Security Analysis Report: Brunei (November 04 - November 11, 2026)

Executive Summary

During the period of November 04 to November 11, 2026, Brunei Darussalam actively engaged in significant diplomatic and regional security initiatives, reinforcing its strategic partnerships and commitment to regional stability. Key developments included the elevation of ties with Oman to a Strategic Partnership and continued military-to-military engagements, notably with Vietnam and Singapore. The nation also hosted a major cybersecurity conference, CySec 2026, underscoring its focus on digital resilience amidst persistent cyber threats. Regionally, Brunei participated in crucial ASEAN discussions on socio-cultural development and food security, while also being involved in ongoing negotiations for a South China Sea Code of Conduct. Domestically, immigration enforcement operations highlighted continuous efforts to maintain border security.

Key Security Developments

- Diplomatic Relations Elevated with Oman

His Majesty Sultan Haji Hassanal Bolkiah Mu'izzaddin Waddaulah of Brunei Darussalam and His Majesty Sultan Haitham bin Tarik of Oman agreed to elevate their bilateral relations to a Strategic Partnership on November 4, 2026, following a State Visit by the Sultan of Oman from November 2-4. This historic milestone aims to deepen and broaden cooperation across various sectors, building on existing ties established in 1984. The elevation of ties signifies Brunei's active diplomacy in strengthening relationships beyond its immediate Southeast Asian neighborhood.

- Naval Cooperation with Vietnam

The Royal Brunei Navy (RBN) successfully hosted the 4th Navy-to-Navy Talks with the Viet Nam People's Navy (VPN) on November 4, 2026, at the RBN Officers' Mess, Muara Naval Base. Co-chaired by Captain Sonny Rasani bin Iskandar of the RBN and Senior Captain Nguyen Quoc Doanh of the VPN, the talks reviewed existing cooperation frameworks and discussed strategic avenues to enhance professional ties, underscoring Brunei's commitment to regional maritime security and stability.

• Cybersecurity Conference Hosted

Brunei hosted CySec 2026, its flagship cybersecurity conference, during this period, uniting government, industry, and defenders from across the region. The conference focused on "Protecting critical infrastructure in an age of escalating threat," addressing how to build resilience from the start rather than merely patching vulnerabilities. This event highlights Brunei's proactive stance on enhancing its national cyber defense capabilities and fostering regional collaboration against digital risks.

• ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community Engagement

Brunei Darussalam participated in the 36th ASEAN Socio-Cultural Community (ASCC) Council Meeting in Pasay City, Philippines, on November 8, 2026. This meeting, preceded by the 41st Senior Officials' Committee for the ASCC on November 4, reaffirmed ASEAN's collective commitment to advancing a people-centred, inclusive, and resilient ASEAN through the implementation of the ASCC Strategic Plan. Brunei's involvement emphasizes its dedication to regional human development and social progress as integral components of comprehensive security.

• Regional Food Security Initiatives

Brunei reaffirmed its commitment to regional food security, notably at the 48th ASEAN Ministers on Agriculture and Forestry (AMAF) Meeting on November 3, 2026. Furthermore, the Brunei Darussalam Food Authority (BDFA) hosted the ASEAN's Working Group Meetings on Prepared Foodstuff Product (PFPWG) from November 2 to 6, 2026, focusing on harmonisation of food safety standards and strategies to address emerging challenges in the sector. These efforts underscore Brunei's recognition of food security as a critical element of national and regional stability.

• Sergeant Major Exchange Programme with Singapore

The Royal Brunei Armed Forces (RBAF) hosted a delegation from the Singapore Armed Forces (SAF) for the Sergeant Major Exchange Programme (SMEP) 2026 from November 4 to 6, 2026, in Bandar Seri Begawan. This program facilitates professional development and strengthens interoperability between the two armed forces at the non-commissioned officer level.

• South China Sea Code of Conduct Negotiations

On November 11, 2026, it was reported that China and ASEAN member states, including Brunei, had made progress in negotiations on a proposed South China Sea Code of Conduct but would not be able to finalize it by the year-end deadline. Brunei is a claimant state in the South China Sea, and these ongoing diplomatic efforts are crucial for managing tensions and ensuring regional maritime stability.

