom coconut farms are based, reflects broader concerns about the exploitation of Thai fruit farmers by foreign businessmen who set prices and dictate market terms. Raids on eight...

A 63-year-old woman from northeastern China, who lost her only child last year and sought another offspring for spiritual support, recently gave birth to a baby girl. The woman delivered the baby on March 4 via caesarean section at a hospital in Songyuan, Jilin province, about two weeks ahead of her due date, as reported by the Sanxiang Metropolis News. Both the mother and her baby, who weighs 2.8kg, are in good health, the report stated. The grey-haired mother, whose name was not disclosed in...

- Might makes right? Rules based order on trial in Europe as Iran war deepens divide (2026-03-11 05:59)

As the war in Iran tips the global order further into chaos, a potentially existential rupture on whether international rules still matter is threatening to tear Europe apart. Over the course of Monday and Tuesday, leaders of the European Union's institutions – considered among the most legalistic political structures on the planet – clashed publicly over whether the bloc should still be bound by global norms. This followed more than a week of messy sparring among national political leaders from...

- Jeju Air crash: South Korean auditor says ministry prioritised cost over safety (2026-03-11 05:38)

South Korea's transport ministry cut construction costs and approved improper airport safety structures for more than two decades, the state auditor said in a report on aviation safety management after a Jeju Air crash that killed 179 people. The December 2024 crash involved a Boeing 737-800 which was struck by birds, belly-landed and overran the runway at Muan International Airport, killing almost everyone on board after it struck a concrete support for a localiser antenna. The only survivors...

- Is Iran's vital oil hub Kharg Island in America's crosshairs? (2026-03-11 05:15)

Kharg Island, a scrubby stretch of land in the northern Gulf, handles almost all of Iran's crude exports and any attempt to seize it would mark a major escalation in the conflict, analysts have said. The US and Israel have so far treaded carefully around the island, but an Axios report over the weekend cited Trump administration officials saying capturing Kharg was on the table as the war in the Middle East persists. The island, located around 30km (19 miles) off the Iranian mainland, handles...

- Cathay posts 9.5% rise in profit to HK\$10.82 billion but warns of geopolitical risks (2026-03-11 04:45)

Cathay Pacific Airways' net profit climbed 9.5 per cent to HK$10.82 billion (US$1.39 billion) in 2025, driven by increased capacity and robust cargo demand, as the Hong Kong flag carrier's chief warned of disruptions from the ongoing conflict in the Middle East. Cathay Group chairman Patrick Healy said on Wednesday that the results marked the airline's third consecutive year of growth. But he cautioned that global geopolitical tensions were unsettling businesses and pushing up fuel prices. Hong...

- Election to replace Marjorie Taylor Greene leads to run-off (2026-03-11 04:41)

The Republican candidate backed by US President Donald Trump will advance to a run-off against a Democrat in the Georgia race to replace Marjorie Taylor Greene in the US House of Representatives, after a special election on Tuesday seen as a test of Trump's sway over his party. Trump's preferred candidate, former district attorney for four northwest Georgia counties Clay Fuller, will face Shawn Harris, a moderate Democrat who has sought to court disillusioned Trump voters, in the April 7...

- Iran's stranded sailors wait out the war in Sri Lanka amid US pressure (2026-03-11 04:33)

Just as Sri Lanka thought it had bought some time with a one-month visa for the Iranian sailors it rescued, another of Iran's warships appeared offshore, deepening Colombo's struggle to stay out of a war that keeps washing up on its doorstep. The vessel was detected nine nautical miles (17km) off the coast on Tuesday, a week after a US submarine sank the Iranian frigate IRIS Dena and damaged the IRIS Bushehr off the southern port of Galle on March 4. Sri Lanka now hosts hundreds of Iranian naval...

- China' s size, strength insulates its energy security amid geopolitical shocks: lawmaker (2026-03-11 04:30)

Despite its heavy reliance on oil and gas imports, China' s “national strength” insulates its energy security from short-term geopolitical shocks, a prominent petroleum geologist said. Jin Zhijun, dean of the Institute of Energy at Peking University, said that China – as a large country – could ensure its energy security amid a volatile international energy trading landscape, with multiple contingency plans in place. They included tapping more domestic resources by increasing oil and gas...

- What if Iran really did buy export variant of China' s YJ-12 supersonic missile? (2026-03-11 04:00)

Just days ahead of the US-Israeli air strikes on Iran, a news report suggested that Beijing was close to selling supersonic cruise missiles to Tehran – a move that could significantly boost the Islamic Republic' s capacity to counter US aircraft carriers. Before the world could work out whether game-changing Chinese missiles really would feature in an Iranian conflict against US forces, Beijing firmly denied the report, published by Reuters on February 24. Citing six sources, Reuters reported...

- Hong Kong customs seizes more fuel-smuggling trucks as Iran war lifts prices (2026-03-11 03:28)

Hong Kong customs officers have intercepted more cross-border trucks suspected of smuggling petrol into the city as fuel prices surge amid the war in the Middle East. Commissioner of Customs and Excise Chan Tsz-tat said on Wednesday that some of the vehicles had even enlarged their fuel tanks to carry more petrol for supplying illegal petrol stations. “In the past few weeks, we have uncovered many such cases involving cars that had enlarged their fuel tank capacity and made other modifications,” ...

- Iran war shock derails Thailand' s economic reboot under PM Anutin (2026-03-11 03:02)

Thailand' s Prime Minister Anutin Charnvirakul has finalised his coalition partners and tapped allies for cabinet posts, but the spillover from the war in the Middle East is already diluting the economic momentum his new government hopes to take into office. Anutin' s in-tray was already bulging with promises to address domestic woes, including high household debt and a slowdown in growth that has led to an anaemic 2026 forecast of between 1.5 and 2.1 per cent. But the unexpected energy price...

- Halo trade reshapes Wall Street portfolios. Is China set to lead the heavy-asset era? (2026-03-11 03:00)

Halo, short for heavy assets, low obsolescence, has emerged as a major Wall Street theme in recent weeks. Investors are rotating from tech stocks to companies with real physical assets amid fears over artificial intelligence, geopolitical tensions and rising prices of resources and infrastructure. Here's what you need to know about how the strategy gained popularity and why it matters to China. What is Halo? The term was coined last month by Josh Brown, CEO of Ritholtz Wealth Management, to...

- Singapore man to be charged over TikTok videos on race, government (2026-03-11 02:40)

A 59-year-old man will be charged in a Singapore court on Wednesday over four videos he posted on TikTok between 2023 and 2025, the police and Protection from Online Falsehoods and Manipulation Act (POFMA) Office said on Tuesday. The videos contained content which promoted ill will between different racial groups as well as false statements of fact, police and the POFMA Office said in a joint news release. He will be charged with two counts of defamation and one count of attempting to promote...

- Elon Musk on course to become world's first trillionaire as wealth soars (2026-03-11 02:30)

Elon Musk's estimated US$839 billion net worth has made him the wealthiest individual ever recorded, Forbes said on Tuesday, as billionaires worldwide saw their combined fortunes surge in the past year to an all-time high of US$20.1 trillion. Musk topped the Forbes World's Billionaires list for the second consecutive year after his fortune swelled by roughly US$500 billion over the past 12 months, driven by rising valuations at Tesla and SpaceX, which is targeting a public offering in 2026. He...

- Japan hit by worst earthquake and tsunami in its history in 2011 – from the SCMP archive (2026-03-11 02:30)

This article was first published on March 11, 2011. By Greg Torode, Martin Wong and Agencies A farm building engulfed in flames as it disintegrated in giant waves; a minibus tumbling end over end, pushed ahead of a 10-metre wall of water - the tsunami triggered yesterday afternoon by the largest earthquake in Japanese history produced scenes of horror along the country's northeast coast. At least 1,000 people were killed as the wall of water swept away everything in its path. The death toll is...

- Hong Kong stocks extend rebound as proposed release from oil reserve soothes fears (2026-03-11 02:10)

Hong Kong stocks rose on Wednesday as fears over surging oil prices eased and Chinese tech names rebounded after a deep rout. The Hang Seng Index gained 0.5 per cent to 26,028.00 as of 9.36am. The Hang Seng Tech Index edged up 0.6 per cent. On the mainland, the CSI 300 Index and the Shanghai Composite Index were little changed. Oil prices fluctuated after the Wall Street Journal reported that the International Energy Agency proposed the largest ever oil release from its strategic reserve. The...

- Woman charged with attempted murder in shooting at Rihanna's Los Angeles home (2026-03-11 02:07)

A Florida woman accused of firing gunshots at Rihanna's home in Los Angeles was charged on Tuesday with one count of attempted murder and other felony offences including 10 counts of assault on a person with a semi-automatic firearm. District Attorney Nathan Hochman said that the singing superstar, her partner A$AP Rocky, their three small children and her mother were all on the property at the time. The district attorney's office said Ivanna Lisette Ortiz, 35, was charged in the shooting Sunday...

- The US-Israeli war on Iran threatens global energy. How is Asia preparing? (2026-03-11 02:00)

US President Donald Trump says the war on Iran may not last much longer. But across Asia, government actions are racing to shield themselves from the fallout – revealing a region gripped by anxiety that an energy shock could revive the spectre of stagflation. Under mounting economic pressure and record oil market volatility, Trump said on Monday that the US-Israeli war on Iran could be over “very soon”, though not within the coming week. The most exposed Asian economies – including South Korea...

- Harvey Weinstein calls prison ‘hell’ in interview behind bars (2026-03-11 01:48)

Disgraced movie mogul and convicted rapist Harvey Weinstein says life in prison is “hell” in an interview where he repeatedly claimed he was not guilty of any crimes. The man who once effectively ruled Hollywood before a spectacular fall from grace at the start of the #MeToo movement said he was trapped in his cell at New York's Rikers Island, with only guards for company. “It's too dangerous for me to be around anyone else. Other inmates get to go to the yard. But every time I'm out there, I...

- Hong Kong tycoon urges prudent approach to development amid global uncertainty (2026-03-11 01:30)

A Hong Kong property tycoon has called for a more prudent approach to the city's development rather than accelerating projects amid global uncertainties, saying the industry's willingness to invest in the Northern Metropolis hinges on the health of the market. Far East Consortium chairman David Chiu Tat-cheong also described the megaproject's new land disposal approach – which requires winning bidders to handle multiple developments on a large plot – as good intentions with unintended negative...

- How America's Iran miscalculation hands China a strategic advantage (2026-03-11 01:30)

The US launched its war against Iran on February 28, convinced that decapitating Tehran's leadership would produce swift political capitulation. A week later, Iran was still firing missiles across the Gulf, some 150 oil tankers were stalled at the Strait of Hormuz and an Iranian Revolutionary Guard commander has threatened to set ablaze any vessel attempting passage. A recent analysis in The Diplomat argues the strikes signal the end of China's westward strategic march. The diagnosis captures...

- 15 years after Fukushima disaster, Japan struggles with rising maintenance costs

(2026-03-11 01:27)

Japan on Wednesday marked 15 years since a devastating earthquake and tsunami struck the country's northeastern areas, triggering the world's worst nuclear disaster since the 1986 Chernobyl crisis. The triple disasters of the magnitude-9.0 earthquake, resulting tsunami and meltdown of the Fukushima Daiichi nuclear complex led to the loss of more than 22,000 lives. The plant's operator is still struggling to dismantle the damaged facilities by 2051. The central government stopped hosting memorial...

- Taiwan scrambles to sign US arms deals before deadline amid defence budget gridlock

(2026-03-11 01:00)

Taiwan's defence ministry has received a US letter of offer and acceptance (LOA) for 82 Himars rocket launchers, according to officials, who said the deal must be signed by March 26 as other pending arms contracts near expiry. Speaking before a legislative session on Tuesday, Wellington Koo Li-hsiung, the island's defence minister, said the Himars, or High Mobility Artillery Rocket System, agreement was one of five US arms procurement deals awaiting legislative authorisation. Koo noted that the...

- Inseparable China triplet brothers hold weddings on same day, grow up sharing everything

(2026-03-11 01:00)

A group of triplet brothers in central China has trended on social media for holding a joint wedding event on the same day. The collective nuptials were held in Shangqiu, Henan province, at the beginning of March, Jimu News reported. The three men were born after the year 2000. Their exact age is not clear. One of them, who is ranked second on account of the time of his birth, said he and his brothers have never spent time apart since childhood. "We did everything together. We wore the same...

- South Korea grapples with 'clear reality' of US forces' shifting role on peninsula

(2026-03-11 00:00)

South Korean President Lee Jae Myung has bluntly said that Seoul cannot prevent the United States from redeploying military assets from the peninsula, raising concerns about the shifting role of American forces stationed in the country. Analysts say the episode exposes a stark reality for Seoul: US Forces Korea (USFK) are increasingly being used for missions beyond deterring North Korea as Washington pushes for greater "strategic flexibility" for its troops overseas. Lee made the remarks after...

- At least 6 killed, 5 injured in Switzerland bus fire

(2026-03-10 23:37)

A bus caught fire in western Switzerland on Tuesday, killing at least six people and injuring five others in what police said may have been a deliberate act. The fire broke out on the bus in the main street of the small town of Kerzers, around 20km (12 miles) west of the Swiss capital Bern, at about 6.25pm. Videos circulating on social media showed flames several metres high bursting out from the windows and black smoke rising into the sky. The fire “left at least six dead and five injured,...

- Why China’s red-hot tech push is leaving some traditional sectors out in the cold (2026-03-10 22:00)

With its cutting-edge humanoid robots busting moves on the world’s most-watched television programme and German Chancellor Friedrich Merz touring a company factory during a state visit, both within the last month, Unitree Robotics – already a household name in China – has seen its profile move into the stratosphere. And local government officials, eager to burnish their economies by strengthening ties to up-and-coming businesses, have made the domestic start-up’s founder and CEO Wang Xingxing a...

- Iran war exposes the risks of being a US ally (2026-03-10 21:30)

Since Israel and the United States launched their illegal and disastrous war against Iran, some Western apologists for this axis of aggression have dragged China into their propaganda. They say the war exposes how unreliable and useless China is as an ally and partner because it is nowhere to be found in Iran’s hour of need. The question is not whether Beijing should stick out its neck. No one wants to get involved in this potentially catastrophic war. That includes America’s Nato allies, which...

- Mainland Chinese see Taiwan positively, won’t retreat from US trade war: survey (2026-03-10 20:50)

Mainland Chinese citizens feel more favourable towards Taiwan than they did six months ago, support a hardline stance towards the US if another trade war erupts and view Russia and North Korea most positively and Japan least positively among their neighbours, according to a new survey by the Carter Centre and Emory University. One finding that comes through loud and clear, its authors said, is that mainlanders believe they have arrived and their country now belongs in a grouping limited to China...

- Analysts say Trump is looking for a way out of Iran. Is it ‘Taco’ time? (2026-03-10 20:23)

US President Donald Trump has built a potential off-ramp by suggesting the Iran war could end soon, but the world is still guessing about whether he will take it – and whether Tehran will let him. With surging oil prices threatening the global economy and his political fortunes at home, Trump’s tone appeared to shift abruptly on Monday as he called the war “very complete” and a “short-term excursion”. But the 79-year-old commander-in-chief continued to send mixed messages about when the war...

- WHO warns of toxic ‘black rain’ in Iran after strikes on oil facilities (2026-03-10 17:57)

The World Health Organization warned on Tuesday that the “black rain” and toxic compounds in the air in Iran after strikes on oil facilities could cause respiratory problems, and it backed Iran’s advisory urging people to remain indoors. The UN health agency, which has an office in Iran and works with authorities on health emergencies, said it has received multiplerports of oil-laden rain this week. Tehran was choked in black smoke on Monday after an oilrefinery was hit, in an escalation in...

- Hegseth says Tuesday will be ‘most intense’ of US war on Iran as Trump considers endgame (2026-03-10 17:51)

Tuesday will be the “most intense day of strikes” inside Iran so far, US Defence Secretary Pete Hegseth said, adding that President Donald Trump will ultimately decide the war’s timeline. The Pentagon chief’s remarks follow the president’s comments on Monday, suggesting the war could be over sooner than expected. For now, fighting appeared to be ramping up. “Today will be yet again our most intense day of strikes inside Iran – the most fighters, the most bombers,” Hegseth told reporters on...

- Heated Rivalry star Hudson Williams condemns racist and homophobic fan comments (2026-03-10 17:36)

A star of the massively popular Canadian show Heated Rivalry has hit back against an avalanche of hateful online posts, with the hockey drama’s success stirring up a frenzy online. The show about the budding careers and secret relationship of two young male hockey stars – one Canadian, one Russian – over a series of years, has become a global phenomenon. But it has also inspired particularly intense fan engagement across social media, including homophobic and racist comments. Lead actor Hudson...

- Shots fired at US consulate in Toronto, Canada, premier hints at Iran war link (2026-03-10 16:50)

Canadian police are investigating after the United States consulate in downtown Toronto was hit by gunfire early on Tuesday morning. Nobody was injured. Royal Canadian Mounted Police Chief Superintendent Chris Leather called it a national security incident and said the national police force is working with Toronto police to understand the motive. Leather said the American and Israeli consulates, as well as embassies in Ottawa, will see an increase in security. Toronto Police Deputy Chief Frank...

[The content of this article has been produced by our advertising partner.] Professor Muammer Ozer, Director of the Doctor of Business Administration (DBA) programme at the City University of Hong Kong (CityUHK)’s College of Business, looks at what AI does to learning and reaches an unfashionable conclusion. Information is no longer scarce, he says, but judgement still is. A doctorate, in his view, is earned where work cannot be “cut and pasted”, where an answer has to be able to address a...

- Russia, Ukraine both claim frontline success while US-led talks remain on hold (2026-03-10 15:46)

Russian and Ukrainian officials are making contradictory claims of battlefield successes in their four-year-old war, with Ukraine saying it has pushed Moscow's forces back in some places on the front line but the Kremlin insisting that Russia's invasion of its neighbour is making progress. At the same time, Russia's almost daily aerial attacks on civilian areas of Ukraine continue. Three powerful glide bombs struck the centre of the eastern Ukrainian city of Sloviansk, killing four people, the...

- Could China's rare earth supplies dictate how long US strikes on Iran go on? (2026-03-10 15:00)

The US war against Iran may have handed Beijing some fresh rare-earths leverage over Washington, with roughly three weeks until US President Donald Trump's expected visit to China. Washington's heavy reliance on the Chinese minerals for its advanced weapon systems means China could dictate how long US strikes on Iran can go on, according to sources and analysts. Sources told the South China Morning Post, on condition of anonymity due to the sensitivity of the issue, that Washington had only...

Memory price hikes are likely to become "the new normal" for the next few years, according to an executive at storage giant Seagate Technology, as the artificial intelligence boom of the past two to three years pushes the industry into what he described as a supercycle. "It's hard to tell if it will last forever," Ban-Seng Teh, Seagate's chief commercial officer, told the South China Morning Post. The current cycle was "very unusual because in the past we went through cycles of shortage and..."

- China issues second warning on OpenClaw risks amid adoption frenzy (2026-03-10 14:14)

China's cybersecurity agency on Tuesday issued a second warning about security and data risks tied to OpenClaw, despite a rush among local governments and tech companies to adopt the artificial intelligence agent amid a nationwide frenzy. At a time when major Chinese cloud service providers were touting easy deployment of OpenClaw to capitalise on its popularity, improper installation and use of the agent had also led to severe security risks, said the National Computer Network Emergency...

- EU eyes nuclear energy again as oil prices soar amid US-Israel war on Iran (2026-03-10 14:10)

EU chief Ursula von der Leyen on Tuesday said Europe's turn away from nuclear power had been a "strategic mistake", as soaring oil prices rekindled concerns about the bloc's energy vulnerability. Speaking in Paris at a nuclear summit, which aims to boost the use of civilian nuclear energy, the European Commission president endorsed a return to atomic energy, saying the European Union would back investments in "innovative nuclear technologies". "It was a strategic mistake for Europe to turn its..."

- Councillors oppose ferry fare rises for Hong Kong's outlying island routes (2026-03-10 14:07)

District councillors representing Hong Kong's outlying islands have opposed a plan to raise selected ferry fares by up to 12.8 per cent, arguing that it will discourage the elderly from travelling and harm the local economy. Members of Islands District Council on Tuesday all raised concerns that another fare increase could be sought in response to soaring fuel prices. The remarks were made as the Transport Department briefed council members on the fare adjustment proposal for six key ferry...

- From 'love and hate' to nationalism, can Xi and Trump rebalance ties? (2026-03-10 14:00)

As US President Donald Trump prepares for his first China trip in nearly a decade, Chinese scholars see an opportunity to steer ties away from confrontation and towards a managed coexistence. Speakers at a seminar hosted by the University of Hong Kong's Centre on Contemporary China and the World last week were cautiously optimistic about prospects for the relationship. That was despite Washington's strategic pullback, heightened sensitivities over the Taiwan Strait, and intensifying conflict in...

- Why China sees stability in hardliner Mojtaba Khamenei's rise to lead Iran (2026-03-10 13:15)

Chinese analysts expect Mojtaba Khamenei, Iran's new supreme leader, to continue and possibly harden his assassinated father's policies towards the US and Israel. The appointment of the 56-year-old cleric could signal a sense of continuity inside Iran, as well as stabilise ties between Beijing and Tehran, the analysts added. Iran's Assembly of Experts confirmed on Monday that the younger Khamenei would succeed the late Ayatollah Ali Khamenei as the supreme leader – a post holding the final say...

- Sour note for fans after Taiwanese rock band Mayday switches Hong Kong date (2026-03-10 13:15)

Hong Kong's consumer watchdog has received dozens of complaints after Taiwanese rock band Mayday cancelled one of its coming concerts at Kai Tak Sports Park and replaced it with a new date later in the week, sparking frustration among fans – particularly those travelling from mainland China and overseas. The Consumer Council said that as of 1pm on Tuesday, it had received 24 complaints about the cancelled show – eight from local consumers and 16 from fans outside the city. The watchdog said the...

- Tai Po fire: Hong Kong Red Cross raises HK\$530 million for affected residents (2026-03-10 13:10)

The Hong Kong Red Cross has raised HK$530 million (US$67.8 million) to provide emergency and long-term support to residents affected by the deadly Tai Po fire, with the NGO expecting all its relief and recovery efforts to be finished in five years. More than three months on from the Wang Fuk Court blaze that killed 168 people and displaced nearly 5,000, the group said on Thursday that it had ended its donation drive. It also pledged to spend no more than 5 per cent of the funds on administrative...

- China-North Korea rail services restored as neighbours try to get relations back on track (2026-03-10 13:00)

China will resume passenger train services to North Korea for the first time in six years – the latest sign of warming ties between the two countries as Pyongyang grapples with increasing tensions with the South and Donald Trump’s unpredictability. From Thursday, passenger trains between Beijing and Pyongyang will run four times a week – on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, China Railway Group (CREC) said on social media Tuesday night. The train will depart from Beijing at around 5.30pm...

- Philippines’ fuel shock exposes limits of deregulated oil market (2026-03-10 12:36)

The Philippines was hit by a sharp fuel-price shock on Tuesday, with pump costs surging after the escalating conflict involving Iran pushed global oil prices higher, in what could become one of the country’s steepest weekly increases in years. Consumer groups say the surge is exposing a deeper problem: a deregulated oil industry introduced in the late 1990s that allows companies to set pump prices in line with global markets, leaving the government with fewer tools to intervene than many of its...

- Iran strikes are a wake-up call to regulate military AI (2026-03-10 12:30)

The United States and Israel are using artificial intelligence (AI) in their ongoing war on Iran. Even amid Anthropic’s blacklisting by the Pentagon amid a dispute over wartime applications, The Washington Post reported that the US military used the company’s AI tool Claude to strike around 1,000 targets in the first 24 hours of the invasion. Claude helped in war-planning by optimising target selection, analysing intelligence data and issuing precise location coordinates by assessing satellite...

Investigators in New Mexico began searching on Monday the former ranch of Jeffrey Epstein where the late financier and his acquaintances are accused of sexually abusing women and girls, state authorities said. Democratic-run New Mexico is acting on new information in documents released in January by the US Department of Justice, including an accusation that Epstein ordered the bodies of two foreign girls buried in hills near the secluded property. The search follows New Mexico Attorney...

- Hope for India-Bangladesh reset after arrests in student leader’s killing (2026-03-10 11:30)

Indian police have arrested two suspects in the killing of a prominent Bangladeshi student leader, a development analysts say could help ease strained ties between the neighbouring countries. The detention of the two men over the death of Sharif Osman Hadi – whose killing last year triggered anti-India protests in Bangladesh – may provide an early test of cooperation between New Delhi and Dhaka following Bangladesh’ s recent political transition. Hadi was shot in the head last December during an...

- Bolstering oil stockpile, China’ s import surge seen creating a 120-day shock shield
(2026-03-10 11:00)

China’ s surge in crude imports early this year has strengthened its stockpiles against a backdrop of rising Middle East tensions and global supply risks. China imported 96.93 million tonnes of crude in January and February, up 15.8 per cent from the same period in 2025, according to customs data released on Tuesday. The value of those imports, meanwhile, fell 5.2 per cent from last year in US dollar terms. “China was accumulating oil and gas stockpiles [earlier this year], with the market...

(2026-03-10 11:00)

China has lowered the operational cost of an anti-drone high-power microwave (HPM) system to just a few yuan per shot, making it a cost-effective option for policing applications, according to a state media report. The launch of an urban police anti-drone swarm microwave defence system marked a further reduction in cost and increased accessibility of HPM technology as it expanded into civilian applications, state broadcaster CCTV said on Saturday. Developed by state-owned 081 Electronics Group,...

(2026-03-10 10:57)

Not far from the Fukushima nuclear disaster site, former plant worker Toru Akama tends to dozens of pets abandoned after the catastrophe 15 years ago, work he sees as part of his quest for redemption. Miaows and barks break the silence of the countryside, once an evacuation zone, as the 63-year-old brings food to the animals left behind when their owners fled the triple disaster of March 11, 2011: earthquake, tsunami and nuclear accident. “It’ s because of this plant, where we worked for years,...

- Hong Kong marine insurers gain edge over London with cheaper war-risk cover
(2026-03-10 10:32)

Hong Kong is set to challenge London’ s dominance in marine insurance as Middle East tensions highlight the city’ s ability to provide war-risk cover at a lower cost, according to the local insurance regulator’ s chairman. Stephen Yiu Kin-wah on Tuesday said the Insurance Authority had supported insurers in launching a special war-risk insurance pool last November, which now covered 10 mainland Chinese ships sailing in the Gulf. The pool, backed by five Hong Kong insurers, offers up to US$130...

Hong Kong authorities have arrested 20 people, including domestic helpers suspected of unlawfully providing services such as massages and manicures, in a crackdown on illegal labour. The Immigration Department said that it conducted a three-day operation across the city between Sunday and Tuesday, searching 19 target locations, including restaurants, care homes, hotels, commercial and industrial buildings and public places. Officers arrested 20 people, including 14 suspected illegal workers or...

- Middle East tensions add uncertainty to Hong Kong retail rents, Wharf REIC says (2026-03-10 10:05)

Hong Kong's fragile retail recovery is clouding the outlook for shopping mall rents, with Wharf Real Estate Investment Company (REIC) warning that rising geopolitical tensions could add further uncertainty even as visitor traffic improves. The landlord of Harbour City in Tsim Sha Tsui and Times Square in Causeway Bay said the retail market showed gradual improvement in 2025 as tourism picked up. "Volume increase, however, was not often accompanied by commensurate yield increase," the company...

Indonesia's involvement in US leader Donald Trump's "Board of Peace" is drawing growing criticism at home as the war in the Middle East intensifies scrutiny of President Prabowo Subianto's closer engagement with Washington. Critics have urged Jakarta to withdraw from the board and reconsider related policies, including plans to send troops to Gaza and a recent trade arrangement with the United States, while Prabowo has defended his stance as being consistent with the country's non-aligned...

- Stability comes first: Chinese defence chief signals Beijing's strategic caution (2026-03-10 10:00)

Beijing's defence minister called for shaping a stable environment for China to serve its broader political and diplomatic agenda, conveying the government's strategic caution amid global uncertainties, analysts said. Dong Jun gave his comments on Friday during a group discussion involving military and armed police lawmakers at the country's annual legislative gathering in Beijing. According to meeting minutes made available to the media, Dong on four occasions in his fewer than 400-word remarks...

Over two decades in a little-known, freezing city in northern China, a Swedish man has built a career and witnessed the booming development of the country's carmaking industry. Gustav Holmgren, 44, whose Chinese name is Ge Siwen, is the legal representative and site manager of ATM (Hulun Buir) Proving Ground Service, which provides cold-weather vehicle testing for carmakers. He is, perhaps, the only foreigner in the city. His company is located in Yakeshi, a small city with a population of...

- Iran war: Asia sees violence, fuel rationing, queues as energy crunch hits (2026-03-10 09:59)

The oil price spike caused by the war in the Middle East has sparked unrest in Bangladesh and exasperation at petrol pumps around Asia, where many economies are heavily dependent on fossil fuel imports. Even as governments move to limit the impact on fuel prices, queues have formed at petrol stations in countries including Vietnam, Pakistan and the Philippines, although the situation remains stable elsewhere. In Bangladesh – which imports 95 per cent of its oil and gas needs – the military has...

- Muhyiddin's corruption trial opens with a fight over TikTok in Malaysia (2026-03-10 09:49)

Former Malaysian prime minister Muhyiddin Yassin's corruption trial opened in Kuala Lumpur on Monday with a courtroom fight over the admissibility of TikTok videos, which prosecutors hope will link millions of ringgit in illicit funds to his Bersatu party. Among the most keenly observed cases involving Malaysia's political elite in years, the proceedings come three years after Muhyiddin was first charged in connection with projects under his administration's Covid-19 recovery efforts. Malaysian...

- Why the 'China threat' was barely mentioned in Germany's latest state election (2026-03-10 09:30)

Baden-Wuerttemberg stands on the front line of Germany's "China shock 2.0". A hub for carmakers including Mercedes-Benz, the region has faced a wave of job cuts over the past year as Chinese firms rapidly gain global market share. In the German media, some have warned the area risks becoming "Germany's Detroit". Yet despite the economic strain – and polls showing the economy was the top issue for local voters – China barely featured in campaigns during the run-up to Baden-Wuerttemberg's state...

- How China plans to project more power in Xinjiang and Tibet over the next 5 years (2026-03-10 09:10)

China plans to further strengthen its strategic transport network in sensitive border regions over the next five years to fortify and better project power along its remote frontiers amid rising geopolitical uncertainty. One project involves building a 394km (245-mile) highway linking the northern and southern sides of the rugged Tianshan Mountains in far-western Xinjiang Uygur autonomous region, according to the draft 15th five-year plan released last week. The route will run parallel to a...

- Chinese tech giants offer cheap, easy access to OpenClaw amid ‘lobster fever’ (2026-03-10 09:00)

Chinese technology firms, including internet giants Tencent Holdings, Alibaba Group Holding and ByteDance, are offering easy or inexpensive access to OpenClaw, the popular open-source AI agent software amid a “lobster fever” in the country. Tencent on Tuesday officially launched QClaw, an artificial intelligence assistant built on OpenClaw that can connect to the company’s super app WeChat. After download and installation on a computer that takes about three minutes, users can remotely control...

- China’s refocusing on social goals requires more than new metrics (2026-03-10 08:30)

This year’s government work report delivered by Premier Li Qiang marks a shift from the perennial fixation with growth towards a greater emphasis on effective strategic development, especially social and people-centred outcomes. The “two sessions” have convened against the backdrop of Washington’s military adventure overseas. In contrast to that overextended empire, China will prevail in the competition with the United States by putting its own house in order. Some of the most consequential...

- Malaysia had him on bail for child abuse. The US had other plans (2026-03-10 08:29)

A Bangladeshi man who spent over three years on bail in Malaysia fighting local child pornography charges has been spirited to Alaska by the FBI to face what prosecutors describe as one of the most prolific child exploitation cases in US history. Zobaidul Amin, 28, was brought from Malaysia to the United States last Wednesday and made his initial appearance in a federal court in Anchorage the following day, where he pleaded not guilty to all 13 counts, according to the US Department of Justice...

- Hong Kong policeman gets 16 months for extorting HK\$60,000 from rape case suspect (2026-03-10 07:54)

A Hong Kong police officer has been jailed for 16 months for extorting HK$60,000 (US$7,675) from a rape suspect he believed had been wrongly released by prosecutors. The District Court on Tuesday condemned Constable Ng Wai-fung for taking the law into his own hands while investigating a rape complaint lodged by a 16-year-old girl between January and April 2024. Defence lawyers said Ng, who pleaded guilty to misconduct in public office last month, was frustrated by the Department of Justice’s...

- HSBC, Hang Seng Bank phase out work-from-home flexibility for frontline staff in Hong Kong (2026-03-10 07:44)

HSBC Holdings and its subsidiary Hang Seng Bank are phasing out their remote-work flexibility as they tighten their post-pandemic policy in Hong Kong, requiring frontline employees to be in the office or meet clients five days a week. In an internal memo seen by the South China

Morning Post, HSBC, the city's largest bank, asked client-facing staff, including traders and salespeople, to follow the new rules from April 1. Sources said Hang Seng Bank would follow the same rules. Managing directors...

- Cathay extends flight suspension to Dubai, Riyadh until March 31 amid war (2026-03-10 07:28)

Hong Kong flag carrier Cathay Pacific Airways has extended the suspension of all flights to and from Dubai until the end of March amid the war in the Middle East. The airline announced on Tuesday that all services between Hong Kong and the commercial hub in the United Arab Emirates would be cancelled up to March 31. Flights travelling between the city and Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, will also be suspended until the end of the month. The move extends an earlier suspension that had been set to run until...

- ‘Terrible consequences’ : North Korea hits out over US-South Korea military exercises (2026-03-10 07:19)

The powerful sister of North Korean leader Kim Jong-un criticised the United States and South Korea for proceeding with their annual joint military exercises at a perilous moment for global security and warned that any challenge to the North's safety would bring “terrible consequences”. Kim Yo-jong's statement Tuesday came a day after the allies started their 11-day Freedom Shield exercise involving thousands of troops, while Washington also wages an escalating war in the Middle East. Without...

- CityU professor convicted of offering HK\$1,000 bribe to avoid tenancy payout (2026-03-10 07:04)

A Hong Kong court has convicted a professor of offering a HK$1,000 (US$128) bribe to a property agent in an attempt to avoid paying HK$16,000 in compensation for breaching a tenancy agreement more than three years ago. Sha Tin Court on Tuesday rejected mainland Chinese scholar Du Du's claim that he had only intended to reimburse the agent after backing out of a provisional tenancy agreement on the same day he signed it. In finding the 48-year-old guilty of offering an advantage to an agent, the...

- China summons Maersk, MSC on ‘shipping operations’ amid Panama saga, Iran war shock (2026-03-10 07:00)

China's Ministry of Transport has summoned two maritime giants – Maersk and Mediterranean Shipping Company (MSC) – for talks on “international shipping operations” amid legal disputes over the Panama Canal, a vital artery for global trade. No further details were provided in the one-sentence statement, which was posted on the ministry's website on Tuesday. But in China, government summons often serve as a warning and, if ignored, could lead to further action. The move came as mounting...

- War in the Middle East: nearly 500 dead in Lebanon from Israeli offensive against Hezbollah (2026-03-10 06:22)

Escalating hostilities have forced nearly 700,000 people to flee their homes in Lebanon over the past week, a UN agency said on Monday, as the war between Israel and the Iran-backed Lebanese group Hezbollah entered a second week. Lebanon has been pulled deep into the war in the Middle East since Hezbollah opened fire to avenge the killing of Iran's supreme leader, igniting an Israeli offensive which has killed nearly 500 people in Lebanon, according to Lebanese authorities, with the death toll...

- Why has the US-Israeli war on Iran left Brics speechless? (2026-03-10 06:03)

China condemned it. Russia condemned it. Brazil condemned it. Brics, as a bloc, has said nothing. More than a week after US and Israeli strikes killed Iran's Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei and triggered the worst regional crisis in years, the grouping that positions itself as the collective voice of the Global South has yet to issue a single joint statement. The silence is not an oversight. It is the sound of a bloc whose expansion has outpaced its ability to speak as one, analysts...

- China's 2030 moon landing: scientists suggest a site that has long been on Nasa's radar (2026-03-10 06:00)

Scientists in China and Germany have identified four possible landing sites for China's first crewed mission to the moon in an area that has also been of interest to Nasa. The Rimae Bode region on the lunar nearside is favoured for its diverse geological samples, including volcanic debris, for studying lunar volcanism and its relatively flat ground for safe astronaut access.

"Rimae Bode lies in an easily accessible, low-latitude, nearside location with generally flat, traversable terrain," they...

- China woman discovers uncle faked marriage with her late mother to inherit properties (2026-03-10 06:00)

A Chinese woman has revealed online that her mother was married to her younger brother posthumously, who then embezzled her properties as her widower. The 27-year-old woman from central China's Henan province, surnamed Sun, lost her mother Zhao Fang to illness at the age of nine, in 2008. Since her parents were divorced and she had been living with her mother, Sun was adopted by her mother's younger sister. She said her relatives notarised her mother's assets around the time of her death. The...

- Chinese embassy warns nationals in UK of scammers posing as Hong Kong ICAC staff (2026-03-10 05:42)

The Chinese embassy in the United Kingdom has warned its citizens in the country to beware of scams involving fraudsters posing as staff from Hong Kong's anti-corruption watchdog. In a statement on Monday, the embassy said criminals had recently posed as staff of the city's Independent Commission Against Corruption (ICAC) to carry out telecommunications fraud. The criminals falsely accused victims of offences such as money laundering, pressuring them to cooperate in a bogus “investigation” and...

- Hong Kong monitors fuel prices as Iran war sparks ‘premature and unfair’ hikes (2026-03-10 05:13)

Authorities are communicating with local oil companies to monitor how the war in the Middle East is affecting Hong Kong’s fuel market, amid a public backlash over what has been called premature price hikes. Responding to a South China Morning Post inquiry on Tuesday, the Environment and Ecology Bureau also said the government had been urging oil companies to provide more data on auto-fuel prices. “In light of the ongoing geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, the government has been in touch...

- Casualty figures across the Middle East as Iran war enters second week (2026-03-10 05:09)

Since the US and Israel unleashed strikes on Iran on February 28, war has spread across the region and casualties have been reported in countries across the Middle East. Due to reporting restrictions, Agence France-Presse has not been able to independently verify all of the following tolls. The figures are based on numbers released by governments, militaries, health authorities and rescue organisations in the affected countries. Iran Iran’s health ministry said on Monday that more than 1,200...

- Hong Kong Airlines to raise fuel surcharges by up to 35% amid oil price surge (2026-03-10 04:35)

Hong Kong Airlines will raise its fuel surcharges by up to 35.2 per cent from Thursday amid soaring oil prices driven by escalating conflict in the Middle East, becoming the first local carrier to do so. The airline announced on its website on Tuesday that fuel surcharges for tickets issued on or after March 12 would be increased. Travellers on flights between Hong Kong and the Maldives, Bangladesh and Nepal will face the sharpest increases, with charges rising 35.2 per cent from HK$284 (US$36)...

- Explosive drones have killed hundreds in Haiti, including civilians: report (2026-03-10 04:33)

Explosive drone strikes by Haitian security forces targeting gangs have killed over 1,200 people, including 43 adult civilians and 17 children, Human Rights Watch said in a report on Tuesday, adding that operations have ramped up in recent months. Since last March, Haitian security forces, with support from Vectus Global, have carried out anti-gang operations using quadcopter drones strapped with explosives, often in densely populated parts of the capital Port-au-Prince. Vectus Global is a...

- Mistaken for drunks, left to die: Thailand’s police have a deadly blind spot (2026-03-10 04:23)

Warissara* survived the crash. It was the next four hours that killed her. The 21-year-old had been riding home from her restaurant job on the night of February 20 last year, caught in heavy rain on a slick Bangkok road, when she came off her motorbike. Emergency responders who arrived at the scene found only a few visible scratches – and detected the smell of alcohol. She had no identification on her. The call was made: send her to the police station, not the hospital. She arrived at...

- Philippines budget deficit hits record US\$26.5 billion as corruption probe bites (2026-03-10 04:00)

An investigation into allegedly corrupt flood-control projects worth billions of pesos is beginning to ripple through the Philippines' public finances, slowing infrastructure spending and adding uncertainty to the government's investment-driven growth strategy. The budget deficit widened 4.68 per cent to 1.58 trillion pesos (US$26.5 billion) in 2025, Treasury Bureau data showed, surpassing 2024's record of 1.51 trillion pesos. Despite slowing disbursements amid tighter scrutiny of public works...

- US\$17 billion question: why China and South Africa are so far apart on trade data (2026-03-10 04:00)

Whenever South African officials meet their Chinese counterparts to talk trade, the issue of the imbalance in China's favour is almost certainly raised. But a discrepancy in the data from the two sides makes it hard to assess the trade gap. The latest Chinese customs data suggests that South Africa actually holds a surplus – exporting more to the world's second-largest economy than it receives in return. According to the numbers from Beijing, China recorded US$30.58 billion in imports from South...

- E-payments to attract more riders, cut fare disputes: Hong Kong taxi industry (2026-03-10 03:46)

Mandatory e-payment in Hong Kong taxis could attract more residents and visitors to use the service, as about 90 per cent of drivers are ready to meet the requirement ahead of its implementation next month, an industry representative has said. Ryan Wong Cheuk-pong, chairman of the Hong Kong Taxi Council, said on Tuesday that drivers could also benefit from e-payments by reducing disputes over fares and no longer worrying about a lack of change. "E-payments have become a trend and many residents...

- Trump's Gaza plan 'on hold' as Iran war halts disarmament talks (2026-03-10 03:33)

Talks to advance US President Donald Trump's plan to end the Gaza war have been on hold since last week when the US and Israel jointly attacked Iran, sparking a broader Middle East war, three sources with direct knowledge of the negotiations said. The pause threatens to stall implementation of Trump's flagship Middle East peace initiative, which he has cast as a major foreign policy objective. It comes less than a month after he secured billions of dollars in pledges for Gaza from Gulf Arab...

- Trade boom: China's exports surge 21.8% in first 2 months of year (2026-03-10 03:11)

China's export growth accelerated sharply in the first two months of this year, defying last year's high base while experts pointed to the likelihood of strong momentum for the rest of the year. Exports jumped 21.8 per cent from a year earlier to US$656.58 billion in the combined figures for January and February released by customs authorities on Tuesday. This represented a significant acceleration from the 6.6 per cent growth recorded in December and the 5.5 per cent rise recorded for all of...

- Wealth, drugs and rape: US luxury real estate stars convicted of sex trafficking (2026-03-10 02:23)

Three brothers, including two of America's most successful luxury real estate brokers, were convicted of sex trafficking charges on Monday after a five-week trial over accusations that they used drugs and force to rape scores of women they had dazzled with their wealth and opulent lifestyle. The verdict came after 11 women testified they were sexually assaulted by one or more of the brothers: twins Oren and Alon Alexander, 38, and Tal Alexander, 39. All three of the men shook their heads as the...

- Could foreign judges give China's legal system the expertise to go global? (2026-03-10 02:00)

China should bring in judges from overseas and expand arbitration pilot programmes to extend the international reach of its legal system, according to a former senior justice official. Xiong Xuanguo, who was vice-minister of justice from 2016 to 2023, said China's legal system was not integrated with others around the world, making it difficult for the country to enforce its court judgments abroad. To tackle the problem, China should train its arbitrators to meet global standards and also hire...

- Why China's economic reset is a credibility test for Hong Kong (2026-03-10 01:30)

China's annual parliamentary "two sessions" have been framed as a show of resilience in a turbulent world. That framing is not wrong but it is incomplete. Beijing's deliberately lower 2026 economic growth target is less an admission of weakness than a signal that the growth playbook is being rewritten. For Hong Kong, this is not background noise. It is a test of whether policy alignment can be converted into institutional credibility. When Premier Li Qiang delivered the government work report...

- Australia to send missiles to UAE, deploy reconnaissance plane, but no troops (2026-03-10 01:15)

Australia will deploy a military surveillance aircraft to the Middle East and send missiles to the United Arab Emirates but will not put troops on the ground in Iran, Prime Minister Anthony Albanese said on Tuesday. Australia's military support would help the Gulf countries defend themselves against unprovoked attacks from Iran, Albanese said, stressing Australia was "not a protagonist” . “Our involvement is purely defensive,” Albanese told reporters. “And it’ sin defence of Australians who...

- China ‘996’ work culture dates back 2,200 years, shows work-life balance struggles through the ages (2026-03-10 01:00)

In modern China, the so-called 996 work culture, working six days a week from 9am to 9pm, has become a major point of contention. While some advocate for the gruelling schedule as a fast track to success, others decry it as “modern slavery” , pointing to cases where excessive work hours have led to severe health problems or even death. The debate was first ignited in 2019, when an anonymous protest on GitHub, a global developer platform owned by Microsoft, drew attention to how the 996 culture...

- Hong Kong tipped to be world’ s top financial centre amid global yuan expansion plan (2026-03-10 00:30)

Hong Kong could emerge as the world’ s leading financial centre as the central government pushes to internationalise the yuan – a move that will advance the nation’ s development under the 15th five-year plan while also driving the city’ s own growth, a National People’ s Congress (NPC) deputy has said. Li Yinquan said the city stood to benefit from increased capital as the yuan became more internationalised, since most global renminbi reserves and transaction volumes would naturally be held in Hong...

- Singapore property clan puts rare Hong Kong estate up for US\$38.4 million tender (2026-03-10 00:30)

A Singapore-rooted property family has put a rare residential estate in Hong Kong’ s Southern district up for tender at about HK$300 million (US$38.4 million), testing demand for trophy homes as the city’ s luxury housing market shows early signs of recovery despite soft prices. The tender for Belvedere, a low-density compound in Chung Hom Kok, would close at noon on April 28, according to marketing agent JLL. The property had been held by Remadour Estate since 1993, Land Registry records...