• Immigration Enforcement Operations

The Immigration and National Registration Department (INRD) intensified its nationwide Operasi Kakas JIPK 2026, leading to the detention of 11 foreign nationals for alleged immigration offenses in the Brunei-Muara District. Operations were conducted in Mukim Sengkurong, Mukim Kilanas, and Mukim Labi, with offenses including overstaying immigration passes and working for unauthorized employers. These operations highlight Brunei's continuous efforts to secure its borders and enforce immigration laws.

- Farewell Calls from Pakistan High Commissioner

Yang Berhormat Pehin Datu Lailaraja Major General (Retired) Dato Paduka Seri Awang Haji Halbi bin Haji Mohd Yussof, Coordinating Minister for National Security, Minister at the Prime Minister's Office and Minister of Defence II, received a farewell call from the High Commissioner of the Islamic Republic of Pakistan to Brunei Darussalam on November 4, 2026. The Commander of the Royal Brunei Armed Forces also received a farewell call from the High Commissioner on November 3, 2026. These diplomatic exchanges signify the conclusion of a diplomatic tenure and the ongoing bilateral relations between Brunei and Pakistan.

Cyber Threat Landscape

Brunei's cyber landscape during this period showed continued vigilance against various digital threats. The Brunei Computer Emergency Response Team (BruCERT) issued several alerts, including warnings about XCPE Malware on November 10, 2026, Suspicious Files attachment on November 9, 2026, and Fake Invoice Attachments on November 3, 2026. These alerts indicate a persistent threat from common cybercriminal tactics aimed at exploiting user vulnerabilities through social engineering and malware distribution.

The nation's commitment to bolstering its cyber defenses was evident through its hosting of CySec 2026, a significant cybersecurity conference focused on "Protecting critical infrastructure in an age of escalating threat." This initiative underscores the government's proactive approach to building resilience into its digital systems and fostering collaboration among stakeholders. While no specific state-sponsored or criminal actors were reported as actively targeting Brunei within this precise period, the focus on critical infrastructure at CySec 2026 suggests an awareness of sophisticated threats. Background: Known threat actors that target Brunei include Sowbug and the "Dark Pink" APT group, which was reported in May 2023 to have targeted governments and militaries in Brunei, among other countries.

Geopolitical Impact and Regional Dynamics

Brunei's recent security and diplomatic activities underscore its commitment to maintaining regional stability and diversifying its international partnerships. The elevation of ties with Oman to a Strategic Partnership on November 4, 2026, signifies Brunei's expanding diplomatic reach and its efforts to forge stronger alliances beyond Southeast Asia, potentially enhancing its economic and security resilience through broader cooperation.

In the immediate region, Brunei remains a key player in ASEAN's efforts to address complex challenges. Its active participation in the 36th ASCC Council Meeting and the hosting of the PFPWG meetings highlight its role in fostering regional socio-cultural development and food security, which are foundational to long-term stability. The ongoing, albeit slow, progress on the South China Sea Code of Conduct negotiations, in which Brunei is a claimant state, continues to be a critical regional dynamic. The failure to meet the year-end deadline for finalization on November 11, 2026, indicates persistent complexities in managing territorial disputes, which could impact regional stability if tensions escalate.

Brunei's relations with major powers continue to be carefully balanced. The upcoming visit of Sultan Hassanal Bolkiah to Russia in November 2026 aims to deepen formal ties, building on 35 years of diplomatic relations and a visa-free travel agreement. This move suggests Brunei's intent to diversify its strategic engagements. Concurrently, Brunei maintains robust defense cooperation with the United States, as evidenced by exercises like CARAT Brunei 2026 (September 2026) and Pahlawan Warrior 26 (August 2026), which enhance interoperability and address shared maritime security challenges in the Indo-Pacific. Brunei also reaffirmed longstanding defense ties with China in September 2026, discussing practical cooperation and regional security developments. This multi-faceted diplomatic and defense engagement strategy allows Brunei to navigate complex geopolitical currents and safeguard its national interests.