- South Korea enacts historic fuel price cap to fight Iran oil shock (2026-03-10 00:00)

For the first time in over three decades, South Korea is doing something it hoped it would never do again: telling the market what it can charge for fuel. President Lee Jae Myung’ s order is more than a mere policy reversal, however. For a country that imports nearly every barrel it consumes, it is an act of pre-emptive self-defence – the reflex of an economy watching the Middle East burn and knowing exactly what that means. Fuel prices have already surpassed 1,900 won (US$1.28) per litre at some...

- China’ s financial superpower ambitions get legal backing at ‘two sessions’ (2026-03-10 00:00)

China will develop a new financial law and a dedicated financial stability law this year, as Beijing works to defuse risks and prevent new ones as part of its ambition to become a financial superpower. In its work report delivered on Monday, the National People's Congress Standing Committee, the country's top legislative body, said it would also amend existing laws, including the People's Bank of China Law and the Banking Supervision and Management Law. The work report outlined a broad...

- TikTok gets green light to stay in Canada, reversing earlier ban (2026-03-09 23:31)

Canada will allow TikTok to continue operating in the country, a complete reversal after the government had previously ordered the social media company to close its Canadian division for security reasons. In November 2024, under former prime minister Justin Trudeau, Canada ordered ByteDance, TikTok's Chinese owner, to wind down its Canadian subsidiary. That would not have banned the app's use but would have forced its offices in Toronto and Vancouver to close. But in January, that order was set...

- China investors energise Hong Kong biotech stocks. Is foreign money missing out? (2026-03-09 23:30)

Mainland Chinese investors can now buy shares in more than a dozen newly added Hong Kong-listed biotech and pharmaceutical companies after a reshuffle of the Stock Connect southbound trading list took effect on Monday, reflecting the sector's growing role on the international stage. Foreign capital, however, remained cautious, analysts said. "Mainland buyers have been the main force behind the latest healthcare rally. They tend to chase smaller-cap names where a tight free float makes it easier..."

- China's chip bosses endorse semiconductor push in next 5-year plan (2026-03-09 23:00)

China's semiconductor entrepreneurs – including artificial intelligence chipmaker Cambricon Technologies and testing-and-packaging leader Tongfu Microelectronics – have voiced support for the country's 15th five-year plan, which places renewed emphasis on the chip industry as a cornerstone of Beijing's technology ambitions. "National policy direction and planning are very well designed," said Chen Tianshi, founder and CEO of Beijing-based Cambricon. Speaking on the sidelines of the opening of...

- Hong Kong Legco to explore mainland-style oversight system for bills enforcement (2026-03-09 23:00)

Hong Kong's legislature will consider establishing a dedicated mechanism to scrutinise the implementation of approved bills and funding, drawing inspiration from mainland China's law enforcement inspection system, according to its president. Legislative Council president Starry Lee Wai-king also dismissed concerns that the city's first five-year plan would undermine the "one country, two systems" governing principle, emphasising the blueprint would be consistent with the capitalist system and...

- US to counter China’ s critical minerals dominance with ‘game-changing’ innovations (2026-03-09 22:29)

Potential US innovation in recycling electronic waste, combined with refining and processing, will allow the US to leapfrog China in critical minerals, an official at the Department of Energy said on Monday amid Washington’ s aggressive attempts to counter China’ s dominance in the industry. Recycling metals, materials and magnets within the US is one of the fastest ways the country can impact the critical minerals supply chain, and entrepreneurs across the US are “pioneering” new techniques that...

- Economic Security 101: why China’ s officials now have to study rare earths and supply chains (2026-03-09 22:00)

In his decades toiling as a health official in a coastal Chinese province, Alan Chen has rarely had to study a subject about which he knew so little. “Nd is Neodymium. It is needed for almost all modern EV motors. China dominates the refining of Nd oxide. Dy is Dysprosium. It is needed for magnets to operate at high temperatures and is also essential for EV motors.” This was the kind of content Chen pored over in a training course he attended at the Central Party School, the Communist Party’ s...

- AI is forcing journalism to rediscover what the profession actually does (2026-03-09 21:30)

Around the world, news organisations are racing to create rules for artificial intelligence. Editors debate whether reporters may use AI to draft text, summarise documents or help in research. Some outlets promise readers they will disclose when a machine helps write an article. Others hope credibility will come from avoiding AI altogether. But this debate begins with a mistaken assumption: that journalism earns trust because journalists physically write the sentences themselves. That has never...

- Trump holds phone call with Putin to discuss ‘quick’ ending to Iran war (2026-03-09 20:21)

US President Donald Trump reiterated on Monday that his country’ s objectives in Iran are nearly complete and suggested the conflict could be nearing an end, on the same day he discussed the war with Russian President Vladimir Putin. Speaking at a news conference in Florida, Trump claimed the US was “achieving major strides towards completing our military objective” , adding that “some people could say they’ re pretty well complete” . Trump said they are committed to keeping safe passage through the...

- China-US trade relations may reach a ‘tactical truce’ , slowing down economic decoupling (2026-03-09 20:00)

Companies in southern China are feeling growing confidence in the state of US-China relations and are reinvesting cautiously in the country, according to a survey by a US business lobby group. The American Chamber of Commerce in South China (AmCham South China) – a mix of foreign and domestic firms – generally expects bilateral ties to stabilise in the year ahead, but is also adapting to geopolitical friction as China shifts from assembling Western goods to supplying industrial parts to emerging...

- US teacher dies after students' toilet paper prank goes wrong (2026-03-09 19:34)

It was a prank that turned deadly, authorities said: a group of teenagers unspooled rolls of toilet paper outside the home of a beloved high school teacher who tripped in the street and was struck by a pickup truck as the pranksters started to drive away. The 40-year-old teacher, Jason Hughes, died after being brought to a hospital late Friday, the Hall County Sheriff's Office said. The 18-year-old driver of the pickup was arrested on a felony charge of vehicular homicide, and four other teens...

- Ships brandish China links to evade Iran's attacks in Strait of Hormuz (2026-03-09 17:52)

Ships anchored in the Gulf or transiting the Strait of Hormuz are changing their tracking data to boast links to China in an attempt to evade Iranian attacks, according to data from shipping tracker Marine Traffic analysed by Agence France-Presse. Iran has effectively closed the vital waterway since US-Israeli strikes on it began on February 28, and at least 10 vessels have been attacked since. But by claiming to have an "all-Chinese crew" aboard, or changing their destination to "Chinese..."

- US, China clash over fentanyl, tariffs at global drugs meeting ahead of Trump-Xi summit (2026-03-09 17:00)

The United States and China traded barbs at a UN drugs meeting on Monday, with Washington accusing Beijing of failing to stop sales of precursor chemicals for fentanyl and China dismissing the allegation as false while calling the US irresponsible. The exchange, delivered in separate statements at the UN's annual Commission on Narcotic Drugs meeting in Vienna, underscored tensions between the two countries over illicit drugs and tariffs, with their leaders due to meet in China at the end of...

- Anthropic sues Trump administration as row over AI use by military deepens (2026-03-09 16:36)

Anthropic on Monday filed a lawsuit to block the Pentagon from placing it on a national security blacklist, escalating the artificial intelligence lab's high-stakes battle with the US military over usage restrictions on its technology. Anthropic said in its lawsuit that the designation was unlawful and violated its free speech and due process rights. The filing in federal court in California asked a judge to undo the designation and block federal agencies from enforcing it. "These actions are..."

- Hong Kong urged to extend stock trading hours to keep up with rivals (2026-03-09 15:53)

Hong Kong has been urged to extend its stock trading hours to maintain its status as an international financial hub, as competitors move towards near 24-hour operations to capture global liquidity. Speaking at the "Redefining Hong Kong 2026 Budget Edition" forum organised by the South China Morning Post on Monday, Kenny Shui Chi-wai, vice-president of the Our Hong Kong Foundation, said the city should consider lengthening the stockmarket's trading hours, which rivals were already...

- China can't buy Elon Musk's theory on space-based AI centres: experts (2026-03-09 15:30)

China should not follow SpaceX in launching artificial intelligence data centres into orbit, but instead focus on more practical near-term space-based computing, a senior researcher has said. Gao Wen, a computer scientist at Peking University and a member of the Chinese Academy of Engineering, said on Thursday that electricity demand was not a major bottleneck for AI data centres in China, meaning there was little reason to move them into space. In a Sina News interview during the annual “two...

- Scotland vape shop blaze closes Glasgow railway station, nation's busiest (2026-03-09 15:24)

A major fire in the heart of Glasgow crippled Scottish train services on Monday as firefighters worked to douse the blaze that destroyed a four-storey building next to Scotland's busiest railway station. Glasgow Central Station was closed and all travel to, from and through the station was expected to be disrupted, according to rail operators. It was not clear when the station would reopen, but it was expected to remain closed for a further day on Tuesday. The fire broke out Sunday afternoon in...

- China vows to stabilise oil and gas output in new 5-year plan as global risks mount (2026-03-09 14:30)

Against the backdrop of oil prices surging past US$100 per barrel for the first time since the onset of the Russia-Ukraine war in 2022, China has its sights set on strengthening energy security by stabilising domestic crude production and strategic backups – exemplified by coal-to-oil and gas projects – for the next few years. The nation pledges to maintain annual crude production at 200 million tonnes, ensure a steady rise in natural gas output, and bolster technical readiness for coal-derived...

- Northern Ireland's Gerry Adams in UK court for trial over IRA bombings (2026-03-09 14:29)

Former Sinn Féin president Gerry Adams appeared at London's High Court on Monday for a civil lawsuit which aims to hold him liable for Irish Republican Army bombings in Britain, a case which could affect the prominent republican leader's legacy. Adams became Sinn Féin leader in 1983 when it was the IRA's political wing, establishing himself as the face of the movement seeking to end British rule in Northern Ireland. He later reinvented himself as a peacemaker after helping secure the 1998 Good...

- Hong Kong couple' s HK\$50,000 exit from Dubai after 'biggest blunder' amid Iran war (2026-03-09 14:27)

As hundreds of Hongkongers stranded in the Middle East scramble for air tickets home with the US-Israel war on Iran entering its 10th day, a local couple spent nearly HK$50,000 (US$6,395) on a direct flight back after repeated failed booking attempts and a cancellation blunder caused by mental exhaustion. Yen Kwok, 35, a construction consultant, began a trip to Dubai with round-trip tickets on the carrier Emirates, from February 20 to March 1, with her husband. But like many other travellers,...

- China' s CATL profit surges 42% as global market share soars to all-time high (2026-03-09 14:01)

Contemporary Amperex Technology Ltd (CATL) reported a 42 per cent jump in net profit last year to 72.2 billion yuan (US$10.4 billion) on strong battery sales and an expansion into new energy storage scenarios. The Chinese battery giant' s sales volume of lithium-ion batteries – a key component for electric vehicles (EVs) – reached 661 gigawatt hours (GWh), up 39 per cent from the previous year, according to a filing released on the Shenzhen Stock Exchange on Monday night. China' s EV industry...

- Nato intercepts Iran missile fired towards Turkey (2026-03-09 13:47)

The North Atlantic Treaty Organisation intercepted a ballistic missile fired from Iran towards Turkey on Monday, according to a statement by the Defence Ministry, raising the risk that the military alliance could be drawn more directly into the conflict in the Middle East. It follows a similar interception on March 4, after which Nato said it strengthened its missile-defence posture in the region. Debris from the munition landed in Gaziantep province in southern Turkey, around 150km (93 miles)...

- China eyes cross-border corruption law. Will it blunt the 'long arm' of the West? (2026-03-09 13:30)

China will enact a law to combat cross-border corruption this year, according to the top legislature' s work report released on Monday – a move aimed at preventing corruption by companies overseas, which some experts said could shield them from foreign “long-arm jurisdiction” . The work report, submitted by the National People' s Congress (NPC) Standing Committee to the fourth session of the 14th NPC for deliberation, provided no details or specific timeline for the legislation. The law is expected...

- Chinese local governments offer OpenClaw project subsidies as security questions linger (2026-03-09 13:30)

Some local governments in China have rushed to support the adoption of OpenClaw, the artificial intelligence agent sweeping the country, even as warnings about privacy and security risks linger in the background. In Shenzhen, China' s southern tech hub, the AI and robotics agency of Longgang district published a draft on Saturday proposing sweeping measures, including subsidies of up to 2 million yuan (US$290,000) for approved projects. The initiative came a day after nearly a thousand people...

- Proposed 33% rise in MPF payments ‘may pile on business pressure, hit jobs’
(2026-03-09 12:39)

Proposals by Hong Kong’s pension regulator to increase Mandatory Provident Fund (MPF) contributions for higher-paid workers by up to 33 per cent could worsen business challenges and hurt the jobs market, a lawmaker and human resources expert have warned. A labour representative, however, urged the Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Authority (MPFA) to pursue even bolder increases to meet statutory requirements and reflect rising salaries. The MPFA had announced that it was reviewing the maximum...

- Hong Kong wetland records 40 times more petroleum after oil spill: Greenpeace
(2026-03-09 12:30)

A protected Hong Kong wetland on southern Lantau Island has recorded a high concentration of petroleum following an oil spill in September, with levels up to 40 times higher than those in unaffected areas, according to an environmental group’s study. Greenpeace in Hong Kong said the high concentration could threaten local ecology. It urged authorities to investigate the oil spill and include unprotected sites with high ecological value in the priority conservation projects under the Biodiversity...

- What crises in Iran, Panama, Venezuela and Greenland have in common (2026-03-09 12:30)

Over the past 12 months, a series of political and military crises has erupted in different parts of the world. Do they have anything in common? On the surface, the dramas in Iran, Panama, Venezuela and Greenland look separate, each with its own cast, excuse and headlines. What links them is not ideology, or the public language used to sell each move. It is the map. Iran sits beside the Strait of Hormuz, the choke point for Gulf energy flows. Panama sits astride one of the world’s trade...

- Immigration Department worker who repeatedly assaulted wife, son spared jail
(2026-03-09 12:06)

A Hong Kong Immigration Department senior assistant who repeatedly grabbed his wife and young son by their throats during disputes has been ordered to perform 200 hours of community service, with the magistrate telling the defendant he had already received significant leniency while pleading for probation. Kowloon City Court on Monday sentenced the 49-year-old defendant, identified in court as “ATK”, after he earlier admitted six counts of common assault. While the defence had pleaded for...

- Trump’s China visit limited to Beijing due to tight schedule and security needs: sources
(2026-03-09 12:00)

US President Donald Trump will not go to any cities beyond Beijing during his visit to China scheduled for late this month because of his tight schedule and security concerns, according to sources familiar with the matter. Several sources, who declined to be named due to the sensitivity of the matter, said United States “advance parties” arrived in China’s capital in “early March” and their preparations for the high-stakes summit had entered the “final stage”. The South China Morning Post has...

- G7 to discuss possible emergency release of oil reserves, says France’s Macron
(2026-03-09 11:24)

French President Emmanuel Macron said on Monday the G7 will discuss a possible release of strategic oil reserves, as finance ministers of the world’s leading industrialised nations prepared to meet for crisis talks on the Middle East war. Macron, whose country holds the rotating presidency of the Group of Seven advanced economies, said that “the use of strategic reserves is an option being considered”. A possible meeting of G7 heads of state and government could take place this week, Macron told...

- North Korea cancels Pyongyang marathon weeks before race, with no reason given (2026-03-09 11:18)

North Korea had abruptly cancelled the 2026 Pyongyang International Marathon less than a month before the race, its international partner said on Monday, raising fresh questions about the country’s cautious approach to reopening to foreign visitors. Beijing-based Koryo Tours, which specialises in tours to the country, said it had received notice of the cancellation from the North Korean race organiser. “This decision was communicated to us by the DPR Korea Athletics Association and has been...

- China’s top court says it treats AI cases with care without stifling growth or innovation
(2026-03-09 11:12)

China’s highest court says that while it handles AI-related cases with care it has allowed room for the country’s artificial intelligence industry to innovate and make mistakes, according to its annual report. President of China’s supreme court, Zhang Jun, stated in Monday’s work report to the National People’s Congress (NPC), China’s top legislative body, that the Supreme People’s Court had “promoted the orderly development of artificial intelligence” last year. China’s courts “properly...

- China’s chip industry seeks more state support for AI dominance (2026-03-09 11:00)

Representatives of China’s semiconductor industry are calling for stronger state backing in artificial intelligence chips and critical materials, aiming to fast-track core technology breakthroughs. During last week’s “two sessions” – the annual meetings of China’s top legislature and advisory body – scholars and entrepreneurs in the semiconductor sector urged Beijing to leverage the nation’s advantage in strategic chip raw materials and accelerate the commercial application of AI chips to secure...

- Concern for Iran women's football team rises in Australia amid war (2026-03-09 10:08)

Global players' union FIFPRO said on Monday there were serious concerns for the welfare of the Iranian women's soccer team, as they prepared to leave Australia and return home after being labelled "wartime traitors" for refusing to sing their national anthem before an Asian Cup match. The Iranians' campaign in the Australian-hosted tournament started last weekend just as the US and Israel launched air strikes on Iran, killing the Islamic Republic's Supreme Leader Ali Khamenei. The team was...

- India's 30-day Russian oil waiver tied to US crude demands (2026-03-09 10:00)

India received some welcome news last week about its energy supply: it had been granted permission, by the United States, to take delivery of oil it had already bought. The tankers were already at sea – Russian crude, loaded and paid for, stranded in limbo by the disruptions sweeping out of the war on Iran. They needed a waiver, which US Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent announced on Thursday: a 30-day exemption allowing Indian refiners to receive the cargoes before American sanctions...

- Ancient Chinese women used crude contraceptives – from eating tadpoles to ingesting mercury (2026-03-09 10:00)

In ancient China, patriarchal and feudal norms limited women's control over reproduction, forcing many to endure risky contraceptive methods. According to the Classic of Mountains and Seas, one of the earliest known contraceptives in China was a herb called Gurong. Its taste was extremely bitter, its leaves resembled orchids and its roots were similar to those of the balloon flower. During the pre-Qin period (2100–221), people believed that consuming Gurong, a plant that only bloomed but did not...

- Hong Kong woman faces 2019 protest charges after returning from Australia (2026-03-09 09:58)

A Hong Kong woman who returned from Australia has been charged with carrying two laser pointers and three bottles of spray paint for illegal purposes during the 2019 anti-government protests. Ami Chan Hui-ching, 21, was escorted to Eastern Court on Monday to face charges of possessing an offensive weapon in a public place and possessing an article with intent to destroy or damage property. Chan, who reportedly works as a cashier at a casino, was intercepted on a section of Oil Street between...

- In Malaysia, Anwar's reformist image at risk as Daim family sues over 'Zionist' claims (2026-03-09 09:29)

Malaysian Prime Minister Anwar Ibrahim is facing a fresh political test after the family of late former finance minister Daim Zainuddin sued his government over claims they were involved in a plot to topple the administration. The legal challenge is turning what began as a police investigation into a wider debate over whether Anwar's reformist government is applying its principles consistently or selectively. Critics say the controversy risks complicating one of Anwar's central claims since...

- Get realpolitik? Von der Leyen questions Europe's faith in rules-based order (2026-03-09 09:27)

The EU must decide whether the rules-based international order “is more a help or a hindrance to our credibility as a geopolitical actor”, the bloc's top official said on Monday, in the strongest sign yet that it might break from decades of rigid adherence to global norms. In a speech to the European Union's ambassadors, European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen used her most forceful rhetoric to date to call time on the old system, urging the diplomats to quickly update their thinking...

- 5 die in Indonesia as rubbish mound collapses at largest landfill, several missing (2026-03-09 09:23)

A massive avalanche of garbage at Indonesia's largest landfill site killed at least five people and left several others missing after heavy overnight rain triggered a rubbish dump collapse, officials said Monday. More than 300 search-and-rescue personnel, using heavy machinery and sniffer dogs, were deployed to the sprawling dump site late on Sunday at the Bantargebang Integrated Waste Treatment Facility in Bekasi, a city just outside the capital of Jakarta. Rescuers worked cautiously amid...

- China extols Myanmar gang executions, pledging to protect citizens abroad (2026-03-09 09:17)

Beijing has hailed as a success the sentencing and execution of leaders of a Myanmar crime syndicate, vowing to punish all who harm the rights of Chinese citizens overseas. During a plenary meeting of the National People's Congress (NPC) on Monday, Zhang Jun, president of the Supreme People's Court, said in a report that Chinese courts closed 41,000 criminal cases related to telecoms and online fraud last year, up 1.2 per cent from 2024. “Sixteen principal criminals of the ‘four families’ crime...

- China's Wang sees ‘landmark year’ in US relations (2026-03-09 09:00)

Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi said 2026 could be a “landmark year” in relations with the United States, allaying concerns that the war in Iran might derail ties and an expected visit by US President Donald Trump. “I believe that when the two sides treat each other with sincerity and good faith, we will be able to lengthen the list of cooperation, and shorten the list of problems,” Wang told reporters in Beijing on Sunday. The countries could “produce results that are satisfactory to both...

- Hong Kong lawmaker Judy Chan fined HK\$2,000 for driving against traffic (2026-03-09 08:45)

A Hong Kong lawmaker has been fined HK$2,000 (US$256) for driving on the wrong side of a road in Wan Chai earlier this year. Eastern Court on Monday also suspended Judy Chan Kapui, 45, from driving for one month after she pleaded guilty to a count of careless driving. “I deeply regret that my careless driving affected other road users,” Chan told presiding magistrate David Ko Wai-hung, adding that she had stopped driving and would accept any legal consequences. Ko noted the defendant was issued...

- Hong Kong police recover credit card amid theft fears at fire-hit Tai Po estate (2026-03-09 08:37)

Hong Kong police have recovered a credit card suspected of misuse from a sealed flat damaged in the deadly Tai Po blaze, as residents voiced growing concerns about the safety of their properties following a recent burglary. The latest development came days after the force arrested three construction workers on suspicion of stealing gold jewellery worth HK$90,000 (US$11,500) from a flat at Wang Fuk Court, where they had been carrying out structural reinforcement work following November’s inferno,...

- A heatwave is coming to Southeast Asia. So is an energy shock (2026-03-09 08:22)

Southeast Asia is set to see a warmer-than-usual early summer, potentially raising power demand for fuel and straining grids at a time when the Middle East conflict has tightened energy supplies in the region. Across most of maritime and mainland Southeast Asia, home to more than half a billion people, temperatures will be above average for the March-April-May period, according to the latest seasonal outlook published by the Asean Specialised Meteorological Centre (ASMC) on Friday. The forecast...

- Video shows apparent US strike as Trump blames Iran for school massacre (2026-03-09 08:06)

New video from Iranian state media shows a missile slamming into a compound in southern Iran, as evidence mounted that the US military was most likely responsible for the February 28 attack on a girls’ school that left more than 160 dead, mostly children. The footage, published Sunday by the Mehr News Agency, was titled “The moment when Israeli and American terrorists struck #Minab school”. Video shows a munition consistent with a Tomahawk cruise missile striking an area as black smoke rose from...

- More gas from Russia? China flags new pipeline links amid Iran energy crisis (2026-03-09 08:01)

China has included two pipelines transporting natural gas from Russia in the draft of its new five-year plan, raising market debate on whether the Power of Siberia 2 – a closely watched project viewed as symbolic of bilateral relations – could be on the fast track for construction. Along with language on two other pipelines, the draft said China would “advance preparatory work for the central route of the China-Russia natural gas pipeline” in the next five years, which some market observers...

- Hong Kong ‘more than China’ s financial testing ground’ , Paul Chan says (2026-03-09 07:22)

Hong Kong is not merely China’ s testing ground but also a key driver of the country’ s development, the finance chief has said, underscoring the city’ s role as the nation’ s international financial centre. Financial Secretary Paul Chan Mo-po also said on Monday that Hong Kong must move swiftly to embrace artificial intelligence (AI) and “get empowered” in its use, as the opportunities it brought outweighed potential job losses. Speaking at the “Redefining Hong Kong 2026: Budget Edition” conference...

- Taiwan tensions No 1 in Beijing’ s top 10 geopolitical risks of 2026: think tank (2026-03-09 07:14)

Escalating tensions in the Taiwan Strait remain Beijing’ s foremost external security concern for 2026, fuelled by uncertainties surrounding the US midterm elections and the growing involvement of Japan, according to a prominent Chinese think tank. In its latest annual forecast of China’ s external security risks, the Centre for International Security and Strategy (CISS) at Tsinghua University framed this year as a pivotal moment in the profound reshaping of China’ s outer defence...

Adrian Cheng Chi-kong, former heir apparent to Hong Kong property giant New World Development (NWD), plans to spend more time in mainland China and increase his tech investments this year, with a focus on a range of sectors from artificial intelligence to aerospace, echoing China’ s latest five-year plan. “If our country can realise [the 15th five-year plan], we would be stable and secure, and our future will definitely be promising,” Cheng, who is a member of the Chinese People’ s Political...

- The Philippines says its communist rebels are defeated – but are they? (2026-03-09 06:00)

The mountains of the Philippines are quieter now. The jungle bases that once sustained Asia’ s longest-running communist insurgency are mostly emptied out. Its tens of thousands of guerrilla fighters have been reduced, by the military’ s account, to something “very, very negligible” . After 56 years, the Philippine military thinks the fight is almost over – and that conviction is transforming the armed forces from the inside out. Commanders are overhauling training and strategy, moving away from...

- China ‘city of humour’ is only place in nation with safety road signs warning drivers against joking (2026-03-09 06:00)

The northern Chinese city of Tianjin is the only place in the country that has road signs warning drivers not to make jokes while driving for their safety. The sign features a cartoon of a driver and a passenger cracking jokes, with a slogan that says “Making jokes while driving is a safety hazard” . It went viral after several tourists spotted it and posted it online, and came as a shock to both travellers and locals. “It is true that only Tianjin needs a sign like this,” said one tourist. A...

- Former Apple Daily executive editor appeals 10-year sentence in Hong Kong (2026-03-09 05:51)

The former executive editor-in-chief of Hong Kong’s defunct Apple Daily newspaper, founded by Jimmy Lai Chee-ying, has lodged an appeal against his 10-year sentence imposed under the national security law. Lam Man-chung’s lawyer filed the application at the Court of Appeal on Friday, ahead of the statutory 28-day deadline for criminal appeals expiring on Monday. The 56-year-old is the second defendant to seek a reduced sentence after Fung Wai-kong, 62, managing editor of Apple Daily’s English...

- Surcharges considered as Hong Kong fuel prices set to rise amid Iran war (2026-03-09 05:39)

Hong Kong’s transport sector is considering a temporary fuel surcharge for deliveries as pump prices are expected to climb further this week amid rising Middle East tensions, industry representatives have said. Ringo Lee Yiu-pui, governor and honorary life president of the Hong Kong, China Automobile Association, said on Monday that fuel prices in the city had been climbing even though petrol retailers were still selling inventories bought before the US-Israeli strikes on Iran, which drove up...

- Where things stand after another weekend of war in the Middle East (2026-03-09 05:39)

Iran has named a son of its late supreme leader as his successor. US President Donald Trump already had expressed disdain for Mojtaba Khamenei, calling him “unacceptable” . The Islamic Republic’s war strategy now has a new commander, and the powerful paramilitary Revolutionary Guard has pledged allegiance. Oil prices shot above US$100 a barrel. Both sides in the war struck new targets over the weekend, including civilian ones. Bahrain accused Iran of hitting one of the desalination plants that...

- Malaysia vows to hold petrol prices as oil nears US\$100 a barrel amid Iran war (2026-03-09 05:34)

Malaysia’s Prime Minister Anwar Ibrahim said on Monday that his government would do whatever it took to keep RON95 petrol at 1.99 ringgit (50 US cents) per litre – even as the US-Israel war on Iran pushed global crude prices towards US$100 a barrel. “We will do our best to ensure the price of RON95 remains at 1.99 ringgit so that the rakyat (common people) are not burdened,” he said at the Domestic Trade and Cost of Living Ministry’s monthly assembly in Kuala Lumpur. The pledge comes as the...

For mathematical genius Wan Daqing, life is no longer a competition between China and the United States. Instead, he has encountered the rivalry of universities from different provinces seeking to appoint him. Wan, winner of China's highest mathematics prize, retired from the University of California at Irvine (UCI) in July and returned to China to take up his new role in December, he confirmed in an email to the South China Morning Post. The International Congress of Chinese Mathematicians...

- China's consumer prices keep rising after holiday spending surge (2026-03-09 04:08)

China's consumer prices rose during the first two months of the year as a longer-than-usual Chinese New Year holiday drove a surge in spending, though analysts cautioned that Beijing might need to implement stronger measures to boost demand to sustain the recovery. The national consumer price index (CPI), a crucial gauge of inflation, rose by 0.8 per cent year on year during the January-February period, according to data released by the National Bureau of Statistics (NBS) on Monday. Readings for...

- US begins large military exercise with South Korea while attacking Iran (2026-03-09 03:45)

The United States began a large military exercise with South Korea involving thousands of troops Monday while also waging an escalating war in the Middle East. South Korea's Joint Chiefs of Staff has said about 18,000 Korean troops would take part in Freedom Shield, which runs through March 19. US Forces Korea has not confirmed the number of American troops participating in the training in South Korea. The allies' combined exercise comes amid South Korean media speculation that Washington is...

- Malaysia’ s new plan to beat obesity: slash gym licence fees in Kuala Lumpur (2026-03-09 02:30)

Malaysia has cut operating licence fees for gyms in Kuala Lumpur by 80 per cent, offering fitness operators a regulatory “carrot” as the government tries to push residents in one of Southeast Asia’ s heaviest countries to exercise more. The move comes as Malaysia grapples with some of the region’ s highest obesity rates – a problem health officials say is especially pronounced in sedentary urban centres such as the capital. Under the new Kuala Lumpur rate, in force from January 1, gyms now pay 10...

- Why China’ s critical mineral dominance is still disrupting US supply chains (2026-03-09 02:00)

American companies are grappling with a shortage of critical minerals used in daily operations despite China easing some of its export controls, according to industry insiders. After Beijing and Washington agreed to a so-called trade truce last November, the Ministry of Commerce issued a notice suspending a ban on shipments of gallium, germanium and antimony to the US for one year. But China’ s dominant position in the global market for these vital raw materials, including heavy rare earths,...

- Hong Kong developers test home-market recovery by raising prices, trimming discounts (2026-03-09 01:30)

Developers in Hong Kong are testing the housing market’ s recovery by nudging prices up or paring discounts as improving sentiment and a rebound in transactions boost confidence in the city’ s property sector. But analysts said the moves remained uneven, with many newly launched projects still offering sizeable concessions as developers continued to prioritise clearing unsold inventory accumulated during the market downturn. New World Development plans to cut the discount offered under the 120-day...

- Beijing’ s message is clear: Hong Kong must shape up and speed up (2026-03-09 01:30)

The annual “two sessions” in Beijing are under way, and this year the annual ritual of reading tea leaves in this city has been made easier for politics watchers. That is because Beijing has been blunt about the problems it thinks our city faces. There is the usual praise for the Hong Kong government and Chief Executive John Lee Ka-chiu’ s leadership. One striking difference is that Premier Li Qiang included in his annual work report, delivered at the opening session of the National People’ s...

Japan's most treasured historic sites still lack upgraded fire protection, raising concerns that irreplaceable cultural landmarks remain vulnerable to another catastrophic blaze. Government data shows work has yet to begin at about 30 per cent of the cultural properties prioritised for stronger safeguards under a national programme to improve fire resistance at key heritage buildings created in the aftermath of the devastating blaze at Shuri Castle in Okinawa in 2019. The campaign, overseen by...

- Device thrown near New York anti-Islam protest was bomb: police (2026-03-08 20:45)

A home-made explosive thrown near anti-Islam protesters outside the New York mayor's home was a viable device "that could have caused serious injury or death", police said on Sunday. Two suspicious devices were thrown by a man identified by police as Emir Balat near the protest on Saturday led by a far-right influencer to oppose public Muslim prayer. An Agence

France-Press correspondent at the scene heard Balat shout “Allahu akbar” (“God is the greatest”) during the incident, which is under...

- Weaponise EU market against China or face manufacturing collapse: official think tank (2026-03-08 20:30)

The European Union has been urged to weaponise its giant market to draw concessions from China, whose economic fragility is making it increasingly reliant on rich export markets. A new report from the European Union Institute for Security Studies (EUISS), the EU’ s official think tank, said “China’ s weakness creates opportunities” for the bloc to use its chokepoints and leverage to bring Beijing to the negotiating table in a credible way. With the United States rapidly narrowing for Chinese...

- 3 people arrested after 44 injured in Peru nightclub bombing: officials (2026-03-08 20:05)

Authorities in Peru on Sunday said they have arrested three people following the bombing of a nightclub as the number of those injured rose to 44. The explosion happened early on Saturday at the Dali nightclub in the city of Trujillo in La Libertad region, which has the largest gold-producing area in Peru and is rife with extortion and illegal mining. La Libertad Regional Health Management confirmed that those injured rose from 33 to 44, including three minors between the ages of 16 and 17. At...

- Iran’ s Assembly of Experts announces Khamenei’ s son, Mojtaba, as new supreme leader (2026-03-08 18:39)

Iran’ s Assembly of Experts announced Mojtaba Khamenei, the son of the slain Ayatollah Ali Khamenei, as the country’ s new supreme leader on Sunday. In a lengthy statement, the assembly said that “after careful and extensive studies ... in today’ s extraordinary session, Ayatollah Seyyed Mojtaba Hosseini Khamenei (may Allah protect him) is appointed and introduced as the third leader of the sacred system of the Islamic Republic of Iran, based on the decisive vote of the respected representatives of...

- Starmer holds call with Trump to discuss war in Middle East after latest rebuke over Iran (2026-03-08 17:23)

Britain’ s Prime Minister Keir Starmer and US President Donald Trump held a call on Sunday about the Middle East war, the UK government said, after fierce criticism of the British premier by the US leader. Trump had insulted Starmer over the latter’ s initial refusal to have any role in the US-Israeli war with Iran, which began on February 28. “The leaders began by discussing the latest situation in the Middle East and the military cooperation between the UK and US through the use of RAF bases in...

- Macron to visit Cyprus as France deploys warships to Mediterranean amid Iran war (2026-03-08 16:54)

French President Emmanuel Macron will visit Cyprus on Monday, his office said, as France deploys warships to the Mediterranean following a drone attack on the island EU member days ago. Macron will meet Cypriot counterpart Nikos Christodoulides and Greek Prime Minister Kyriakos Mitsotakis in Paphos to show “solidarity” and detail moves to “strengthen security around Cyprus and in the eastern Mediterranean”, the Elysee said on Sunday. The visit will take place as the war pitting US and Israel...

- US activists, politicians rally on anniversary of civil rights march (2026-03-08 15:28)

Sixty-one years after state troopers attacked Civil Rights marchers on the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma, thousands are gathering in the Alabama city this weekend, amid new concerns about the future of the Voting Rights Act. The March 7, 1965, violence that became known as Bloody Sunday shocked the nation and helped spur passage of the landmark legislation that dismantled barriers to voting for Black Americans in the Jim Crow South. But this year’s anniversary celebrations – events run all...

- Is Trump’s China trip still on? Despite Iran, Wang Yi sees potential (2026-03-08 15:00)

The United States and China could still have a “big year” in bilateral ties despite Washington’s ongoing strikes against Iran, Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi said on Sunday, suggesting a planned visit to China by US President Donald Trump remained on track. Uncertainty has been mounting over Trump’s planned meeting with President Xi Jinping – expected to start on March 31 – after US and Israeli forces last month launched major strikes on Iran, one of China’s key strategic partners and oil...

- Bangladesh rations fuel as US-Iran war stresses energy supplies (2026-03-08 14:40)

Bangladesh began fuel rationing on Sunday as the war in the Middle East deepened an energy crunch, creating long queues at petrol stations and boiling over into anger. The country of 170 million people imports 95 per cent of its oil and gas needs. Following the US and Israeli attacks on Iran, and Tehran’s retaliatory strikes throughout the Gulf, the national oil company, Bangladesh Petroleum Corporation (BPC), restricted fuel sales for most vehicles. Authorities capped fuel purchases for several...

- Wang Yi to Europe: leave protectionist attic, join the China market gym (2026-03-08 14:11)

Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi has urged European leaders to abandon bloc politics and instead “join the gym” of the China market to build muscle and competitiveness. Speaking to the press in Beijing on Sunday, Wang characterised China-Europe economic and trade ties as complementary advantages, saying that “a dynamic balance is entirely within reach amid growing ties”. “Building fences and barriers will only lead to self-isolation,” he cautioned. “We would be happy to see our European friends...

- Hongkonger forks out HK\$11,000 to flee Dubai after 8 failed attempts (2026-03-08 13:36)

Hongkonger Shirley Sung finally returned home on Sunday after being stranded in Dubai for a week and making eight failed attempts to secure a flight, ultimately paying HK$11,000 (US$1,406) to escape the Middle East conflict via Kuala Lumpur. The 30-year-old solo traveller, who had flown to the United Arab Emirates (UAE) for a wedding, found herself in a tense situation as she witnessed missile interceptions and sought shelter in a hotel car park during Tehran's retaliatory attacks amid US-Israel...

- Iran strikes on desalination plants threaten Arab states' water supplies (2026-03-08 13:22)

As missiles and drones curtail energy production across the Persian Gulf, analysts warn that water, not oil, may be the resource most at risk in the energy-rich but arid region. Hundreds of desalination plants sit along the Persian Gulf coast, putting individual systems that supply water to millions within range of Iranian missile or drone strikes. Without them, major cities could not sustain their current populations. In Kuwait, about 90 per cent of drinking water comes from desalination, along...

- What's wrong with a G2? Wang Yi lays out China's case against great-power rivalry (2026-03-08 12:59)

China's top diplomat has cast his country as “an irreplaceable mainstay” amid global upheaval, rejecting any suggestion of a US-China G2 duopoly for global co-leadership as a replay of disastrous great-power rivalries. Instead, against the backdrop of the escalating Iran conflict and Washington's renewed trade wars, Wang Yi renewed Beijing's call for a post-hegemonic order anchored in the United Nations, advocating an “equal and orderly multipolar world” that transcended bloc confrontation and...

- Hong Kong police boost checks at Tai Po fire block after jewellery theft arrests (2026-03-08 12:58)

Hong Kong police will impose a HK$500 (US$63) cash limit on construction workers and conduct searches using metal detectors under new security measures at Wang Fuk Court, after three labourers were arrested on suspicion of stealing jewellery while carrying out structural reinforcement work at the blaze-hit Tai Po estate. Police Commissioner Joe Chow Yat-ming revealed on Sunday that reinforcement work at the estate, which had been temporarily suspended following the incident, would resume on...

- 2 more suspects arrested over HK\$10 million knifepoint robbery in Hong Kong (2026-03-08 12:58)

Hong Kong police have arrested two more suspects in connection with a HK$10 million (US$1.28 million) knifepoint robbery in Sheung Wan last week. Following further investigation, officers on Saturday arrested a 23-year-old man in northern Lantau and a 17-year-old boy in Ngau Tau Kok on suspicion of conspiracy to commit robbery, a police spokesman said. Together with three suspects aged 19 to 31 who were taken into custody on Friday, all five individuals have been charged with one count of...

- Nuclear-armed North Korea is pivoting from reunification to coexistence (2026-03-08 12:30)

The North Korea that leaves the ninth Workers' Party Congress is a different country from the one that left the eighth congress in 2021. Five years ago, the centrepiece of the eighth party congress was an ambitious weapons development programme unveiled by North Korean leader Kim Jong-un and accompanied by belligerent rhetoric against the United States, both of which indicated the North Korean leadership's concerns about their vulnerability. Now, Kim's regime has an improved and resilient...

- Singing circle in Amsterdam offers benefits to dementia patients (2026-03-08 12:07)

Megan Worthy still recalls singing in a choir in the Australian capital, Canberra, as she was growing up. Now, as a rare form of early-onset dementia chips away at her vision and other brain functions, the 58-year-old is transported back to her musical youth as she and her daughter, Bronte, sing together with other people with neurological conditions in an Amsterdam concert hall, the Concertgebouw. "It's pretty brutal," Worthy said of her rare neurological condition. "I'm starting to lose..."

- Nepali ex-rapper will form government after landslide election win (2026-03-08 11:00)

A Nepali political party led by an ex-rapper is set for a landslide victory in the country's first parliamentary election since Gen Z protests ousted the old leadership that has ruled the Himalayan nation for decades. The Rastriya Swatantra, or the National Independent Party (RSP), formed only four years ago, had already won 117 of 165 directly elected seats and led in eight other constituencies in the results published on Sunday morning by Nepal's Election Commission. Other political parties...

- Hong Kong, Singapore square off in race to become world's gold trading hub (2026-03-08 11:00)

Hong Kong and Singapore have crossed swords over their ambitions to be the world's gold trading hub, but experts say the city holds an advantage over its Southeast Asian rival, citing its access to mainland China's robust market. As Hong Kong pushes ahead with measures to create an ecosystem for gold trading – highlighted as recently in the government's budget late last month – the city state has reportedly been courting global heavyweights. In response to the South China Morning Post's queries...

- Wang Yi warns Japan on Taiwan 'red line', dashing hopes of ending diplomatic row (2026-03-08 10:31)

Beijing's top diplomat has issued a stark warning against any attempt to thwart reunification with Taiwan and repeated his country's criticism of Tokyo, dimming hopes that the diplomatic row sparked by Japanese Prime Minister Sanae Takaichi's comments on Taiwan would come to an end any time soon. The comments by Foreign Minister Wang Yi, delivered in a pressconference on Sunday as part of the “two sessions” , were the latest in a series of strongcriticisms by Beijing officials following...

- Families of MH370 passengers urge Malaysia to extend ocean search (2026-03-08 10:06)

Families of those aboard Malaysia Airlines flight MH370 on Sunday urged the Malaysian government to extend a contract it signed with deep-sea exploration firm Ocean Infinity to continue a search for the aircraft that disappeared 12 years ago. The Boeing 777 was carrying 227 passengers and 12 crew when it vanished en route from Kuala Lumpur to Beijing on March 8, 2014, becoming one of the world’s enduring aviation mysteries. Multiple search operations for the plane have been conducted in the...

- Hong Kong must ensure motherhood no longer derails women’s careers: advocates (2026-03-08 10:00)

Hong Kong must do more to shatter the glass ceilings at its roots, moving beyond token diversity to ensure motherhood no longer derails women’s careers, advocates have said on International Women’s Day. Chief Executive John Lee Ka-chiu said on Sunday that women were “holding up more than half the sky” for Hong Kong as they accounted for 54 per cent of the population and comprised half of the government, legal and accounting workforce, with increasing representation in corporate leadership. The...

- China boy, 14, skilled in wok spinning, praised for cooking in parents’ eatery to help ease burden (2026-03-08 10:00)

A 14-year-old boy in eastern China has trended on social media after he helped out his under-pressure parents by skillfully cooking in their small noodle restaurant. Liu Yuze, a Grade Two student at a middle school in Taihe county of Anhui province, has been helping his parents in the restaurant since childhood, the Dawan News reported. Videos of the boy cooking like a professional chef and grasping skills like wok spinning have attracted more than 2.5 million likes online. “Cooking is my...

- Beijing signals high hopes for South China Sea ‘golden rules’ by end of year (2026-03-08 09:41)

China has signalled strong optimism for finalising negotiations with neighbouring Asian countries to seal a new institutional framework on contested South China Sea waterways. At China’s annual foreign policy press conference on Sunday, Foreign Minister Wang Yi described the negotiations as having entered a “critical phase” for talks on the South China Sea Code of Conduct – a proposed set of rules between China and the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (Asean) aimed at easing tensions. “All...

- Hong Kong charity abruptly cancels ‘Race for Water’ fundraiser weeks before event (2026-03-08 09:08)

A Hong Kong charity has abruptly cancelled its signature annual trail-running fundraiser just two weeks before the event, leaving hundreds of participants in the dark on the reasons behind the decision. The 11th edition of the “Race for Water”, organised by A Drop of Life, was scheduled to take place on March 22 but would no longer proceed, according to the organiser, which did not provide reasons for the cancellation. “After careful consideration, A Drop of Life has decided to cancel the ‘Race...

- Iran war hits China’s sulphur imports as economic fallout from conflict grows (2026-03-08 09:00)

The escalating conflict in the Middle East is having a direct impact on China’s access to sulphur – a raw material for producing fertiliser – just as the country enters its vital spring planting season. With China sourcing a large chunk of its sulphur from the Persian Gulf, the effective closure of the Strait of Hormuz is already sending prices for the chemical shooting upwards as Chinese buyers complain of tightening supplies. China relies on imports for 47 per cent of its sulphur supply,...

- Philippines’ only cockroach expert defends bugs from extinction (2026-03-08 08:35)

A thin band of light from Cristian Lucanas’ headlamp pierces the blackness of a Philippine rainforest as he digs through the underbrush before gently scooping up a cockroach with his bare hands. As the Southeast Asian country’s lone expert on the oft-misunderstood insect – and discoverer of 15 species – friends have dubbed the soft-spoken scientist “Ipis Lord”, after the local name for the ubiquitous bug. While fully aware most view cockroaches as disgusting, disease-bearing pests, the...

- As Hong Kong doubles down on innovation, Hongkongers must too (2026-03-08 08:30)

I am not sure everyone in Hong Kong has taken fully on board the breadth and depth of the city’s intended role in the future economic development of the nation. It is right there in the budget speech delivered by Financial Secretary Paul Chan Mo-po, and it is being fleshed out in the 15th five-year plan now under discussion in Beijing. Sometimes the things that are presented most prominently are the ones most easily overlooked. In an early part of the speech, Chan stated that the government’s...

- China urged to build underground great wall of defence in crisis-hit world (2026-03-08 08:00)

China should build an underground network across its western region to protect key energy and defence facilities, securing long-term reserves while boosting national security and crisis resilience, energy experts have said. Zhang Shishu, chief technical expert at Power Construction Corporation of China (PowerChina), a state-owned energy and infrastructure giant, called for critical facilities to be embedded deep beneath the Earth’s surface at a safer, less detectable level. In an article for the...