EU Relations and Implications

Brunei's relationship with the European Union remains stable, as assessed in August 2026. Brunei currently serves as the Country Coordinator for ASEAN-EU Dialogue Relations from 2024 to 2027, a role that underscores its importance in facilitating cooperation between the two blocs. This strategic position was highlighted by Brunei hosting the 25th EU-ASEAN Ministerial Meeting in April 2026, where both sides reaffirmed their Strategic Partnership and discussed deeper cooperation in areas such as trade, sustainable development, digital transformation, and security. The EU's Global Gateway initiatives, focusing on investments in sustainable infrastructure, clean energy, and digital connectivity across Southeast Asia, align with Brunei's development goals and offer avenues for further collaboration.

The security and cyber developments during this period have implications for EU interests and cooperation projects in Brunei. The ongoing focus on cybersecurity, exemplified by CySec 2026, aligns with the EU's own digital security priorities and could open doors for enhanced digital cooperation, potentially through expertise sharing or joint initiatives to protect critical infrastructure. The EU's existing cooperation projects with Brunei span several sectors, including Development Cooperation, Trade & Investment, Infrastructure & Transport, Education & Skills, and Governance & Rule of Law. Stability in Brunei, reinforced by its diplomatic engagements and defense posture, is crucial for the effective implementation of these EU-funded projects and for fostering a conducive environment for trade and investment, which are key components of the EU-Brunei relationship.

Military and Defense Analysis

The Royal Brunei Armed Forces (RBAF) demonstrated its commitment to regional military cooperation and professional development during this period. The Sergeant Major Exchange Programme (SMEP) 2026 with the Singapore Armed Forces, held from November 4 to 6, 2026, facilitated valuable exchanges in military operational proficiency and fostered stronger relationships at the non-commissioned officer level. Concurrently, the Royal Brunei Navy (RBN) hosted the 4th Navy-to-Navy Talks with the Viet Nam People's Navy (VPN) on November 4, 2026, at Muara Naval Base, providing a platform to review and strengthen bilateral defense ties and enhance maritime security cooperation.

These engagements build upon a year of active military diplomacy and modernization efforts. Earlier in 2026, Brunei established the Special Operations Command to coordinate special operations within the RBAF Special Forces Regiment, a strategic step to align its defense policy with regional and global geopolitical developments. The RBAF is also undergoing a modernization program guided by the Defence White Paper Update 2026 and the Force 2035 initiative, which includes the establishment of new units like the Combined Arms Training Centre (PULGAT) and the acquisition of H145M multi-role helicopters to enhance operational capabilities. Regular exercises with partners like the United States, such as CARAT Brunei 2026 (September 2026), Pahlawan Warrior 26 (August 2026), and Pacific Angel (August-September 2026), further demonstrate Brunei's focus on interoperability, readiness, and capacity building in areas like maritime domain awareness, jungle operations, and humanitarian assistance/disaster relief.

Outlook and Forecast

In the short term (1-3 months), Brunei is expected to continue its active diplomatic engagements. The Sultan's scheduled visit to Russia in November 2026 will be a key event to monitor, as it could signal deeper bilateral cooperation in various sectors, potentially including defense or economic ties, and further diversify Brunei's foreign policy alignments. Regionally, Brunei will remain engaged in ASEAN-led mechanisms, particularly as the 49th ASEAN Summit approaches, where discussions on regional security, economic integration, and the South China Sea Code of Conduct will likely continue to feature prominently.

Critical flashpoints and risk areas for Brunei primarily revolve around the South China Sea disputes. While Brunei typically adopts a more subdued approach, the ongoing failure to finalize a Code of Conduct by the year-end deadline, as reported on November 11, 2026, means that the potential for misunderstandings or low-level confrontations in the disputed waters remains a persistent risk. Cybersecurity threats, as highlighted by BruCERT's recent alerts and the CySec 2026 conference, will continue to pose a significant challenge, requiring sustained investment in national cyber defenses and regional cooperation.

Indicators to monitor include any new developments in the South China Sea negotiations, particularly concerning freedom of navigation and resource exploration. Any shifts in Brunei's defense spending or acquisition plans, especially in light of its ongoing modernization programs, would also be important. Furthermore, the outcomes of the Sultan's visit to Russia and any subsequent agreements will provide insights into Brunei's evolving geopolitical strategy. Strategic recommendations for Brunei include continuing to advocate for peaceful resolution mechanisms in the South China Sea through ASEAN, strengthening its cyber resilience through international partnerships and domestic capacity building, and leveraging its role as ASEAN-EU Country Coordinator to promote stability and cooperation across both regions.