- 1 holy month, 1 year’ s income: Malaysia’ s Ramadan bazaar boom (2026-03-08 08:00)

By late afternoon in Putrajaya, the smell of smoke fills the air. Charcoal pits glow along the side of the road as office workers and families with school-aged children in tow move through the haze with the deliberate purpose of people who have not eaten since dawn. This is a Ramadan bazaar in full bloom: rows of bright pink drinks in plastic cups, towers of kueh – bite-sized sweet and savoury snacks – in every colour, and, at one particularly busy stall, rows of whole chickens turning slowly...

- 15th five-year plan presents ‘golden strategic period’ for Hong Kong: Paul Chan (2026-03-08 07:47)

Hong Kong’ s financial chief has vowed to serve the nation and seize opportunities from the newly unveiled 15th five-year development plan, calling it a “golden strategic period” with great potential amid escalating geopolitics. Financial Secretary Paul Chan Mo-po said on Sunday that Hong Kong would adopt “Artificial Intelligence+” and “Finance+” approaches to support mainland China’ s development plan for 2026 to 2030. Beijing on Thursday revealed the sweeping blueprint during the annual “two...

- Demand for change in Turkey cannot be stopped, jailed Istanbul mayor says (2026-03-08 07:30)

Political efforts to cripple Turkey’ s main opposition and lock up its presidential candidate will never stifle the people’ s frustration with the government and their growing demand for change, Istanbul’ s jailed mayor has said in an interview. “An irreversible process for a change in power has begun in Turkey and it won’ t stop until it is complete. I cannot stop it ... nor can the ruling party nor the judiciary,” Ekrem Imamoglu said in a written response to Agence France-Presse questions conveyed...

- Sri Lanka hospital discharges 22 Iranian sailors rescued after warship sinking (2026-03-08 06:30)

Sri Lanka discharged from hospital 22 Iranian sailors who were plucked from life rafts after their warship was sunk by a US submarine, officials said on Sunday. The sailors were treated at Karapitiya Hospital in the southern port city of Galle since Wednesday after the IRIS Dena was torpedoed just outside Sri Lanka’ s territorial waters. “Another 10 are still undergoing treatment,” said a medical officer at the hospital. He said the bodies of 84 Iranians retrieved from the Indian Ocean were also...

- Quantum tech breakthrough: China’ s double-photon device breaks efficiency ceiling (2026-03-08 06:30)

Chinese scientists have cracked a long-standing puzzle in quantum optics, creating a tiny device that spits out pairs of light particles on demand with unprecedented purity and efficiency – with potential implications for the quantum race. Single-photon devices are maturing rapidly, but the field is now pursuing efficient two-photon sources that can pave the way for sharper medical imaging, unbreakable encryption and next-generation sensors. In precision measurement, for instance, using two...

- US embassy in Norway's Oslo hit by explosion but no injuries, police say (2026-03-08 06:15)

The US embassy in Oslo was hit by an explosion in the early hours of Sunday but no one was injured, police in the Norwegian capital said, adding the cause was not immediately known. The blast occurred around 1am local time and caused only “minor material damage” to one of the building’s entrances, Oslo police said in a statement. Investigators were examining the scene, while dogs, drones, and helicopters were involved in the search “for one or more potential perpetrators”, it said. “Police view...

- Hong Kong considers raising MPF contributions after 13-year freeze on thresholds (2026-03-08 06:14)

Hong Kong’s workers and employers may have to pay more into the Mandatory Provident Fund, as the pension regulator considers calls to raise the contribution threshold, which has remained unchanged for 13 years. Ayesha Macpherson Lau, chairwoman of the Mandatory Provident Fund Authority (MPFA), said in her blog on Sunday that the body had consulted various stakeholder groups since February on adjusting the minimum and maximum income levels used to determine contributions. She hinted at a possible...

- China Qing era saw rise in female authors, poets, despite broad restrictions on women in arts (2026-03-08 06:00)

From the 18th century onwards, female authors gained unprecedented prominence, from Jane Austen and the Brontë sisters in the West to the rise of significant women writers in Qing-era China (1644–1912). The increasing prominence of female Chinese authors was driven by Dream of the Red Chamber, an 18th-century masterpiece by Cao Xueqin, widely considered the pinnacle of Chinese fiction and one of the four great classical novels of Chinese history. Cao’s book was so important that a cottage...

- Why Vietnam's landmark AI law is first major regulatory test for Southeast Asia (2026-03-08 06:00)

Vietnam’s new law regulating artificial intelligence could become Southeast Asia’s first real test of whether governments in the region are ready to move from voluntary guidelines to binding regulation, a shift analysts say could reshape how companies deploy AI across the region. The legislation, which took effect on Sunday, introduces a risk-tiered model where AI providers – both local organisations and foreign entities with a presence in the country – must classify their systems as low, medium...

- Boom times for India's economy but opportunities remain uneven (2026-03-08 05:15)

For years India's economy was driven by its vast services sector that saw millions of people working away in low-cost back offices providing consultancy for predominantly Western companies. But over the past decade they have given way to centres that allow firms to tap top-tier talent and technology, where white-collar staff perform tasks ranging from IT and data analytics to innovation and design. Today, these centres are the shiniest parts of India's red-hot economy but not everyone has been...

- Takeaways from Foreign Minister Wang Yi at China's 'two sessions' (2026-03-08 04:38)

Foreign Minister Wang Yi faced global media on Sunday morning to outline Beijing's positions on key issues, ranging from the expanding crisis in Iran to China's deepening dispute with Japan. The annual briefing, held as part of the annual "two sessions", came as China sought to project its leadership and influence amid mounting global instability and manage its strategic rivalry with the US. This year, the top Chinese diplomat fielded 21 questions in a briefing that lasted nearly 90...

- US judge voids actions by Voice of America acting CEO Kari Lake, including mass lay-offs (2026-03-08 04:15)

A federal judge ruled on Saturday that Kari Lake's leadership of the US Agency for Global Media (USAGM) for much of last year violated federal law, invalidating a sweeping series of actions she took to cut staff and end many operations at its Voice of America (VOA) unit. In another blow to the Donald Trump administration's attempts to diminish various government agencies, US District Judge Royce Lamberth granted a summary judgment in favour of plaintiffs – including VOA journalists and a...

- Hong Kong police seek domestic helper accused of HK\$100,000 theft from employer (2026-03-08 04:11)

Hong Kong police are searching for a domestic helper accused of stealing jewellery and cash worth more than HK$100,000 (US$12,780) from her elderly employer. The force said a 74-year-old woman, surnamed Lam, reported on Saturday night that the valuables had been taken from her flat in Hong Ching House, Kai Ching Estate, Ngau Tau Kok. An initial investigation found that the missing items included HK$57,000 in cash and jewellery – such as necklaces and bracelets – worth about HK$59,000. Police...

- Hong Kong firms rethink global operations amid Middle East turmoil (2026-03-08 04:00)

Hong Kong entrepreneurs with operations in the Middle East are recalibrating their global footprints to hedge against mounting geopolitical instability and losses resulting from the widening conflict in Iran. The shift in business strategy followed the outbreak of the US-Israel war with Iran last week, prompting firms to draw up contingency plans by pivoting to Europe or Southeast Asia to de-risk their portfolios and ensure supply chain continuity. The war escalated with Iran's retaliation,...

(2026-03-08 03:30)

The supply of oil and other essential commodities may be grabbing the headlines as the US-Iran conflict escalates, but the ripple effects are being felt far beyond energy markets – all the way to the global supply of the saffron used in footbath packs and heat patches. Chinese retail investors have been peppering listed companies with questions about how disruptions tied to the conflict could affect everything from fertiliser imports to the pharmaceutical products containing the prized...

- 80 years on, gender gap persists in Japanese politics

(2026-03-08 03:00)

Gender equality in politics remains far from achieved across Japan’s 47 prefectures, research by a group of experts has shown as it released local index scores on International Women’s Day. While nearly 80 years have passed since women in Japan first exercised their right to vote, the politics index fell in eight prefectures, including Kanagawa near Tokyo, from the 2024 figures, while many other prefectures also saw little change. With a score of 1 representing full equality, Tokyo scored 0.386,...

- Lebanon says at least 4 killed in Israeli strike on Beirut hotel

(2026-03-08 02:45)

Lebanon’s health ministry on Sunday said an Israeli strike on a hotel in central Beirut killed at least four people, with Israel saying it had targeted commanders from Iran’s Revolutionary Guards. Lebanon was drawn into the Middle East war on Monday, when Iran-backed militant group Hezbollah attacked Israel in response to the killing of Iranian supreme leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei during US-Israeli strikes. Israel, which has kept up strikes targeting Hezbollah despite a 2024 ceasefire, launched...

- Kuwait airport, Saudi Arabia targeted as Iran vows to continue Gulf strikes (2026-03-08 01:45)

Gulf nations reported missile and drone attacks on Sunday, while Iran vowed to press on with strikes against neighbouring countries as the regional war entered its second week. Saudi Arabia, Qatar and Kuwait all reported new attacks, after loud explosions were heard in Dubai and Bahrain’ s Manama a day earlier. Kuwait’ s national oil company announced a “precautionary” cut to its crude production, as the country’ s military said on Sunday it had responded “to a wave of hostile drones that...

- Why Hong Kong must make mental health an immediate economic priority (2026-03-08 01:30)

Hong Kong’ s new budget is positioned to foster high-quality, inclusive growth through innovation and finance. Ahead of projections, a surplus of HK$2.9 billion (US$370.8 million) is now expected, largely due to the stronger-than-expected stock market and tax receipts. Reflecting a sound fiscal approach and forward thinking, the 2026-27 budget will maintain an operating surplus and allocate about 60 per cent of recurrent spending to vital sectors such as health, social welfare and education. The...

For Steven Zhou, a 40-year-old Beijing office worker, suburban outlet stores offer a better shopping experience than urban malls, allowing him to escape the city, park his car without frustration and, most importantly, find good deals. “Outlets offer a wide selection of brands, with attractive discounts, especially on sportswear,” Zhou said. Across the mainland, outlets are expanding while traditional and luxury malls face high vacancy rates. Offering well-known brands at discounted prices,...

- Singapore's workers brace for AI disruption: 'it's inevitable' (2026-03-08 00:00)

When Joshua Tan turned up to Chinese New Year dinner last month, he hadn't expected to spend the evening defending his career. He was 27 and freshly employed as a junior software engineer in Singapore. The questions from relatives were pointed: is your job safe? Can't the computer just do it? It was an awkward conversation, equal parts interrogation and familial concern. But Tan knew the anxiety behind the questions was real. Not so long ago, he and his classmates had been so sought-after by...

- Trump says he's told Kurds not to join Iran fight: 'war is complicated enough' (2026-03-07 23:03)

US President Donald Trump said he has told Kurdish forces not to enter the Iran war as the US and Israel continue launching strikes against Tehran. “The war is complicated enough without having – getting the Kurds involved,” Trump told reporters aboard Air Force One on Saturday on his way back to Florida after attending a military service for six fallen US soldiers. “We're very friendly with the Kurds, as you know, but we don't want to make the war any more complex than it already is. I have...

- As US universities retreat from China partnerships, who is filling the academic void? (2026-03-07 22:00)

Nearly five decades ago, in 1978, a dozen or so professors from Shanghai Jiao Tong University (SJTU) were on a mission to visit their American counterparts as well as research institutes and factories across the United States. The visit, said to be personally approved by then Chinese leader Deng Xiaoping, was designed to forge academic ties and led to sister-school agreements with four prestigious US universities, including the University of Michigan (UM). It was a pivotal moment in academic...

- Paul Chan must deliver the fiscal discipline Hong Kong needs (2026-03-07 21:30)

Financial Secretary Paul Chan Mo-po delivered his latest budget on February 25. Over the past decade, under his stewardship, Hong Kong has weathered multiple economic shocks and recently returned to a respectable growth rate of 3.5 per cent. Yet the tasks ahead are formidable: addressing a structural fiscal deficit in the city's capital account while ensuring sufficient resources for future growth, all against an increasingly volatile and dangerous global backdrop. Article 107 of Hong Kong's...

- Israel hits Iran oil facility, as PM Netanyahu warns of 'many surprises' (2026-03-07 21:22)

The Iran war exploded further late Saturday as pillars of flame rose above an oil storage facility in Tehran and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu promised “many surprises” for the next phase of the week-old conflict. Iranian state media confirmed the strike as video footage showed the horizon glowing against the night sky. Israel's military confirmed new strikes that shook neighbourhoods in Tehran's east and south but did not immediately comment on targets. It appeared to be the first...

- Iran vows more attacks in Gulf despite president's apology (2026-03-07 20:55)

Gulf nations on Saturday reported new missile and drone attacks, while Iran vowed to press on with its strikes against neighbouring countries. Loud explosions were heard in Dubai, the Qatari capital Doha and Bahrain, while attacks were later reported in the UAE, Saudi Arabia, Qatar and Kuwait, where the national oil company announced a “precautionary” cut to production. The attacks came despite Iran's president earlier apologising to Gulf countries for prior strikes, saying they would no longer...

- Timothee Chalamet faces the music for saying 'no one cares' about opera and ballet (2026-03-07 18:45)

Oscar nominee Timothee Chalamet is the front runner to take home the golden statuette for Marty Supreme – but he definitely has not won fans in the ballet and opera worlds. In a town hall discussion late last month with Oscar winner Matthew McConaughey hosted by CNN and Variety, the 30-year-old Chalamet was discussing the future of movie theatres and whether the advent of streaming will spell doom for cinemas. “If people want to see it – like Barbie, like Oppenheimer – they're going to go see it...”

- Trump offers Latin American leaders US missile strikes to hit drug cartels (2026-03-07 17:46)

US President Donald Trump on Saturday urged Latin American nations to use military power against the “cancer” of drug cartels and offered to support them with US missile strikes targeting narco kingpins. Trump, currently waging a war with Iran, laid out a muscular position for advancing Washington's interests in the western hemisphere, pronouncing that communist-led Cuba was “in its last moments of life” and advocating tough action by allies against organised crime blighting the region. He...

- Iran war: what we know about Ali Khamenei' s killing one week on (2026-03-07 15:48)

With further negotiations pencilled in with the US and perhaps assuming that any assassination attempt would take place at night, Iranian supreme leader Ali Khamenei was at his complex in Tehran last Saturday morning. It would be his last. An air strike obliterated the compound in Tehran where a gathering of key decision-makers was taking place, killing Khamenei, his wife and other top officials. As the US and Israel have pounded Iran with thousands of attacks over the last week, some details...

- Will the US attack on Iran push North Korea even closer to Russia and China? (2026-03-07 15:00)

Washington' s decapitation operation in Iran would push Pyongyang to feel “vindicated” in developing nuclear weapons for its own security and move closer to China and Russia to bolster its deterrence capabilities, according to analysts. On Wednesday, North Korean leader Kim Jong-un inspected the test firing of what the country' s state media called a “strategic cruise missile” from the new 5,000-tonne naval destroyer Choe Hyon before the vessel' s official commissioning. Kim hailed the warship as a...

- Amina Bokhary found dead at Hong Kong home: source (2026-03-07 14:53)

A Hong Kong woman who made tabloid headlines for her repeated brushes with the law and prominent family name has been found dead in her home, the South China Morning Post has learned. A source told SCMP on Saturday that a 90-year-old woman surnamed Bokhary had reported to police the day before that her daughter had lost consciousness at home. The younger woman, believed to be in her forties, was certified dead at the scene. The insider identified her as Amina Mariam Bokhary. “Police checks on...

- 4 US bombers land in UK as Iran war continues (2026-03-07 14:43)

More United States bombers have landed in Britain after a week of strikes on Iran by the US and Israel. A first 146ft B-1 Lancer arrived at RAF Fairford in Gloucestershire on Friday evening and three more followed on Saturday morning. British Prime Minister Keir Starmer has granted permission for “defensive” US action against Iranian missile sites from UK bases. The huge plane, capable of carrying 24 cruise missiles, weighs 86 metric tons and is the fastest bomber in the US Air Force, according...

- UK child killer Ian Huntley dies after prison attack (2026-03-07 14:01)

One of Britain' s most notorious child killers, Ian Huntley, has died following an attack in prison where he was serving a life sentence, police said. Huntley murdered 10-year-old girls Holly Wells and Jessica Chapman in eastern England in 2002, in a case that horrified the country. Fifty-two-year-old Huntley suffered serious injuries when he was assaulted at Frankland maximum security prison in the north-eastern city of Durham on February 26. He “died in hospital this morning” , a spokesperson...

- Xi Jinping' s zero-fail mission for China' s military: total loyalty, no corruption

(2026-03-07 14:00)

Chinese President Xi Jinping has again sought to shore up the military' s ideological defences, demanding absolute loyalty to the Communist Party from all ranks, just weeks after the country' s top general came under investigation for corruption. “There must be no room within the military for those harbouring disloyalty towards the party, nor any shelter for corrupt individuals,” Xi told a meeting of military and armed police lawmakers on the sidelines of the National People' s Congress (NPC) on...

- Hong Kong growth on track to hit target despite Middle East war: finance chief

(2026-03-07 13:45)

Hong Kong' s economic growth forecast of between 2.5 per cent and 3.5 per cent for the year will not be affected by the Middle East war, which will hurt the trading sector but benefit the financial market, according to the city' s financial chief. Financial Secretary Paul Chan Mo-po also said on Saturday that the city would remain vigilant over the impacts of Sino-US relations, while consolidating its traditional American and European markets and developing new ones in Asia. His remarks came ahead...

- LIV Golf Hong Kong starts to tick boxes, with bumper crowd set for 3-way fight on last day

(2026-03-07 13:16)

A large crowd spent much of Saturday following Jon Rahm around Fanling as he made his way up the leaderboard at LIV Golf Hong Kong – further evidence, if any were needed, that the tournament is quickly establishing itself as an important part of the city' s social and sporting calendar. And while attendance figures will not be announced until the tournament has finished, officials said a large number had made the trip from mainland China and overseas, with many paying thousands of dollars for...

(2026-03-07 13:14)

A subsidiary of Hong Kong conglomerate CK Hutchison Holdings is seeking US$2 billion in damages from the Panamanian government over what it described as the “illegal takeover” of the operations of two ports at either end of the strategic canal. In a statement issued on Friday, the Panama Ports Company (PPC) said it had submitted the claim for arbitration against the country under the rules of the International Chamber of Commerce, vowing it would not “relent” or seek “token relief” for the...

- Chinese scientists use AI model to crack mystery of moon' s far side

(2026-03-07 13:00)

Chinese scientists have used AI to determine the chemical make-up of the moon' s far side, offering new insights into one of lunar science' s enduring mysteries. Nearly half the moon' s surface – the far side which permanently faces away from the Earth – had long remained chemically unmapped. But samples from China' s Chang' e-6 mission, combined with advanced technologies, have enabled a team led by the Shanghai Institute of Technical Physics(SITP) to crack the lunar chemical code. Researchers from...

- In the emerging world order, Europe and China's interests align (2026-03-07 12:30)

The Iran war has declared the death of the old global order. Europe wasn't even consulted before Washington struck Iran alongside Israel – proof the continent is trapped between moral outrage and geopolitical irrelevance. If Europe wants to matter, it must shift its gaze eastwards, redefining China not as a binary adversary but as a balancing power. This is the path from Atlantic dependence to Eurasian relevance. For China, too, this moment is pivotal. US President Donald Trump has launched wars...

- Hong Kong urged to review fuel prices amid 'unfair' cost increase accusations (2026-03-07 12:28)

Hong Kong authorities have been urged to review the pricing mechanism for local fuel supplies after petrol retailers were accused of swiftly raising prices as conflict erupted in the Middle East, even though the city had not yet exhausted its weeks-long stockpile. Global fuel prices have soared since the US-Israel war with Iran broke out, disrupting traffic along the Strait of Hormuz – the key waterway that handles about 20 per cent of the world's oil shipments. The price of Brent crude, the...

- Health authorities probe possible food poisoning cluster at police college (2026-03-07 12:12)

Authorities have launched an investigation into a potential food poisoning cluster that has affected 53 trainees understood to be from the Hong Kong Police College. The Department of Health said on Saturday that 48 male and five female trainees, aged 20 to 40, had developed symptoms of abdominal pain, diarrhoea, vomiting and fever since Thursday evening. It did not name the police college in its statement, only referring to the location as a training institute. A source confirmed to the South...

- 8 dead in Kenya floods, with motorists stranded, flights disrupted (2026-03-07 12:04)

Eight people died, flights were disrupted and the military was deployed as motorists in the Kenyan capital were stranded for hours on Saturday after roads were flooded following heavy rains overnight. George Seda, the police boss in Nairobi, said on Saturday that six people drowned and two others were electrocuted, warning that the death toll may rise as search and rescue operations continue. Seda also said that more than 100 vehicles were damaged, with some overturning on the roadside and in...

- Top envoy urges China-Russia border infrastructure as sanctions stymie transport (2026-03-07 12:00)

China's top envoy to Russia has urged more transport infrastructure along the countries' shared border to cut logistics costs and address challenges. Zhang Hanhui, Beijing's ambassador to Moscow, said on Thursday that the two countries could explore cross-border transport corridors as major maritime logistics had been affected by sanctions. “I have suggested to the Russian side that more convenient crossings should be built along the China-Russia border, such as cross-river bridges,” Zhang said...

- Singapore’s ban on caged lorries revives debate over migrant worker transport

(2026-03-07 11:00)

Singapore is moving to ban caged lorries used to transport migrant workers in a bid to reduce safety risks in emergencies, but activists say the change does not address the wider dangers of ferrying workers in such vehicles. Senior Minister of State for Transport Sun Xueling said that caged lorry decks posed “additional safety risks” to passengers sitting in the rear. “For example, if a lorry with a caged door that is locked or latched from the outside is involved in an accident or a fire,...

- Hong Kong police step up security at consulates of nations in Middle East conflict

(2026-03-07 10:53)

Hong Kong police have stepped up security around the consulates and officials of countries involved in the Middle East conflict, the South China Morning Post has learned. A source said officers had increased patrols at the consulates as a precaution since the outbreak of the conflict. The United States and Israel launched a massive attack on Tehran last Saturday, killing its supreme leader, Ayatollah Ali Khamenei, along with his wife and senior Iranian officials. The move prompted Iranian...

- Iran defies US demands for surrender but apologises for strikes on neighbours

(2026-03-07 10:18)

Iran’s president said on Saturday that a demand by the United States for an unconditional surrender is a “dream that they should take to their grave”. President Masoud Pezeshkian made the statement in a pre-recorded address aired by state television. He also apologised for Iran’s attacks on regional countries, saying that Tehran would halt them and suggesting they were caused by miscommunication in the ranks. He blamed the killing of the country’s supreme leader and other top officials for what...

- Hong Kong authorities propose ferry fare adjustments to keep operators afloat

(2026-03-07 10:18)

Hong Kong transport authorities have proposed adjusting single-journey fares for six ferry routes from April 1, the first revision in nearly three years, with some journeys to rise by 12.5 per cent, while certain high-speed trips will become cheaper. In a document submitted to the Islands District Council, the Transport Department said its fare adjustment proposal struck a balance between residents’ travel needs and the ferries’ financial viability. Under the proposal, fares for one-way trips...

- ‘I can’ t sleep’ : Iranian in Hong Kong gripped by fear as war intensifies (2026-03-07 10:10)

Behzad Mirzaei, who has lived in Hong Kong for three decades, is losing sleep as tensions involving Iran escalate, worried about his elderly mother in Tehran. The founder of the Persian Club is among Hong Kong’ s small Iranian community who are watching the war with mounting anxiety, waiting for daily updates and fearing for loved ones thousands of kilometres away.

“Every night before I go to sleep, I have this nightmare – that anxiety – about what will happen,” the 57-year-old said. “On a few...

Most academics take eight to 10 years after earning a PhD to become doctoral supervisors. But semiconductor scientist Jiang Jianfeng has done it in just 18 months. The 30-year-old only earned his PhD in June 2024. After briefly serving as a postdoctoral researcher at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), he has now returned to Peking University to serve as a principal investigator, associate professor and PhD supervisor. Jiang’ s research focuses on two-dimensional indium selenide...

- China women living together for years spark discussions on female cohabitation and support (2026-03-07 10:00)

Two women in southern China who have lived together for 13 years have gone viral and sparked an online discussion about female cohabitation. Liang Shichun, 59, and her best friend Li Yan, 51, bought a house together in Nanning, Guangxi province, and share everything from household chores to the mortgage. Both women had unhappy marriages and chose not to remarry, instead opting to live together and support each other. Their friendship, which has lasted more than two decades, included Li being...

- ‘46,800 jobs’ : Xinjiang official says textile industry is growing despite US sanctions (2026-03-07 09:42)

Despite US-led sanctions, Xinjiang’ s textile industry expanded last year to create tens of thousands of jobs, a senior official said, pledging stronger support for companies affected by the restrictions. Wang Kuiran, secretary general of the far western Xinjiang Uygur autonomous region government, said yarn output rose more than 20 per cent in 2025. According to Wang, fabric production increased 36 per cent year on year and the sector – a key target of Western sanctions – created 46,800 new jobs...

- At least 7 killed in Ukraine as Russian missile hits Kharkiv apartment building (2026-03-07 09:19)

At least seven people were killed and 10 others, including three children, were wounded on Saturday by a Russian missile that hit a five-storey residential building in Ukraine’ s second-largest city, Kharkiv, officials said. President Volodymyr Zelensky condemned the attack and called for an international response. He said that Russia struck Ukraine overnight with 29 missiles and 480 drones, targeting energy facilities in Kyiv and other central regions, with damage reported in at least seven...

- Nepal election: rapper-turned-politician Balen Shah poised to become next prime minister (2026-03-07 09:18)

A 35-year-old rapper and engineer who entered politics just four years ago holds an unassailable lead over a former prime minister in Nepal's crucial parliamentary election, in a contest widely seen as a referendum on a generational shift in leadership after last year's youth uprising. Balendra Shah – the former Kathmandu mayor widely known as Balen – has surged ahead of 74-year-old communist leader K.P. Sharma Oli in a race for a seat in Nepal's House of Representatives in the eastern district...

- The cause of the next global market crash is hiding in plain sight (2026-03-07 08:30)

If financial markets can survive the United States' war on Iran and Russia's war against Ukraine, does this mean that financial crashes have become a thing of the past? Or have markets just not grasped the true nature of the current threats to the financial system? The latter is almost certainly the case, as former Goldman Sachs CEO Lloyd Blankfein suggested when he said in a recent Financial Times interview that people had “got more complacent” about financial risks since the 2008 crisis. It is...

- Beyond beef: China and Uruguay team up on science to target cancer, pests and robotics (2026-03-07 08:02)

China and Uruguay have forged a new scientific alliance by signing more than 20 cooperation agreements, targeting critical fields from cancer treatment and water management to fighting crop-destroying pests. The development signals a step forward in ties, moving beyond a decade mainly defined by trade in products like wood pulp, soybeans and beef. “China is a good partner for us, especially in basic sciences,” Alvaro Brunini, president of Uruguay's National Agency of Research and Innovation...

- Da Nang, South Korean province? Why this coastal city is a hit with East Asian tourists (2026-03-07 08:00)

At the bustling Han Market in central Da Nang, two Vietnamese vendors tease a middle-aged South Korean tourist by calling him harabeoji, or “grandfather” in Korean. “I'm offended!” he jokes. The women grab his arms and laugh. “It's OK, it's OK.” The man had returned to their stall after buying 200,000 dong (US$7.60) worth of macadamia nuts the day before. It is a small moment of banter, repeated dozens of times a day in a city that many people from South Korea jokingly call their own unofficial...

- Trump's 'feeling' -driven Iran war cops criticism for 'arrogant' messaging (2026-03-07 07:42)

President Donald Trump has plunged the United States into its most significant conflict in decades over a “feeling” . It is not his political opponents saying this, but the White House itself. Throughout the first week of the war with Iran, the US president has prioritised impulse and emotion over explanations and reasoning. “I hope you’ re impressed,” Trump, a former reality TV host, told an ABC News reporter on Thursday. “How do you like the performance?” Official government accounts are posting...

- ZTE’ s computing revenue jumps 150% amid AI boom, but profits fall 33% (2026-03-07 07:36)

China’ s telecom and computing equipment maker ZTE on Friday reported revenue of 134 billion yuan (US$19 billion) in 2025, up 10.4 per cent, with its computing business surging 150 per cent year on year to account for 24.6 per cent of total sales amid the computing boom. However, net profit attributable to shareholders fell 33.3 per cent to 5.62 billion yuan, while net profit excluding non-recurring items dropped 45.5 per cent to 3.37 billion yuan, according to a post-trading earnings filing....

China’ s international clout and economic stability are rebalancing Beijing’ s relations with Europe, putting more focus on cooperation and less on rivalry, according to a former Chinese envoy. “With European leaders coming to China one after another, they are coming with their own considerations: hoping to strengthen bilateral relations in the new context and find ways to benefit from China’ s continued development,” said Wu Ken, China’ s ambassador to Germany from 2019 to 2024. On the sidelines of...

- Pakistan imperils its IMF rescue as Afghanistan border violence rages (2026-03-07 06:00)

Pakistan can ill afford to go to war. Neither can Afghanistan. Yet here they are, trading blows across one of South Asia's most combustible borders – just as a team of International Monetary Fund inspectors arrived in Islamabad to decide on the country's next financial lifeline. The inspectors had come for a third-round review of Pakistan's economic recovery programme: the kind of visit that, if it went well, would unlock the next tranche of rescue funding and steady the nerves of skittish...

- Foreigners flock to Chinese malatang eateries, host birthdays, believe rich soup is healthy (2026-03-07 06:00)

A growing global craze has seen foreigners flock to malatang restaurants to celebrate birthdays and go on dates. The trend has sparked widespread online sharing and lively discussions on mainland social media. Malatang, which literally means “numbing, spicy and hot”, is a popular Chinese street food originating from Sichuan province in southwestern China. It consists of various self-selected meats, vegetables and noodles boiled in a broth. Often described as a “personal hotpot”, diners choose...

Hong Kong police are investigating an attack and robbery in which a man lost about HK$6 million (US$767,070) in cryptocurrency and silver. The force said it received a report at 3.52am on Saturday that a 25-year-old mainland Chinese man was attacked by three men and a woman at a hotel near Man Lok Street in Hung Hom and robbed of cryptocurrency worth HK$5 million from his account. The suspects later took the victim to another unit in an industrial building, where they seized silver items worth...

- As Iran war closes Middle East skies, how high can Cathay Pacific fares fly? (2026-03-07 05:03)

Travellers are paying double the usual airfare on Cathay Pacific Airways flights from more than 50 cities to Hong Kong as the Iran war drives up demand for routes that avoid the conflict zone, with London, Madrid and Chennai seeing the steepest surges, the South China Morning Post has found. The US-Israeli attacks on Iran and subsequent retaliatory strikes that spilled over into neighbouring Gulf states over the course of a week have forced much of the Middle East's airspace to remain closed,...

- Canada's Carney wants Andrew removed from UK line of succession over Epstein ties (2026-03-07 05:00)

Canadian Prime Minister Mark Carney has called for former British prince Andrew Mountbatten-Windsor to be removed from the royal line of succession over his “deplorable” links to Jeffrey Epstein. The former duke was arrested in February on suspicion of misconduct in public office following allegations he shared sensitive information with the paedophile financier while serving as the UK's trade envoy. Speaking to reporters in Tokyo, Carney said: "I certainly think his actions are deplorable and..."

- Taiwan starts review of defence bill as competing proposals expose divisions (2026-03-07 04:00)

Taiwan's legislature has agreed to begin reviewing a long-stalled special defence budget, but competing opposition proposals are set to complicate passage of the government's NT$1.25 trillion (US$40 billion) plan despite mounting pressure from the United States. Lawmakers began scrutinising the bill on Friday, as three rival proposals from the island's main political parties exposed deep divisions over how much Taiwan should spend on defence and what mix of foreign weapons and home-grown...

- Woman flees Hong Kong flat blaze after alleged knife attack by husband (2026-03-07 03:55)

A woman fled a burning flat in Yuen Long on Saturday, claiming her husband had attacked her with a knife before he was found to have fallen from a height nearby. Police said a woman in her thirties called for help at 9.43am, saying she had been knifed by her husband, who is around the same age, in a flat at 88 Fung Cheung Road before managing to flee. Officers arriving at the scene found that the flat in question was on fire, prompting residents to evacuate. The victim's husband was later found...

- Americans recall desperate, self-organised escapes from Middle East: 'you're on your own' (2026-03-07 03:35)

Alyssa Ramos' evacuation from Kuwait took 48 hours and carried her across four continents. The US government did not help with any part of it, the travel blogger said. "They keep going on the news and saying they're doing everything they can to get Americans out," Ramos said after landing in Miami on Thursday. "I know for a fact they're not." She said she repeatedly messaged the US embassy in Kuwait before being directed to the consular section, which told her it could not help her leave the...

- Indonesia's US trade deal faces a sovereignty reckoning at home (2026-03-07 03:00)

Indonesia went to Washington to negotiate a trade deal and came home with more than 200 obligations to America's nine. A day after the signing, the US Supreme Court struck down the legal basis for the tariff threat that had driven the whole exercise – for a time, at least. Detractors have likened this "agreement on reciprocal trade" to a blank cheque and a surrender of Indonesia's sovereignty. The government, for its part, calls it a win-win. The deal was signed by President Prabowo Subianto on...

- As the world's wealthy relocate, rewriting the property map, will Hong Kong win out? (2026-03-07 03:00)

From Sydney to Hong Kong, wealth migration is reshaping the global super-luxury property market as activity picks up after two subdued years – though the dominance of relative newcomer Dubai is now being tested by the war in the Middle East. In Sydney, Peter Li, general manager at Plus Agency, said commission revenues on super-luxury homes had risen about 20 per cent from a year earlier. The firm, which handles more than US$300 million in annual sales, has hired six new staff members since...

My grandma, now in her 90s, has long held together an extended family including four children and six grandchildren. As a Chinese saying goes, “Having an elder in the family is like having a treasure.” While my aunt, father and two uncles all live near her in the same city in northern China, my generation has ventured out to different places. Yet no matter where we have settled, no trip home is complete without a visit to Grandma. When I first moved to Beijing, I had to travel about five hours...

- Ancient China had food delivery services; during Song dynasty, emperors ordered meals via eunuchs (2026-03-07 01:00)

Today, we can order food from apps and enjoy it at home, thanks to smartphones and e-payments. But long before modern vehicles and technology, ancient China had already developed a rough version of food delivery services. Historical records say that during the Han dynasty (206BC-220), an emperor once asked his officials about the living conditions of ordinary people. To conceal the fact that famine had struck the city, one official deliberately bought a bowl of meat soup from a market,...

- Angry at your boss? A Hong Kong business lets you rage against machines (2026-03-07 00:30)

Destroying a fridge with a baseball bat or smashing glass bottles against a wall would normally be considered signs of hooliganism or problematic anger issues in Hong Kong. But tucked away in an industrial building in Kowloon Bay district, Smashroom HK is providing residents with exactly that opportunity, and the founders have said it is a way for people to deal with the stress of their daily lives. “I believe the pressure on Hongkongers is much greater here [than elsewhere],” said Leung Ka-lok,...

- Singapore developers feel the heat as China's property woes continue (2026-03-07 00:00)

Singapore's developers are taking hits as China's property downturn drags into another year, with declining rents, emptier buildings and falling values weighing on their results. But analysts say Beijing's huge market and recent policy support mean most investors are unlikely to pull back entirely, instead becoming far more selective about where they invest. Recent earnings from several Singapore developers show the pressure building across their China portfolios, even as investors watch for...

- US tariff refund system to be ready in 45 days, after Trump duties struck down (2026-03-06 21:52)

The US customs agency is readying a system within 45 days to process refunds on President Donald Trump's tariffs that were struck down as illegal, a customs official said in a court filing on Friday. The declaration by Customs and Border Protection official Brandon Lord came just before government lawyers met with a federal trade judge to try to hammer out a broad settlement process for returning US$166 billion in tariff payments to around 330,000 importers. Last month, the US Supreme Court...

- Why Melania Trump's UN speech is an affront to decency (2026-03-06 21:30)

I am a sucker for all kinds of humour, including tasteless jokes. But I draw the line at sick jokes being reported as serious news. As far as those jokes go, the Monday appearance of US first lady Melania Trump as chair of a United Nations Security Council meeting takes the cake. The topic of her speech? Children, technology and education in conflict. She declared that the US “stands with all of the children throughout the world”. Seriously, you can't make this stuff up. The cynicism and...

- US sheds 92,000 jobs in warning sign for Trump's economy (2026-03-06 21:09)

The US unexpectedly lost jobs in February while unemployment edged up, government data showed Friday, piling pressure on President Donald Trump's economic agenda as key midterm elections approach. The world's biggest economy shed 92,000 jobs last month, in a sharp reversal from the job growth of 126,000 in January, the Labour Department said. The unemployment rate, meanwhile, crept up to 4.4 per cent from 4.3 per cent. White House economic adviser Kevin Hassett insisted Friday that the US...

- Australia complains to China after encounter between military helicopters (2026-03-06 18:27)

Australia has raised concerns with China following an “unsafe and unprofessional” encounter between two military helicopters, the defence department said on Friday. An Australian military helicopter was flying over international waters in the Yellow Sea when it was intercepted by a Chinese helicopter on Wednesday, a statement said. The Chinese helicopter matched the Australian aircraft's altitude before “closing in to an unsafe distance”, increasing speed and then rolling towards it,...

- Trump says Cuba is going to 'fall pretty soon' (2026-03-06 17:22)

US President Donald Trump said on Friday that “Cuba is gonna fall pretty soon” in a renewed threat to the communist-ruled island already facing a US energy blockade. “They want to make a deal so badly,” Trump told CNN in an interview a day after suggesting that he would turn to an unspecified project for Cuba after the war against Iran. “We've got plenty of time, but Cuba's ready – after 50 years,” Trump said, explaining that Secretary of State Marco Rubio would be his point man on Cuba. Both...

- Hong Kong women's football team happy to be home after anxious wait in Dubai (2026-03-06 16:26)

The Hong Kong women's football team made it home safely on Friday night after several anxious days stranded in Dubai following the US-Israel attacks on Iran, with members expressing relief at their return but disappointment about having to withdraw from a tournament. Twenty-seven players and staff landed in Hong Kong via Bangkok, where they had transited earlier in the week. One player flew from the Thai capital to Boston in the United States, while another is scheduled to leave Dubai for...

- Wild boar bites hiker, tumbles to its death down flight of stairs in village (2026-03-06 14:55)

A wild boar bit a hiker in Hong Kong before it fell down a flight of stairs and died, according to police. A police spokesman said the victim, 57, had arrived at a public toilet at Boon Kin Village in Tseung Kwan O on Friday morning while hiking with her husband, also 57, and a friend, when the boar suddenly emerged and chased her. Shocked, the woman fell, hitting her head – resulting in swelling on her forehead – and scratching her limbs, police said. Some witnesses reportedly said nearby...

- 50 Israeli fighter jets 'destroy' Iran leaders' underground command centre in Tehran (2026-03-06 14:49)

Israel's military said on Friday it had struck and destroyed the underground military bunker intended for use by Iran's slain supreme leader Ali Khamenei. The underground complex is located beneath Iranian government buildings in central Tehran, the Israel Defense Forces (IDF) said in a statement. Spokesman Effie Defrin described the destruction of the bunker as another blow to Iran's hardline Islamic leadership. Khamenei was killed last Saturday during the opening salvo of Israeli and US air...

- Beijing vows to expand imports amid 'China shock' fears (2026-03-06 14:10)

Beijing has pledged to expand imports and use its vast market to help other countries boost exports to the world's second-largest economy – a move that could help balance global trade at a time when China's export machine faces growing scrutiny. Beijing also planned to diversify markets and nurture new trade drivers such as artificial intelligence, seeking to stabilise trade as global supply chains come under mounting pressure from geopolitical conflicts, officials said. Commerce Minister Wang...

- China's eastern and southern economic powerhouses vie for innovation leadership (2026-03-06 13:41)

China's most powerful economic regions – the Yangtze River Delta and the Greater Bay Area – are racing to meet President Xi Jinping's call for breakthroughs in core technologies including artificial intelligence, as Beijing maps out priorities for the coming 15th five-year plan during the “two sessions”. As part of the annual meeting on Friday, provincial and municipal leaders of Zhejiang province outlined an ambitious strategy to become a key area of AI development and cement the province' s...

- Hong Kong authorities rule out chartering Cathay Pacific flights to Middle East (2026-03-06 13:34)

The Hong Kong government has ruled out chartering Cathay Pacific Airways flights to bring home residents stranded in the Middle East, given the potential danger of navigating partially reopened airspaces and challenges in securing take-off slots at foreign airports, sources have said. The South China Morning Post learned that officials had also weighed the option of repatriation flights from Oman, but the absence of direct Cathay services made the route “impractical” because obtaining aviation...

- Inside China' s 15th 5-year plan: AI, fusion and defence drive next frontier (2026-03-06 13:27)

China on Thursday unveiled a draft blueprint of key projects for the 2026-2030 period, aimed at overcoming chokepoints to gain a steadier footing in the global tech race and its rivalry with the United States. The 15th five-year plan was released as China' s top legislature and political advisory body convened in Beijing for the annual “two sessions” meetings, a time when major economic priorities and policy directions are formally set. Here are the major takeaways from Beijing' s sweeping plan to...

- Israel' s strikes on Lebanon need urgent legal probe, says UN, as hundreds of thousands flee (2026-03-06 13:06)

The United Nations on Friday demanded swift investigations into fatal Israeli strikes across Lebanon to decide if they followed international law. “The devastating impact of this renewed conflict is already before our eyes, with civilians paying a painfully heavy price,” UN rights office spokeswoman Ravina Shamdasani told reporters in Geneva. “We urge the parties to step back from the brink of a major escalation of this conflict in Lebanon.” Her comments came as fresh Israeli strikes battered...

- China pledges full support for tech sector with broad range of new policies (2026-03-06 13:05)

China has outlined a basket of measures to support its technology sector, from creating a more flexible and inclusive fundraising ecosystem to boosting demand for hi-tech products. During a high-profile press conference in Beijing, the country' s top economic officials laid out plans to deepen reforms to ChiNext – China' s board for start-ups – and make it easier and quicker for companies to refinance. “Technological innovation requires high investment, long cycles, and carries significant risks,” ...

- Indonesia to ban under-16s from ‘high-risk’ social media platforms (2026-03-06 13:00)

Indonesia will begin restricting access to some social media platforms for users under 16 from March 28, marking one of the region' s toughest moves yet to curb children' s exposure to harmful online content. Communications and Digital Affairs Minister Meutya Hafid announced the measure on Friday, saying the government had signed a regulation that would gradually stop children under 16 from holding accounts on platforms deemed “high risk”. Hafid said the rule would apply to platforms such as...

- Iran’ s uncertain future poses a strategic test for China (2026-03-06 12:30)

China has responded to the escalating conflict in Iran with familiar language: calls for restraint, condemnation of military escalation and appeals for dialogue. But beneath the carefully calibrated diplomacy lies a harder strategic reality. What happens in Iran carries significant implications for Beijing’ s energy security, regional positioning and global rivalry with the United States. For China, Iran is not an ideological ally in the way Russia appears to be. The relationship is rooted in...

- DNA confirms mutilated remains found on Bali beach belong to kidnapped Ukrainian (2026-03-06 12:24)

Mutilated human remains, including a severed head, that were discovered on a Bali beach last month have been identified through DNA testing as those of a Ukrainian tourist who police say was kidnapped earlier in the resort island’ s south, according to Indonesian authorities. Bali police said forensic analysis had confirmed that body parts found near Ketewel Beach in Gianyar Regency belonged to Ihor Komarov, a 28-year-old Ukrainian national who had been reported abducted in mid-February. The...

- China fires back at currency-depreciation claims, denies using weak yuan to boost exports (2026-03-06 12:00)

Beijing has stressed that it does not intend to rely on a weaker yuan for trade gains, amid a recent rally in the currency and mounting pressure from trade partners to allow it to strengthen. “China has neither the need nor the intention to gain competitive advantages in trade through currency depreciation,” said Pan Gongsheng, governor of the central bank, at a press conference of the country’ s top economic officials on Friday. The comments came ahead of a new round of trade talks between China...

- Why China wants stronger policing of disputed waters under new 5-year plan (2026-03-06 12:00)

China has pledged to strengthen maritime law enforcement and bolster legal and institutional mechanisms to defend its claims in disputed waters. Outlined in Beijing’ s latest five-year policy blueprint, the resolution reflects its effort to strengthen China’ s position in increasingly contested waters. China’ s 15th five-year plan, which covers the 2026-2030 period, also signals a push by policymakers to expand China’ s influence in shaping global maritime governance and rule-making. Unlike the...

- Sacking of teacher for anti-police remarks reasonable, appeal court rules (2026-03-06 11:45)

The Hong Kong government has won an appeal against a court ruling that found a veteran teacher's dismissal for anti-police remarks was unlawful. The Court of Appeal on Friday ruled that the secretary for the civil service was entitled to sack 27-year veteran Toffee Tam Yuk-fun and strip her of all retirement benefits for serious misconduct during the 2019 anti-government protests. Tam, who taught at the Jockey Club Government Secondary School in Kowloon Tong, previously won a judicial review...

- 2 tankers carrying India's Reliance fuel ditch Europe, divert to Singapore, Southeast Asia (2026-03-06 11:18)

Two tankers loaded with fuel from Reliance Industries in India that were headed to Europe made U-turns and are now bound for Asia, according to two trade sources and ship-tracking data, as the refiner capitalises on firm Asian margins with the Iran war squeezing supply. The Advantage Life, which loaded around 100,000 metric tons (745,000 barrels) of diesel at Reliance's Jamnagar refinery on February 28, is currently bound for Singapore, according to Kpler, LSEG data and two trade...

- 3 workers arrested over theft at Tai Po fire block, HK\$90,000 in jewellery seized (2026-03-06 11:18)

Hong Kong police have arrested three construction workers on suspicion of theft at Tai Po's Wang Fuk Court, seizing HK$90,000 (US$11,510) worth of gold jewellery, the South China Morning Post has learned. A source confirmed that police arrested three workers responsible for structural reinforcement work at the estate, destroyed in a blaze last year, for suspected theft on Thursday afternoon. During the investigation, officers seized HK$90,000 worth of gold jewellery from the three labourers, who...

- China's securities regulator vows tougher oversight to shore up stock-market confidence (2026-03-06 11:00)

China's top securities regulator outlined a plan on Friday to strengthen corporate governance, boost investor returns and cultivate globally competitive companies, as Beijing seeks to reinforce confidence in the country's capital markets. "On the basis of continuously strengthening the authenticity of listed companies, we will further enhance their investability," said Wu Qing, chairman of the China Securities Regulatory Commission (CSRC), at a press conference on the sidelines of China's annual...

- 8 takeaways from the economic briefing at China's 'two sessions' (2026-03-06 10:57)

China's top economic officials held a press conference on the sidelines of the "two sessions" – the annual meetings of China's top legislature and advisory body – in Beijing on Friday. The briefing, which came a day after Beijing unveiled its economic goals for 2026 and a draft outline for its 15th five-year plan, offered fresh insights into China's agenda for trade, investment and technological development. Here are the main takeaways from the meeting: Exchange rate Pan Gongsheng, governor of...

- Sri Lanka takes control of Iranian ship, brings crew to shore (2026-03-06 10:35)

Sri Lanka began transferring more than 200 sailors from an Iranian vessel to shore on Friday after the ship sought help while anchored outside the country's waters, as tensions mounted in the Indian Ocean following the sinking of an Iranian warship by a US submarine. Sri Lanka navy spokesman Commander Buddhika Sampath said the sailors of the IRIS Bushehr were being brought first to the port of Colombo and the ship will later be moved to an eastern port on the island. "The disembarkation is in...

- Hong Kong police arrest 3 linked to HK\$10 million knifepoint robbery (2026-03-06 10:27)

Hong Kong police have arrested three men in connection with a HK$10 million (US$1.28 million) knifepoint robbery in Sheung Wan, the latest in a string of such cases targeting people exchanging foreign currency. Superintendent Lo Ka-chun said on Friday that officers had earlier received a tip-off that a criminal syndicate would attempt a robbery, prompting police to set up an ambush at about 9am that day. "This morning, the two victims had taken about HK$10 million in foreign currency to a...

- China to pursue commercial health insurance to ease public strain, support drug innovation (2026-03-06 10:12)

China has for the first time included commercial health insurance in its 2026 government work report, signalling efforts to strengthen the country's social safety net and support the growth of innovative drugs and medical devices. On Thursday, Chinese Premier Li Qiang said the government would "work faster to develop commercial health insurance" and promote the "high-quality development of innovative drugs and medical devices" to better meet people's diverse needs. Behind the unusual emphasis...

- Chinese man adopted by Canadian family reunites with birth father after being abandoned (2026-03-06 10:00)

A Chinese man who got lost at a railway station at the age of four and was adopted by a Canadian couple who abandoned him has been reunited with his biological father. Zhang Yunpeng, 28, hugged his father Zhang Jiucheng and both of them burst into tears at the reunion event in Huinan county, Jilin province, northeastern China, on March 2. "After more than 20 years, I saw you finally," Zhang senior said, Jimu News reported. The son replied with his rusty Chinese: "Dad, I love you." Zhang junior...

- Could Iran war confirm China's prediction on US military's hypersonic nightmare? (2026-03-06 09:56)

On the same day the US and Israel launched air strikes against Iran, a research team led by Liao Longwen with the Northwest Institute of Nuclear Technology published a paper in the Chinese journal Tactical Missile Technology on the ability of US missile defence systems to intercept hypersonic weapons. The US systems were dangerously outmatched by these threats, the researchers concluded in the paper released on Saturday. “Existing US missile defences cannot theoretically intercept some hypersonic...”

- China’s last CMC general urges more ‘political rectification’ in PLA centenary countdown (2026-03-06 09:52)

The last uniformed man standing on China’s top military body has called for further “political rectification” of the armed forces, following a wave of high-profile corruption investigations. At a panel discussion in Beijing on Thursday as part of the country’s annual “two sessions”, Zhang Shengmin, vice-chairman of the Central Military Commission (CMC), said this year was “crucial for fulfilling the goal for the centenary” of the People’s Liberation Army. “We must deepen political rectification,...

- Qatar’s LNG halt exposes Asia’s energy vulnerability (2026-03-06 09:30)

Asia is bracing itself for another energy shock after a disruption to Qatar’s liquefied natural gas (LNG) output sent regional gas prices to their highest level in about three years, exposing what observers say is a dangerous reliance on Middle Eastern fuel supplies. The increase follows Iran’s drone strikes on Qatar in retaliation for Israeli and US attacks in a widening conflict, alongside a blockade of shipping through the Strait of Hormuz – a key artery for global oil and gas trade. Spot LNG...

- CK Hutchison escalates legal action over Panama ports seizure (2026-03-06 09:15)

Hong Kong conglomerate CK Hutchison Holdings has stepped up legal action in response to what it called Panamanian authorities’ unlawful takeover of the operations of two ports at either end of the strategic canal. The group, led by the family of Hong Kong tycoon Li Ka-shing, said on Friday it had submitted a supplement to its earlier petition against the Panamanian state for international arbitration. The supplement alleged that Panama continued to ignore the firm’s requests for communication...

- UK police arrest 4 on suspicion of spying for Iran (2026-03-06 09:14)

Four men were arrested in Britain on Friday on suspicion of assisting Iran’s intelligence service by spying on locations and people linked to London’s Jewish community, police said. The men – one Iranian national and three dual British-Iranians – were arrested by counterterrorism police at three separate addresses in the UK capital, the Metropolitan Police said in a statement. The force’s head of counterterrorism policing, Helen Flanagan, said the arrests were “part of a long-running...”

- China’s AI focus, growth target cut, US-China trade talks (2026-03-06 09:00)

SCMP.com will carry a live blog of the foreign ministry’s “two sessions” press conference on Sunday morning (Beijing time). Foreign Minister Wang Yi is likely to speak at the event. China is sharpening its focus on artificial intelligence (AI) and advanced manufacturing as it seeks to bolster the economy and achieve technological self-reliance. The digital economy will grow to 12.5 per cent of gross domestic product by 2030, from 10.5 per cent last year, under the 15th five-year plan being...

- Malaysian FA disappointed with CAS ruling to partially uphold player sanctions

(2026-03-06 08:41)

Malaysia's football association said on Friday it was disappointed by a Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) ruling to partially uphold sanctions on seven footballers who played for the national team using falsified naturalisation documents. Deportivo Alaves' Facundo Garcés was among seven players banned for a year by Fifa in September after it found that doctored documentation had been used so that they could play in an Asian Cup qualifier for Malaysia against Vietnam last year. The other...

- China's energy transition proves a boon in the Iran crisis (2026-03-06 08:30)

As the world's largest oil and gas importer, China undoubtedly faces a significant disruption, what with the US-Israeli war on Iran and its cascading impact across the Gulf. But it could have been worse. Beijing has worked unstintingly for well over a decade to build energy self-reliance and reduce the role of fossil fuels in powering the country's manufacturing economy. For leaders gathered in Beijing for the annual parliamentary "two sessions" meetings, which will endorse China's 15th...

- Indonesia faces fiscal squeeze as Iran war drives up oil prices (2026-03-06 08:03)

Indonesia could face a sharp fiscal squeeze if the US-Israel war on Iran pushes oil prices higher, analysts warn, as this risks inflating the country's fuel subsidy bill at a time when global ratings agencies and investors are already scrutinising Jakarta's budgetary discipline. A prolonged war could force policymakers into a difficult choice: maintain fuel subsidies and risk breaching the legal deficit ceiling – potentially unsettling investors further – or cut funding to keep the budget within...

(2026-03-06 07:06)

A Malaysian mother who allowed her underage son to drive her car, which later got into an accident claiming three lives, was fined 1,500 ringgit (US$379) by the Magistrate's Court in Seremban, Negeri Sembilan state. Magistrate Nurul Azuin Mohd Talhah also ordered 40-year-old Nur Farahidayah A Rahman to be jailed for three months in the event she was unable to pay the fine. "After considering the guilty plea by the accused, mitigating factors and submissions by parties and the aggravating...

- Hitting inflation target is key to China's other economic goals, adviser says (2026-03-06 07:00)

Achieving this year's inflation target would be one of China's top economic tasks, a prominent economist and government adviser said, as it was pivotal to accomplishing other government priorities such as boosting consumption, raising incomes and achieving the required headline growth figures. "The inflation target corresponds to a state of relative equilibrium between supply and demand," Zhang Bin, deputy director of the Institute of World Economics and Politics at the Chinese Academy of Social...

- How far could the war with Iran spread beyond the Middle East? (2026-03-06 07:00)

What began as a US-Israeli assault on Iran is rapidly evolving into a conflict with the potential to spread far beyond the Middle East. Iranian missiles and drones have already struck or reached Turkey and Azerbaijan, while European powers are rushing additional warships, fighter jets and air defences to the eastern Mediterranean and Gulf to contain the fallout. Analysts warn the longer the war continues, the greater the risk that long-simmering regional fault lines – from Kurdish militancy to...

- Philippines battles US-Iran war fuel crisis with air con limits, flexible work plan (2026-03-06 05:43)

The Philippines is looking at ways to save on energy as tensions in the Middle East push global fuel costs higher, with the government suggesting people use their air conditioners less and shy away from non-essential travel. The Southeast Asian nation imports nearly all of its oil requirements and the war in Iran could spur inflation that already hit a 13-month high in February. President Ferdinand Marcos Jr's administration this week ordered government offices to set their air conditioners to...

- South Korea uneasy as US weighs moving air defences to Middle East (2026-03-06 05:37)

Reports that Washington could redirect some US military assets from South Korea to the Middle East have stirred unease in Seoul, reviving concerns that a crisis elsewhere could thin deterrence on the Korean peninsula. Analysts said a redeployment of missile-defence systems could leave South Korea feeling vulnerable to North Korean “adventurism” and signal Washington’s “shifting priorities and lack of seriousness” towards its Indo-Pacific allies. Citing a South Korean government official, the...

- The European leader defying Trump and his attacks on Iran (2026-03-06 05:23)

Spain’s Pedro Sanchez has once again emerged as Europe’s most consistently vocal critic of US President Donald Trump, drawing his ire for refusing to allow the American military to stage operations for its attacks on Iran from Spanish military bases. Trump lashed out at the Spanish prime minister on Tuesday, saying he would “cut off all trade with Spain” in retaliation for the affront. The spat intensified the next day when Spain’s foreign minister contradicted a claim by the White House press...

The US Justice Department on Thursday released additional Jeffrey Epstein files involving uncorroborated accusations made by a woman against US President Donald Trump that the department said had been mistakenly withheld during an earlier review. The department said last week that it was working to determine if any records were improperly withheld after several news organisations reported that the massive tranche of records that had been made public did not include some files documenting a...

- Jimmy Lai will not appeal 20-year sentence after national security trial: source (2026-03-06 03:41)

Former Hong Kong media boss Jimmy Lai Chee-ying has decided not to appeal against his conviction and 20-year jail sentence imposed in a landmark national security trial, the South China Morning Post has learned. A member of Lai's Hong Kong legal team, who asked not to be named, confirmed to the SCMP on Friday that Lai would not file an application to the Court of Appeal before the usual 28-day deadline for lodging an appeal in criminal proceedings expires on Monday. "We can confirm we have clear...

- Hong Kong court upholds limits on journalists' instant access to car registry (2026-03-06 03:23)

The Hong Kong Journalists Association has lost its judicial challenge against the government's decision to restrict reporters' access to its vehicle registry, despite a ruling by the city's top court that journalism is a valid reason for use. The High Court on Friday ruled against the press union over the policy introduced in early 2024, following the Court of Final Appeal's decision that a freelance producer was entitled to access Transport Department records while making a documentary critical...

- China’ s BYD looks to make electric vehicle charging as fast as filling up with petrol
(2026-03-06 03:15)

Leading Chinese electric vehicle (EV) manufacturer BYD has unveiled a new-generation battery featuring charging speeds that the company says can rival a refill at a petrol station. BYD’ s Blade Battery 2.0, launched on Thursday, can be charged from 10 per cent to 70 per cent in five minutes, and to 97 per cent in nine minutes, which the company said was the world’ s fastest charging speed for a mass-manufactured unit. Even in extreme weather, with temperatures as low as minus 30 degrees Celsius...

- China’ s new 5-year plan targets tax reform as local governments face fiscal strain
(2026-03-06 03:00)

With local governments in China struggling to replenish their treasuries while facing growing public service obligations, Beijing is setting its sights on securing more tax revenue as a major reform goal for 2026 and the four years beyond. Compared with the previous five-year plan period’ s emphasis on “tax and fee cuts” , the language in the draft of the full 15th five-year plan – released on Thursday – emphasised “maintaining a reasonable macro tax burden” . The document also pledged to...

- Japan’ s manga industry faces a ‘#MeToo moment’ after Shogakukan scandal
(2026-03-06 03:00)

One of Japan’ s largest manga publishers is facing mounting backlash after it emerged that a writer convicted of sexually assaulting a minor had continued producing work for the company under a different name. The controversy has prompted some observers to ask whether Japan’ s manga industry is experiencing a belated “#MeToo moment” , as prominent creators pull their works from the publisher’ s Manga One digital platform in protest. Tokyo-based Shogakukan said on Tuesday it would set up a...

- US seen as likely responsible for Iran school strike that killed scores of children
(2026-03-06 02:32)

US military investigators believe it is likely that US forces were responsible for an apparent strike on an Iranian girls’ school that killed scores of children on Saturday but have not yet reached a final conclusion or completed their investigation, two US officials told Reuters. Reuters was unable to determine more details about the investigation, including what evidence contributed to the tentative assessment, what type of munition was used, who was responsible or why the US might have...

- US-Israel war on Iran: will Malaysia’ s tourism thrive amid Mideast crisis? (2026-03-06 02:30)

With the escalating tensions in the Middle East, there have been flight cancellations, closures of several airports and an increasing fear of flying abroad. Malaysia's tourism industry, however, is confident the country's diversified visitor base will help cushion any potential impact on the Visit Malaysia 2026 campaign. The conflict has disrupted thousands of flights, prompting travellers to adopt a "wait-and-see" approach, said Malaysian Association of Tour and Travel Agents president Nigel...

- Chinese vice-premier stresses shared duty in Hong Kong's executive-led governance (2026-03-06 02:21)

Chinese Vice-Premier Ding Xuexiang has acknowledged it is no "easy task" to truly implement Hong Kong's executive-led governance system, stressing that it must be a "shared responsibility" of the legislative and judicial branches and society as a whole. But Ding, the head of the Central Leading Group on Hong Kong and Macau Affairs, said an executive-led governance system was "important and essential" for the city to align with China's 15th five-year plan and advance its integration with the...

- China's 'two sessions': adviser urges end to forced marriages of mentally ill rural women (2026-03-06 02:12)

A top Chinese political adviser has sounded the alarm on forced marriages of women with mental disabilities in rural areas, calling for a prevention mechanism and a nationwide investigation campaign. Jiang Shengnan, a writer and member of the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference (CPPCC), China's top political advisory body, warned that tackling the issue presented multiple challenges. There was a lack of support for such women when it came to marriage-related decision-making, Jiang...

- Japan weighs military upgrade on Iwo Jima amid growing Chinese presence in Pacific (2026-03-06 02:00)

Japan is considering a significant expansion of its military presence on Iwoto – the island south of Tokyo better known as Iwo Jima and the site of one of World War II's fiercest battles – as it responds to growing Chinese activity in the Pacific Ocean. The Asahi newspaper reported on Wednesday that the defence ministry planned to strengthen its presence on the volcanic island, about 1,207km south of the Japanese capital. Analysts say the aim is to bolster the economic and military security of...

- Let the achievements of Eileen Gu and Alysa Liu speak for themselves (2026-03-06 01:30)

Athletes of Asian heritage have come to the fore at this month's Winter Olympics. They broke records, reshaped perceptions and inspired millions worldwide. Yet in the United States, the conversation around two of the most successful athletes, Eileen Gu, the freestyle skier representing China, and Team USA figure skater Alysa Liu, has too often drifted from their incredible achievements to questions of identity, loyalty and partisan point-scoring. This speaks volumes about the anxieties of a...

- Iran damage report: who and what has been targeted in US-Israel strikes? (2026-03-06 01:25)

The US and Israel are striking a much wider array of targets in Iran than they did during 12 days of war last summer, when their focus was on the country's nuclear enrichment sites. Now, the aim appears to be destroying Iran's military and weakening the grip of its theocratic rulers, experts say. US Central Command alone says it has hit more than 2,000 targets in less than a week, a far heavier barrage than any American bombing campaign in the Middle East in more than a decade, according to...

- Albanese says Australian troops were on board US submarine that sank Iranian ship (2026-03-06 01:11)

Three Australian military personnel were on board an American submarine that sank an Iranian navy ship off Sri Lanka this week, Prime Minister Anthony Albanese said on Friday. Speaking to Sky News, Albanese said: "I can confirm that there were three Australian personnel on board that vessel". The personnel were on board the submarine as part of training arrangements under Aukus, a multidecade defence pact with Britain and the United States, Albanese said. "These are long-standing third country...

- Chinese man discovers gold particles in duck's stomach, weighing 10 grams, worth US\$1,800 (2026-03-06 01:00)

A man from central China discovered gold while slaughtering a duck, an unusual find that echoes ancient gold rush practices. In February, a villager surnamed Liu from Longhui county, Hunan province, discovered the gold particles in a duck's stomach. After a burning test, the particles were confirmed to be genuine gold, weighing around 10g and valued at nearly 12,000 yuan (US$1,800), the mainland media outlet Xinwenfang reported. Liu's father saw it as a sign of good luck for the year ahead. Liu...

- 'More dim sum, more often' : Hongkongers cash in as war triggers gold rush (2026-03-06 00:30)

Rising gold prices amid the Middle East war have boosted trade in the precious metal in Hong Kong, with residents lining up to sell valuables for cash and retailers reporting that twice as many people are buying bars and pellets. Spot gold stood at US$5,165 per ounce on Thursday, below January's peak of US$5,594.82, but still near historic high levels as US-Israel strikes in Iran stoked safe-haven demand. The conflict has spread rapidly across the Middle East, drawing in Iranian-backed militias...

- Japan is eyeing a 'China-free' supply chain for defence equipment. Is it feasible? (2026-03-06 00:00)

Japan could build a "China-free" supply chain for defence equipment, but doing so would be costly and could take years as Tokyo tries to reduce its reliance on a strategic rival, analysts have said. The debate gained urgency after Defence Minister Shinjiro Koizumi last week said Tokyo should consider creating a “China-free” supply chain for defence equipment, following Beijing’s ban on exports of dual-use items to Japan. Speaking during a Lower House Budget Committee session, Koizumi said...

- Trump sued in bid to undo approval of TikTok’s US sale (2026-03-05 23:48)

Donald Trump and his attorney general were sued on Thursday by retail investors in two social media rivals of TikTok seeking to reverse the US president’s approval of a deal by the company’s Chinese owner ByteDance to form a majority American-owned joint venture. The lawsuit, the first legal challenge to the deal, argues that Trump’s approval last year violated requirements set out in a 2024 divestiture law. Two California residents who hold shares in Alphabet and Meta Platforms sued, backed by...

- Lean harder into Hong Kong-mainland China market ties, ‘two sessions’ delegates urge (2026-03-05 23:30)

Hong Kong can reinforce its role as an international financial centre by deepening integration with mainland capital markets and expanding cross-border investment channels, financial industry leaders said on Thursday during China’s annual “two sessions”. Stronger collaboration between Hong Kong and mainland exchanges would enhance the resilience of the mainland’s financial system while supporting the internationalisation of the yuan, said Tan Yueheng, permanent honorary president of the Chinese...

- Crypto billionaire Justin Sun settles US fraud case for US\$10 million (2026-03-05 22:54)

Chinese cryptocurrency entrepreneur Justin Sun has reached a US$10 million settlement to resolve a US Securities and Exchange Commission civil fraud case over his trading activity. Thursday’s settlement requires court approval, with the payment made by one of Sun’s companies. It came as US President Donald Trump pushes to make the United States a global hub for the cryptocurrency industry. Sun and his companies did not admit or deny wrongdoing, the SEC said in a letter to US District Judge...

- Insilico Medicine advances Middle East push with UAE AI drug discovery deal (2026-03-05 22:30)

Hong Kong-listed Insilico Medicine has signed a cooperation agreement with the United Arab Emirates’ drug regulator to advance the use of its artificial intelligence tools in drug discovery across the region, even as geopolitical tensions escalate in the Middle East. Shares of Insilico rose as much as 12.8 per cent in morning trading on Thursday before paring gains to close 8.6 per cent higher at HK$56.10. The advance outpaced the benchmark Hang Seng Index, which edged up 0.3 per cent. The...

- 24 US states sue to stop Trump’s latest global tariffs, including New York, California (2026-03-05 19:27)

A group of 24 US states sued President Donald Trump's administration on Thursday in the first legal challenge to his newly imposed 10 per cent global tariffs, alleging that the president cannot sidestep a recent US Supreme Court ruling that invalidated most of his previous tariffs on imported goods by citing new legal authority, according to the states. The Democratic-led states, including New York, California and Oregon, argued that the new tariffs, which Trump announced immediately after the...

- Trump ousts Kristi Noem as Homeland Security chief amid immigration uproar (2026-03-05 19:04)

One of the top officials overseeing Donald Trump's immigration crackdown, Homeland Security Secretary Kristi Noem, will leave her role, the US president said on Thursday, a major staffing move that raises questions about the direction of the Republican president's immigration agenda. "I am pleased to announce that the Highly Respected United States Senator from the Great State of Oklahoma, Markwayne Mullin, will become the United States Secretary of Homeland Security (DHS), effective March 31,...

- US asking Ukraine for help against Iran's drones in Middle East, Zelensky says (2026-03-05 18:47)

The US has asked Ukraine for help fending off Iranian drone attacks in the Middle East, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky said on Thursday, adding that he had ordered expert support to be given. During Russia's four-year invasion, Kyiv has developed a range of cheap and effective drone interceptors – aerial craft designed to hit incoming attack drones mid-air – that it says are world-leading. Zelensky on Tuesday offered US allies in the Middle East a swap of some of their air defence...

- US won't let India become rival like China, Trump official says (2026-03-05 18:18)

The US will not give India the same kind of economic advantages it gave China, which allowed that country to emerge as a major competitor, Deputy Secretary of State Christopher Landau said on Thursday, signalling Washington's cautiousness in negotiations over a trade deal. While the US wants to work with India to unlock its "limitless potential," India should understand that "we are not going to make the same mistakes with India that we made with China 20 years ago", Landau said at the Raisina...

- Trump says he must be involved in picking Iran's new leader, Khamenei's son 'unacceptable' (2026-03-05 17:14)

US President Donald Trump on Thursday insisted he should have a role in picking Iran's next supreme leader after the killing of Ayatollah Ali Khamenei, whose son he said he found unacceptable. "Khamenei's son is a lightweight. I have to be involved in the appointment, like with Delcy," Trump told Axios in an interview, drawing a comparison to Venezuela, where interim president Delcy Rodriguez has cooperated with him under threat of violence after the US ousted her boss, Nicolas Maduro. Trump...

[The content of this article has been produced by our advertising partner.] Hong Kong takes decisive initiative amid a shifting global higher education landscape as student mobility diversifies beyond traditional destinations and universities forge practice-oriented partnerships and programmes that build cross-border competencies for a fluid global talent market. The city has amplified the “Study in Hong Kong” brand, expanded institutional collaboration, and aligned policy with institutional...

- Court of Arbitration for Sport cuts sanctions on Malaysia players to official-match bans (2026-03-05 15:30)

The Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) on Thursday eased sanctions on seven footballers who played for Malaysia using falsified naturalisation documents, ruling they will serve a 12-month suspension from official matches only. Deportivo Alaves’ Facundo Garces was among seven players banned for a year by Fifa in September, after football’s governing body found that doctored documentation had been used so that they could play in an Asian Cup qualifier for Malaysia against Vietnam. The other...

- China’s 5-year plan emphasises ‘orderly’ AI development amid global tech volatility (2026-03-05 15:30)

Beijing has emphasised the safe and orderly development of artificial intelligence amid growing global anxiety about the disruptive impact of the rapidly advancing technology, as the country’s leaders put the final stamp of approval on China’s next five-year plan at this year’s “two sessions”. The 15th five-year plan elevates China’s AI Plus initiative as a top national priority, according to a draft version of the document submitted for review to the National People’s Congress, China’s top...

- China targets lowest growth range since 1991 in realistic move as pressures rise (2026-03-05 14:30)

Beijing has set a relatively cautious yet pragmatic economic growth target for 2026 amid persistent domestic headwinds and escalating external pressures. A 4.5 to 5 per cent GDP growth target – the lowest since 1991 – was announced by Premier Li Qiang on Thursday at the opening session of the National People’s Congress (NPC), China’s top legislature. In delivering his annual government work report, Li reaffirmed Beijing’s aim for stronger economic growth where conditions allowed. He emphasised...

- JD.com posts first quarterly loss in nearly four years as delivery battle takes toll (2026-03-05 14:01)

Chinese e-commerce giant JD.com reported a 2.7 billion yuan (US$392 million) loss in the fourth quarter and a halving of annual profit amid an ongoing food delivery battle it ignited last year.

The fourth-quarter loss contrasted with a profit of 9.9 billion yuan a year earlier, marking the company's first quarterly loss since the start of 2022, according to its earnings results on Thursday. Profit for last year dropped nearly 53 per cent to 19.6 billion yuan. However, by non-generally accepted...

- Xi Jinping calls for China's provincial powerhouses to lead on tech at 'two sessions' (2026-03-05 13:22)

President Xi Jinping urged China's major provincial economies to take the lead in technological innovation and strengthen their resilience to external shocks over the next five years, as part of the annual meeting of the National People's Congress (NPC) – the country's top legislature – which began in Beijing on Thursday. Addressing deputies from the eastern province of Jiangsu, Xi said the region should be at the forefront of developing “new quality productive forces” – the emerging industries...

- China keeps defence budget growth steady as modernisation deadline looms (2026-03-05 13:00)

China has earmarked a 7 per cent increase in defence spending this year, keeping the growth rate largely stable even as the White House aims to ramp up expenditure for the military. In a budget released on Thursday at the start of the annual session of the National People's Congress (NPC), Beijing said it would allocate 1.91 trillion yuan (US$277 billion) for defence. The 7 per cent is a shade down from the 7.2 per cent rise last year but still above the 4.5 to 5 per cent GDP growth target set...

- Tung Wah College to undergo review in April on bid to gain university status (2026-03-05 12:53)

Tung Wah College, a tertiary institution in Hong Kong known for its nursing care and allied health programmes, will undergo a combined review next month on its application to become both a private university and a university of applied sciences (UAS) and is “very confident”, its head has said. Professor Sally Chan Wai-chi, president of the 16-year-old Ho Man Tin-based college, said on Thursday that it planned to adopt the name “Hong Kong Tung Wah University” if its application was approved. At a...

- Hong Kong truck driver arrested after crash kills cabby and passenger (2026-03-05 12:48)

Hong Kong police have arrested a driver after his truck collided head-on with a taxi, fatally injuring the driver and passenger. The force said on Thursday the truck driver, a 35-year-old man surnamed He, was arrested on suspicion of dangerous driving causing death and detained for questioning. The taxi was travelling along Fan Kam Road near the Fanling golf course towards Sheung Shui and the medium goods vehicle was heading to Yuen Long on the same road when they collided at 11.25am. The taxi...

- Warning over screen time and chatbots as number of depressed hits record high

(2026-03-05 12:45)

One in three Hong Kong adults have moderate to severe symptoms of depression, almost triple the rate from 2012, with Generation Z respondents who spent a lot of time on screens affected the most, a survey has found. The biennial study, conducted by the Mental Health Association NGO and the Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK), also found that 22 per cent of the 2,700 adult respondents turned to AI chatbots to manage their stress, which experts on Thursday described as “risky” as this could...

- China’ s ‘two sessions’ show plans for resilience in a stormy world (2026-03-05 12:30)

China’ s “two sessions” this year presents less of a story of an economic miracle than of transition: from high-speed to high-quality growth, and from dependence on external demand to a more resilient, innovation-driven economy. Against a backdrop of global tensions and fragmenting supply chains, Beijing is using this political moment to signal that it sees opportunity in adversity and is prepared to recalibrate its development model rather than cling to the habits of the boom years. For China,...

- Philippines advances Sara Duterte impeachment case, but ‘this is not a cakewalk’

(2026-03-05 12:25)

Philippine lawmakers have moved two impeachment complaints against Vice-President Sara Duterte-Carpio a step closer to formal proceedings, advancing a case that could ultimately threaten her political future as a potential contender for the presidency in 2028. The drawn-out process also carries political risks for both camps, with some lawmakers arguing that a failed Senate conviction could ultimately strengthen Duterte-Carpio ahead of the 2028 race. The House of Representatives’ justice...

Azerbaijan warned on Thursday that it was preparing unspecified response measures after a pair of Iranian drones flew across its border and injured four people in the Nakhchivan exclave, raising concern about further spillover of the conflict in the Middle East. “These attacks will not remain unanswered,” the Azerbaijani Defence Ministry said in a statement. It added that it was investigating the types of drones used in the attack, and “preparing the necessary response measures to protect the...

- Italy to send aid to Gulf states and Cyprus after Iranian strikes (2026-03-05 11:33)

Italy is planning to send air defence aid to Gulf countries and naval assets to Cyprus after Iranian air strikes, the government said on Thursday, amid concern for the safety of citizens and troops in the region as well as for energy security. As the US-Iran war entered its sixth day, the conflict has widened beyond Gulf states and into Asia, convulsing global markets and prompting thousands of stranded tourists and residents to try to flee the Middle East. Right-wing Prime Minister Giorgia...

Hong Kong customs officers have discovered HK$230 million (US$29.4 million) worth of gold and silver hidden in two air cargo shipments of household cleaning machines destined for Japan, making the largest seizure of precious metals on record. Senior Investigator Ho Ting-chun of the Customs and Excise Department’s syndicate crimes investigation bureau said on Thursday officers intercepted 168kg (370lbs) of suspected gold foil and 285kg of suspected silver foil worth HK$230 million in an operation...

- Hong Kong lawmaker Judy Chan charged over driving against traffic in Wan Chai (2026-03-05 11:14)

A Hong Kong lawmaker has been charged with a traffic offence after she was filmed driving on the wrong side of a road in Wan Chai more than a month ago. A police source said on Thursday that the force had earlier served a summons to prosecute a local female driver for careless driving, after she allegedly drove in the wrong direction of traffic on Jaffe Road on January 23. It was understood that the driver was New People’s Party lawmaker Judy Chan Kapui, who represents the Hong Kong Island West...

- China pledges ‘iron discipline’ to tackle debt risks as US borrowing under Trump surges (2026-03-05 11:00)

As the United States grapples with mounting debt, China is doubling down on efforts to clean up its own balance sheet, vowing to tackle risks with “iron discipline”. The pledge came as the world’s second-largest economy weathers a years-long real estate slump and cooling domestic demand. Beijing faces growing pressure to balance short-term growth targets with longer-term deleveraging, as it seeks to transition to a more sustainable economy. In the government work report delivered on Thursday to...

- What does Marco Rubio's 'unleash Chiang' threat against Iran actually mean? (2026-03-05 11:00)

US Secretary of State Marco Rubio has stirred unexpected debate in Taiwan after invoking the phrase “unleash Chiang” while warning that Washington would intensify its strikes against Iran. Speaking to reporters on Tuesday about the escalating Middle East conflict, Rubio said the world would soon see a change in the scope and intensity of the attacks. “We’re going to unleash Chiang on these people in the next few hours and days,” he said. The remark, made in the context of US efforts to dismantle...

- China and Hong Kong should relax biotech listing rules, venture capitalist says (2026-03-05 10:59)

Mainland China and Hong Kong should ease listing rules for biotechnology companies and lower takeover thresholds for listed firms to capitalise on renewed foreign interest in the healthcare sector, venture capitalist Nisa Leung said. “Besides artificial intelligence, Premier Li Qiang also highlighted biomedicine in the ‘two sessions’ annual government work report,” said Leung, a managing partner at Aulis Capital, speaking in a sideline interview during China’s annual meetings of the National...

- Iran thanks Chinese public after US-Israeli air strikes prompt online wave of sympathy (2026-03-05 10:42)

The deadly US-Israeli military strikes on Iran have triggered an outpouring of public sympathy and support in China, with many social media users condemning the attacks and discussing ways to help. The Iranian embassy in China thanked the “righteous” Chinese public on Thursday for their support, but said it was not accepting financial help from Chinese individuals and organisations for now. “The embassy would like to express its sincere gratitude to the civilised and righteous Chinese people,” ...

A Berlin court on Thursday jailed a Syrian man for 13 years for a jihadist-inspired knife attack on a Spanish tourist at the German capital' s Holocaust memorial. The 20-year-old suspect, named only as Wassim Al M., was convicted of attempted murder, grievous bodily harm and attempted membership of a terrorist organisation, the court said. The stabbing in February 2025 inflamed an already heated debate on migration just a few days before a general election in Germany. Presiding judge Doris Husch...

- Top chip leaders urge national drive to ‘build China’ s ASML’ amid US curbs (2026-03-05 09:32)

China' s top semiconductor executives have called for a nationwide push to build a domestic alternative to Dutch chip-equipment giant ASML, urging the industry to “abandon illusions and prepare for struggle” amid US sanctions. The current industry was too “small, fragmented and weak” , which was “dispersing numerous public resources” , according to an article co-authored by the co-founder of Semiconductor Manufacturing International Corporation (SMIC) and leaders of Empyrean, Yangtze Memory...

- Hong Kong man freed after court finds pastor forced confession in poisoning case (2026-03-05 09:04)

A Hong Kong man jailed for allegedly poisoning a pastor' s daughter he was infatuated with was freed on Thursday after a judge overturned his conviction, ruling that his recorded confession had been coerced under threat. The High Court found that Ye Wen-fei, 29, admitted to poisoning the woman with sodium nitrate in 2024 only after her father, a pastor at the NGO Agapeministry, intimidated him into admitting the alleged crime. Ye was released immediately after the judge overturned his conviction...

- Iran war shows markets can't ignore every geopolitical shock (2026-03-05 08:30)

For sheer escalatory potential, look no further than the speed at which the six-day-old war in Iran has drawn in countries across the Middle East, causing the biggest energy shock since Russia's full-scale invasion of Ukraine in 2022. While the long-term consequences of military action by the United States and Israel against Iran are unpredictable, worst-case scenarios for the global economy and markets have begun to unfold. Although the least important thing about any war is how it affects...

- Hong Kong man denies intent to kill girlfriend, says 'she was an alien' (2026-03-05 06:57)

A Hong Kong man on trial for allegedly murdering his live-in girlfriend four years ago has said he thought she was an alien because she did not bear his child. A High Court jury of four men and three women heard on Thursday that Tang Lung-fai, 56, admitted causing the death of Fok Sin-yee, 38, during a scuffle at their home in Mui Tsz Lam village, Ma On Shan, on or about April 14, 2022. But the defendant, who ran a private campsite near his home, denied intending to kill his partner or cause her...

Singapore police have announced arrests of three Singaporeans as part of investigations into alleged transnational scam syndicate Prince Group and its founder and chairman, Chen Zhi, who is in Chinese detention. Police said the three men were arrested between November 2025 and January for their suspected involvement in money laundering and fraud offences in relation to the case. Each offence is punishable by imprisonment of up to 10 years, a fine or both. Assets frozen include three properties,...

- 'Will I ever get home'? Stranded Hongkongers in Middle East scrambling for flights (2026-03-05 06:32)

Hongkongers stranded in the Middle East are exhausting all options to secure flights back to the city amid the escalating regional conflict, with some resorting to booking multiple tickets in the hope that one will be confirmed before claiming refunds for the rest. An aviation expert also cautioned on Thursday that it remained uncertain when regular air traffic would resume between Hong Kong and the Middle East, as he explained that the first flight from the region was made possible through the...

- Is looming Xi-Trump summit behind the PLA's break in air sorties near Taiwan? (2026-03-05 06:07)

Over six consecutive days since Friday, for the first time in at least three years, Beijing dispatched no warplanes near Taiwan, a pause which analysts say reflects deliberate caution ahead of this month's Xi-Trump summit. The absence of People's Liberation Army (PLA) aircraft near the self-ruled island from Friday through to Wednesday is the longest such pause in the past three years, according to Taiwanese defence ministry data compiled by the South China Morning Post. The number of PLA naval...

- Alibaba sets up new task force, led by CEO Eddie Wu, to focus on AI model development (2026-03-05 06:00)

Alibaba Group Holding is forming a dedicated internal task force headed by CEO Eddie Wu Yongming in a bid to funnel greater resources into its foundational AI model development efforts. On Thursday, Wu said in a letter to members of the company's artificial intelligence research lab Tongyi that the task force would "jointly coordinate group-wide resources to accelerate foundational model development". "In technology, standing still means falling behind," Wu said in the letter, which was provided...

- 'War can be so close': China newlyweds separated by US strikes on Iran during Doha honeymoon (2026-03-05 06:00)

A honeymooning Chinese couple have been separated by the US-Israel strikes on Iran, which caused airspace closures across the Middle East and reportedly affected more than a million passengers. The newlywed couple, from eastern China's Zhejiang province, travelled to the Middle East on February 19 to enjoy its beautiful sunset scenery. Doha was the last stop of their trip. They exchanged their airline credits for business class tickets from Doha to Sydney as the husband, surnamed Yu, works in...

- Kim tests missile from new destroyer as North Korea draws lessons from Iran conflict (2026-03-05 05:56)

North Korean leader Kim Jong-un inspected a newly built destroyer and oversaw a test launch of what state media called a "strategic cruise missile" this week, casting the navy's build-up as a key part of Pyongyang's evolving nuclear deterrent, analysts said. The two-day visit to the 5,000-ton destroyer Choe Hyon came as North Korea was closely watching recent US military actions against Iran and ahead of US-South Korea joint military exercises due to start on March 9. Kim called the warship a...

- China to step up tech, energy and decarbonisation efforts in next 5-year plan (2026-03-05 05:54)

China will set priorities for technological innovation, economic security, public well-being and carbon reduction over the next five years, vowing to lay a solid foundation for its 2035 target of doubling per capita gross domestic product from 2020 levels. The world's second-largest economy will release 20 growth targets, including both binding and non-binding ones, in areas covering the economy, technology, healthcare and economic security, Premier Li Qiang said when outlining the broad strokes...

- Beijing tasks Hong Kong with fast-tracking Northern Metropolis, boosting integration (2026-03-05 05:23)

Hong Kong should speed up the construction of the Northern Metropolis megaproject near the border with the mainland and the development of a commodity trading ecosystem, according to the draft outline of China's 15th five-year plan. Other priorities included stronger integration with national development on the economic, technological and social fronts, especially deepening cross-border connections of financial markets. The draft, which sets China's economic and social development targets for...

- Asian airlines emerge on top as travellers fight for flights out of Middle East (2026-03-05 05:15)

Asian carriers like Cathay Pacific and Singapore Airlines (SIA) are among the best positioned airlines to weather the war in the Middle East as travellers scramble for flights – and pay huge premiums – to escape the conflict. Asian airlines have emerged as one of the go-to choices for people leaving the Middle East in the wake of US and Israeli strikes on Iran. Extensive airspace closures mean carriers like Emirates and Qatar Airways have essentially ground to a halt, creating opportunities for...

- Texan James Talarico: is this the face of Democrats' 2026 US midterm hopes? (2026-03-05 04:48)

James Talarico barely mentioned Donald Trump when he finally got to give his victory speech on Wednesday night as Democrats' nominee for US Senate in Texas. But the 36-year-old state lawmaker is now a frontman for the left's opposition to Trump, not just in his own state but around the country. With his victory over US congresswoman Jasmine Crockett, the state lawmaker from Austin will test whether a smiling message of unity and change is enough to answer voters' frustrations amid discord at...

- Malaysia's Arm chip deal probe turns political as ex-aide says: 'I am not Jho Low 2.0' (2026-03-05 04:34)

Malaysia's anti-corruption investigation into a flagship chip-design deal with Britain's Arm Holdings took a more combustible turn on Thursday after a former government aide declared:

“I am not Jho Low 2.0.” The remark – invoking the fugitive financier at the centre of Malaysia’s 1MDB scandal – came as the country’s anti-corruption agency pushed back against his claims and allies of Prime Minister Anwar Ibrahim warned the investigation risked appearing heavy handed. The dispute has dragged one...

- DR Congo says least 200 dead in coltan mine collapse, but rebels dispute toll (2026-03-05 04:21)

A mine collapse on Tuesday at a major coltan mining site in eastern Congo left at least 200 dead, according to Congolese authorities, a number disputed by the rebel group that controls the mine. The collapse took place Tuesday at the Rubaya mines, which are controlled by the M23 rebels, according to a press release from the Ministry of Mines on Wednesday. Fanny Kaj, a senior official in the M23 rebel group, which controls the mines, disputed the figure and said that the collapse was caused by...

- Why #SEAbings became Southeast Asia’s symbol of digital solidarity (2026-03-05 03:30)

#SEAbings – short for “Southeast Asian siblings” – has increasingly been used by young Southeast Asians to signal regional solidarity, be it over a controversial concert or a political event. Whether such moments are fleeting or have the potential to morph into a sustainable movement is a subject of debate. The hashtag’s latest surge followed a dispute over camera rules at a K-pop rock concert in Kuala Lumpur, which escalated into a much wider online clash. For some sociologists, the question...

- Takeaways from Chinese Premier Li Qiang’s government work report (2026-03-05 03:22)

Beijing laid out a list of priorities for the economy, innovation and the military for this year at the opening session of the National People’s Congress (NPC) at the Great Hall of the People on Thursday. Here are the major takeaways from this year’s government work report and budget report: Major targets for 2026 Gross domestic product growth of 4.5-5 per cent A consumer price index increase of around 2 per cent A fiscal budget deficit of around 4 per cent of GDP Addition of 12 million...

- Failure to launch: Japan’s Space One aborts Kairos flight after lift-off (2026-03-05 03:01)

Japan’s Space One said its Kairos rocket terminated its flight after lift-off on Thursday, failing to achieve the country’s first entirely commercial satellite launch on its third attempt in a row.

The setback dealt a fresh blow to Japan's efforts to establish a domestic launch industry and reduce its reliance on foreign rockets amid rising space-security needs to counter China. Kairos "terminated the flight after judging that the achievement of its mission would be difficult," the company said...

- Iran's navy in crosshairs as warship sinking by US submarine ups game (2026-03-05 02:46)

The Iranian warship IRIS Dena was in the Indian Ocean when a Los Angeles-class US attack submarine fired an MK-48 torpedo, setting off a massive explosion that lifted the ship's stern out of the water before sinking the vessel. The US Defence Department highlighted the attack - releasing black-and-white video footage that showed the USS Charlotte's strike - to draw attention to a key element of its campaign against Iran: eliminating the country's navy to keep the country from impeding the flow...

- Leverage unique strengths and global role, Beijing's No 2 tells Hong Kong (2026-03-05 02:32)

Chinese Premier Li Qiang has called on Hong Kong to leverage its "unique strengths" and pivotal role in connecting with the world, with backing from the mainland. In the government work report he delivered at the opening session of the National People's Congress (NPC) in Beijing on Thursday, the country's No 2 official also stressed the need to transform the Greater Bay Area into an international innovation and technology (I&T) hub, urging the city to enhance governance efficiency. "[We should]...

- A guide to how the Iran war has ricocheted across the Middle East and beyond (2026-03-05 02:01)

The unfolding Iran war has ricocheted across the region and beyond, with nearly every country in the Middle East sustaining damage from missile hits, drone strikes or shrapnel, many reporting casualties, and key embassies, economic engines and passageways closing down. Off the coast of Sri Lanka, a US submarine sank an Iranian warship as the war intensified and its footprint grew. Foreign governments have for days urged their citizens to leave Middle East countries on any available commercial...

Hong Kong will roll out targeted measures to attract precious metals companies as part of broader efforts to establish itself as a premier global gold trading hub, according to the city's agency tasked with attracting foreign direct investment. InvestHK will assist companies setting up headquarters in Hong Kong with site selection and applications for overseas certifications to enhance refining operations, Benjamin Wong Kwok-fan, the agency's head of transport, logistics and industries, said in...

- Why AI cannot – and should not – replace human judges (2026-03-05 01:30)

Every few months, another headline announces that artificial intelligence (AI) is poised to “disrupt” the legal profession. Lawyers, we are told, will soon be replaced by algorithms. Judges, apparently, are next, with some recent research suggesting that machines are more “accurate” in following established legal principles than human judges. While disruption will surely come, suggesting total replacement is imminent misconstrues what AI systems do and what our legal system and courts exist to...

- China waits and watches as the US fights all its tigers at once (2026-03-05 01:30)

The bombs falling on Iran have extinguished any remaining doubt. The US-Israeli military campaign has ignited a major regional war. This explosion of violence is the ultimate rebuke to a central promise of US President Donald Trump’ s second term: that America could disengage from distant quagmires to focus on confronting China. Over a year into this administration, the strategic picture affirms the conclusion I reached last summer: America’ s hoped-for single-minded containment of China lies in...

A Chinese woman who suffered a heart attack almost missed out on life-saving treatment because of her gel nails. The case has shocked mainland social media and become a wake-up call about the risk of manicures. The 28-year-old woman in central China’ s Hunan province, who uses the pseudonym Lili, had a sudden heart attack on February 5. Emergency medical staff at the People’ s Hospital of Hunan Province immediately came to her rescue. However, when they tried to fit a fingertip pulse oximeter, a...

- China evacuates hundreds of citizens from Iran as war worsens (2026-03-05 00:30)

Beijing says more than 470 Chinese nationals have been safely evacuated from Iran as the conflict with the US and Israel escalates. The Chinese embassy is helping citizens leave via designated land routes and border crossings. Meanwhile, Chinese officials are urging all remaining citizens in Iran to step up safety precautions, register with the embassy and leave the country “as soon as possible” .
